

I'm not robot

I am not robot!

In the latest update to the Vince McMahon sexual misconduct civil lawsuit, the former CEO's attorneys have filed their Statement of Undisputed Material Facts in support of Attorneys for Vince McMahon have filed a new "Statement of Material Facts" in an effort to support their side's motion to compel arbitration in the sexual misconduct case with McMahon developed a reputation for legendary self-defense tactics: Victims were allegedly bullied into silence, prosecutors were allegedly undermined by witness tampering. A former World Wrestling Entertainment employee filed a lawsuit Thursday against the company, its founder Vince McMahon and a former WWE executive accusing the men The complaint detailed graphic accounts of McMahon and Laurinaitis partaking in systemic exploitation of Ms. Grant, with alleged texts reflecting McMahon objectifying and degrading her In the latest update to the Vince McMahon sexual misconduct civil lawsuit, the former CEO's attorneys have filed their Statement of Undisputed Material Facts in support of the motion to move McMahon allegedly pushed Grant for a physical relationship in exchange for promised employment at WWE, the lawsuit said, adding that she "felt trapped in an impossible situation" where she