

I'm not robot

I am not robot!

b) The alligator hides. c) He feeds his Dad to the alligator There's An Alligator Under My Bed Reading & Writing. Includes comprehension questions, vocabulary question, and application question. After reading this book aloud, use this worksheet to assess student comprehension. c) Mom and dad need glasses) How does the boy get the alligator out of his room? b) He uses food as bait. Math is fun when you're talking about alligators! Included in Packet: Story Retell Craftivity What if Rhyming Words Word Search (easy) Data Collection Making a) He wants to watch tv b) He has an alligator under his bed c) He is scared of the dark 2) Why can't mom and dad see the alligator? Complete with an activity, this fast Some sugar Some cookies Some fruit and vegetables I don't know He put the sugar and candies next to his bed in his bed under his bed I don't know The alligator went out of the bedroom, ate all the food and when he was in the garage the little boy slammed the door opened the door shut the door I don't know This packet goes along with the book There's an Alligator Under My Bed. Retell using an activity that creates a craftivity of the book characters. a) He plays a song. Table of Contents there's an alligator under my bed Accessing there's an alligator under my bed Free and Paid eBooks there's an alligator under my bed Public Domain eBooks there's an alligator under my bed eBook Subscription Services There's an alligator under my bed Free download as PDF File.pdf) or read online for free. The students should retell the story on the back of the worksheet using sentences and pictures There's an Alligator Under My Bed Gail E. Gill There's an Alligator Under My Bed Gail E. Gill See You Later, Alligator Sally Hopgood A departing tortoise has his bags packed and is almost ready to set out on an adventure, but he can't leave until he says good-bye to each of his animal friends Kindly say, the there's an alligator under my bed is universally compatible with any devices to read. Early reading fun story There's a Gator Under My Bed is a delightful story that addresses just that: children's bedtime fears, in the form of an alligator, named Fred. a) The alligator is small.