

I'm not robot

I am not robot!

You should ensure that your fire extinguishers are selected, installed and maintained in accordance with this Standard NZS – Hand operated fire-fighting equipment. This includes portable and wheeled fire extinguishers, fire hose reels, fire blankets and requirements for commercial and domestic buildings Any hand-held hose reel or other similar device installed in a building for firefighting by the building's occupants must be maintained under NZS —Hand operated fire-fighting equipment (ii) Fire hose reels. "Supersedes NSZ (months from the date of publication of this Standard)"--Cover note the requirements of NZS Hand Operated Fire Fighting Equipment and/or a standard directly cited by NZS Listings are also included for items which have been The owner of any hand-operated firefighting equipment installed in a building for firefighting by the building's occupants must maintain it in accordance with NZS —Hand For more information, refer to the manufacturer's instructions or New Zealand Standard NZS which explains the selection and use of fire extinguishers and covers Any hand-held hose reel or other similar device installed in a building for firefighting by the building's occupants must be maintained under NZS —Hand operated fire Gives requirements for the selection, installation, distribution and maintenance of hand operated fire-fighting equipment which can be used by one person. This includes portable and wheeled fire extinguishers, fire hose reels, fire blankets and requirements for commercial and domestic buildings In accordance with the Bay of Plenty District Health Board (BOPDHB) policy Fire Safety, all Hand Operated Fire Fighting Equipment will be inspected, tested and maintained on a regular basis as set out in New Zealand Standard This Standard covers the selection, installation, distribution and maintenance of hand operated fire-fighting equipment which can be used by one person, including: (a) Selection of hand operated fire-fighting equipment including: (i) Portable and wheeled fire extinguishers. This includes portable and wheeled fire extinguishers, fire hose reels, fire blankets and requirements for commercial and domestic buildings This standard gives requirements for the selection, installation, distribution and maintenance of hand operated fire-fighting equipment which can be used by one person. Gives requirements for the selection, installation, distribution and maintenance of hand operated fire-fighting equipment which can be used by one person. (iii) Fire blankets The owner of any hand-operated firefighting equipment installed in a building for firefighting by the building's occupants must maintain it in accordance with NZS —Hand operated fire-fighting equipment The New Zealand Standard – Hand Operated Installation and Maintenance of Fire Fighting Equipment is the minimum standard for hand operated fire-fighting equipment in New Zealand. In accordance with the Bay of Plenty District Health Board (BOPDHB) policy Fire Safety, all Hand Operated Fire Fighting Equipment will be inspected, tested and This Standard covers the selection, installation, distribution and maintenance of hand operated fire-fighting equipment which can be used by one person, including: (a) Hand operated fire-fighting equipment standard by Standards New Zealand, /18/ Standards no NZS "Standards Council"--Colophon.