

I'm not robot

I am not robot!

Opus was published not too long before the release of Satoshi Kon's highly acclaimed Perfect Blue. OPUS contains the mastery of both realism and surrealism that would make Kon famous in Perfect Blue, as a manga artist becomes drawn into his own work and realizes the deadline he's up against is to stop a vicious serial killer before he can spill more innocent blood--not merely ink! Perfect Blue is a female-lead story with big focus on her pain and suffering, inflicted on her by her environment. Opus is a Japanese seinen manga series written and illustrated by Satoshi Kon. The story is about a manga artist who is pulled into the world of the manga he is concluding and forced to confront his characters. The story of a mangaka who's pulled into the manga world he constructed and forced to confront his own characters. Incomplete as Kon had moved to anime directing before serialization could finish, shown in the omake for the manga and included in the English version Millennium Actress (), which Opus is a Japanese seinen manga series written and illustrated by Satoshi Kon. The story is about a manga artist who is pulled into the world of the manga he is concluding and forced to confront his characters. The story of a mangaka who's pulled into the manga world he constructed and forced to confront his own characters. OPUS contains the mastery of both realism and surrealism that would make Kon famous in Perfect Blue, as a manga artist becomes drawn into his own work and realizes the deadline he's up OPUS contains the mastery of both realism and surrealism that would make Kon famous in Perfect Blue, as a manga artist planning a shocking surprise ending to his story gets literally pulled into his own work-to face for himself what he had planned for his characters! It was serialized in Comic Guys during the years, however, two chapters before Opus was finished, Comic Missing: pdf Satoshi Kon is a Japanese animation film director whose works, story, and imagery suggest altered mental states, such as insanity or dreaming.