

WITHOUT WARRIORS
THERE
CAN BE NO
WAR.

I IMAGINE MYSELF LEAVING A CYCLE OF WORK AND OBLIGATION TO A PLACE WHERE I FOCUS ON CULTIVATING A LIFE OF EASE, AND SELF REFLECTION

I THINK ABOUT THE TENSION BETWEEN THE FORCEFULNESS OF BUILDING A STRUCTURE VS NURTURING SOMETHING TO GROW

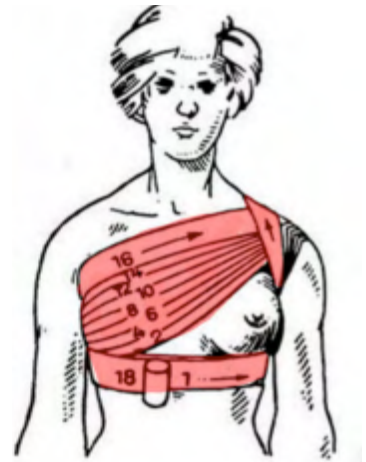

HEAVY RIGIDITY

FLUIDITY/CULTIVATION

HEALING

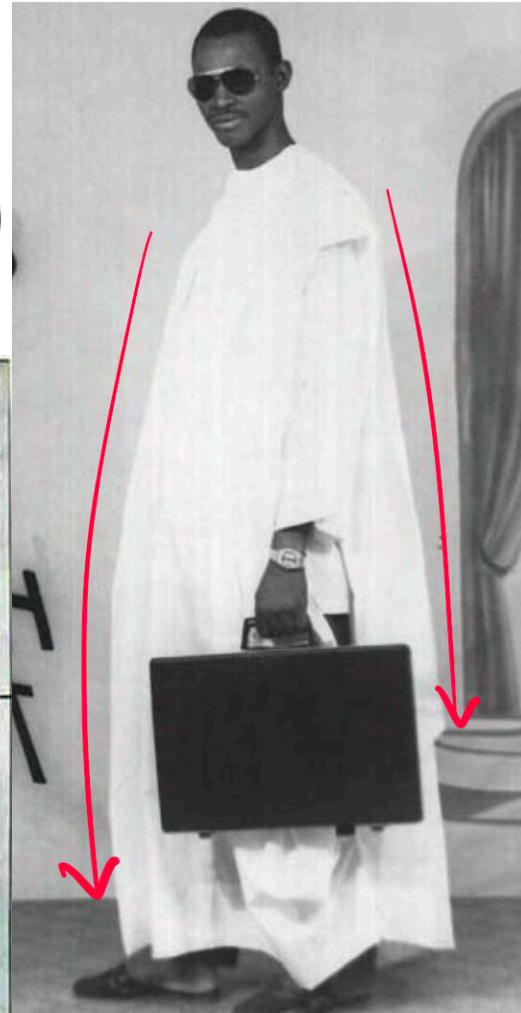

SILHOUETTE DEVELOPMENT

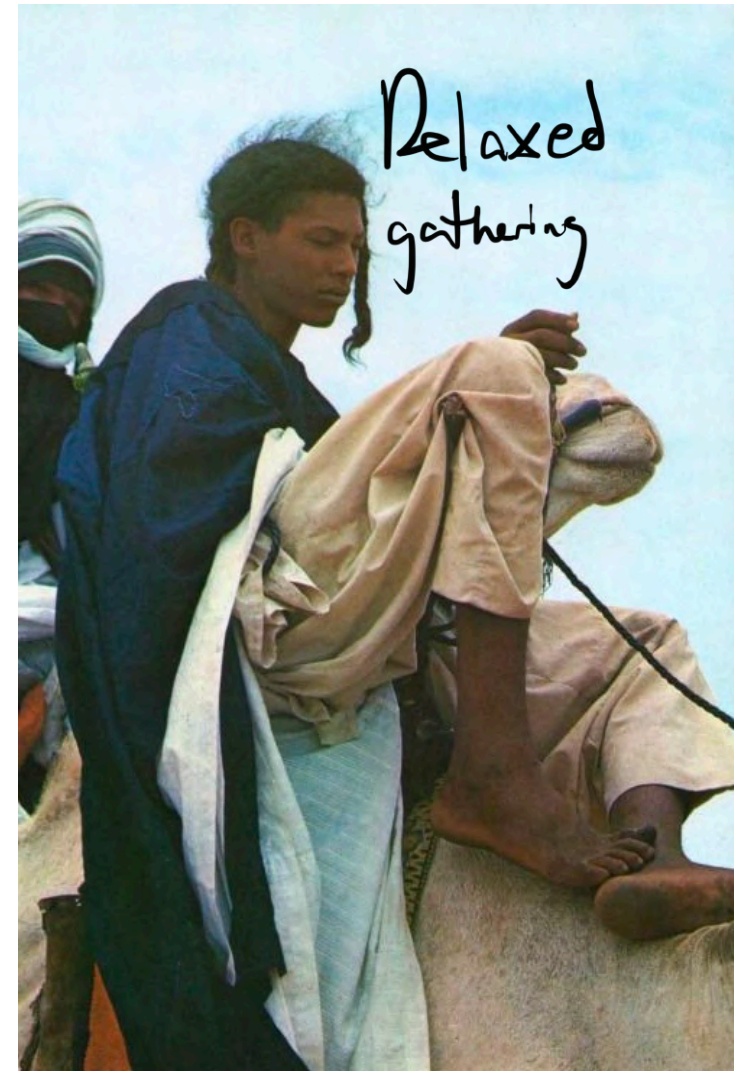

I see myself unburdened and weightless

Light easy shapes

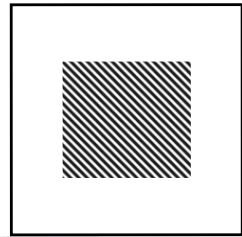

longline silk w/ organic draped details

Oversize ease

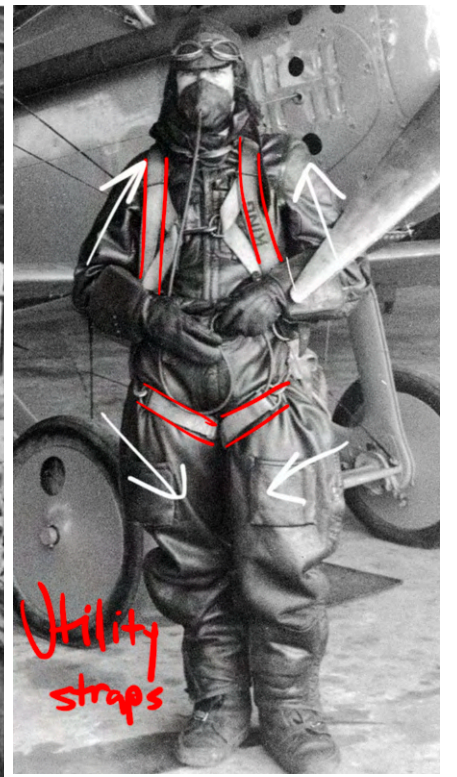

How do I bring ease and fluidity to something heavy and rigid?

Open seams to add ease

Soften heavy seams and Utility details with draped shapes

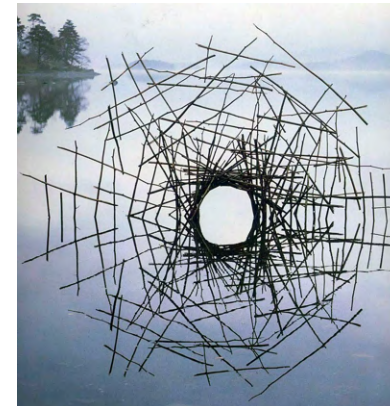

Cargo pocket details

Finding clarity through openness

I imagine myself being in sync with the world around me

Finding clarity through knowledge of self

Soft Seaming

Half cut technique

Neckline? function

Utility details

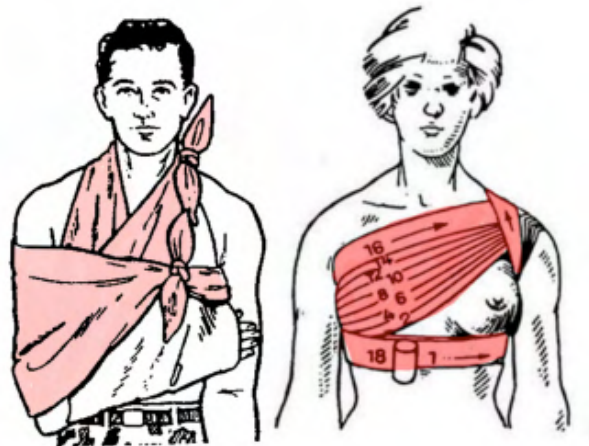

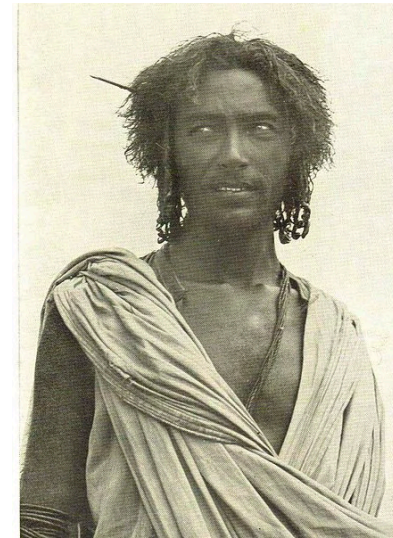

Shirt apron on pants

Open side seam

Shapes that heal and nurture

Shorten
 Wrapped pant pattern

HEALING

Vs.

UTILITY

ties on pants are too heavy

Too rigid/symmetric

loosen it up

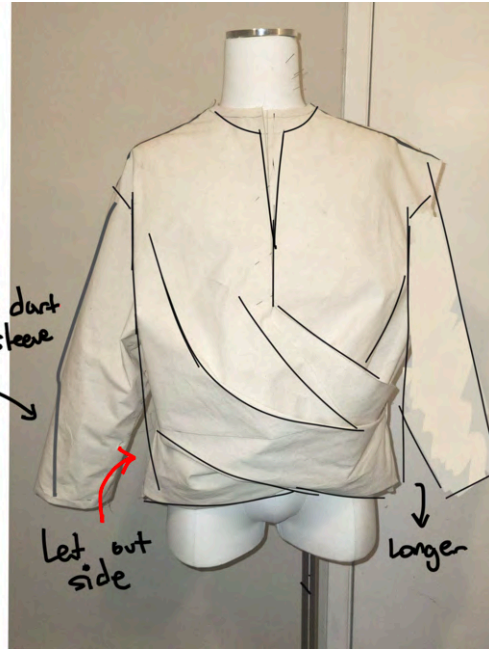

THIS ISN'T WORKING

MORE SILHOUETTE RESEARCH

RETHINK PROPORTIONS SO IT FEELS LIGHTER AND EASIER

THINK ABOUT UTILITY DETAILS AND SHAPES TO ADD CONTRAST

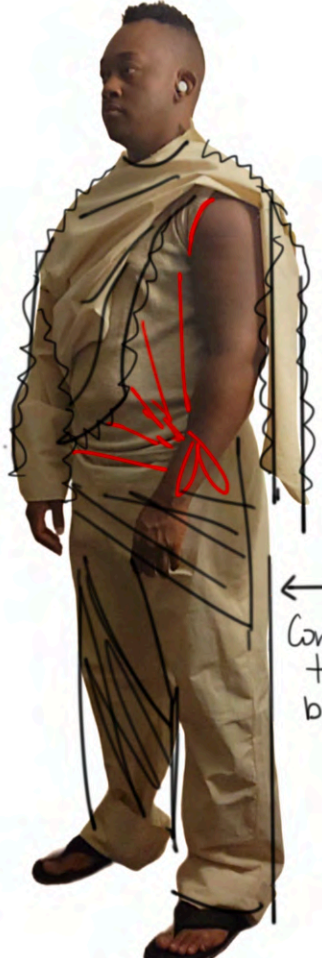

Add dart to sleeve

let out side

longer

lower

Continue to back

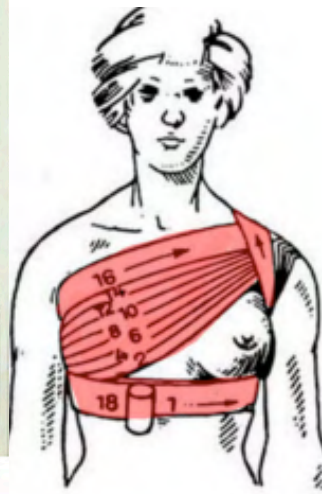

Draping over the body

Longline silh.

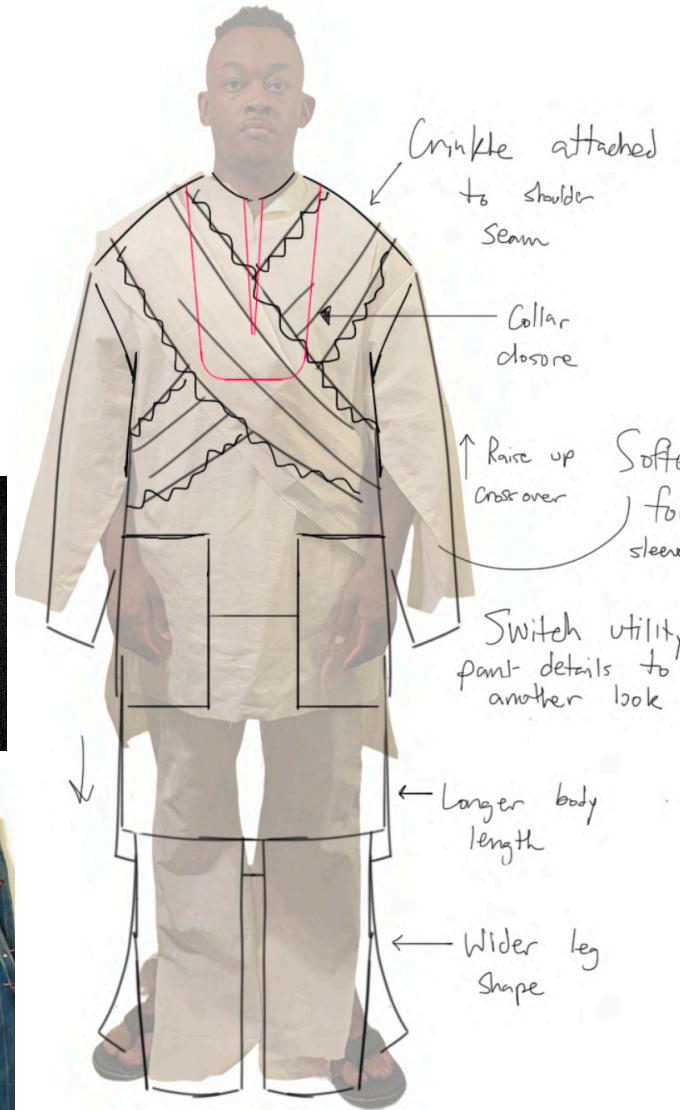

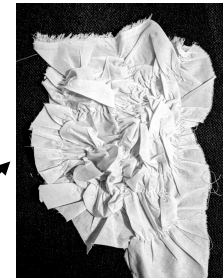

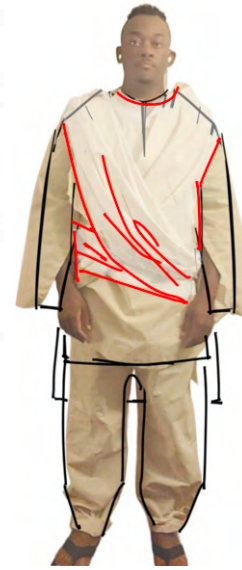

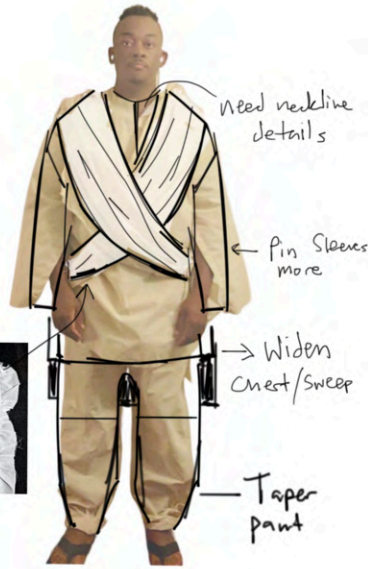

pants are too constricting

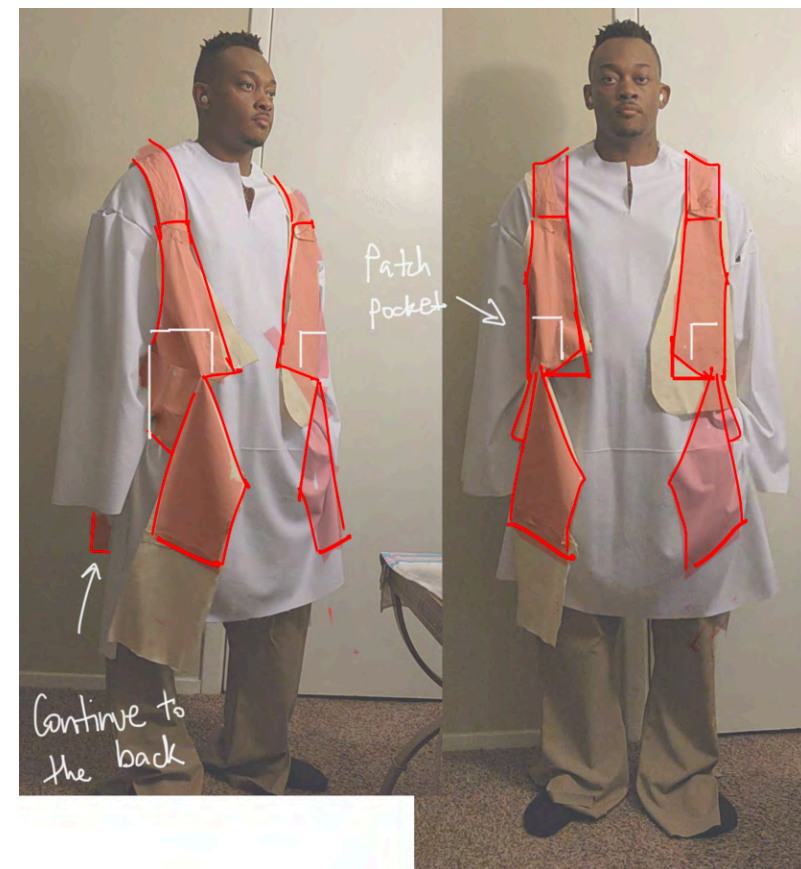

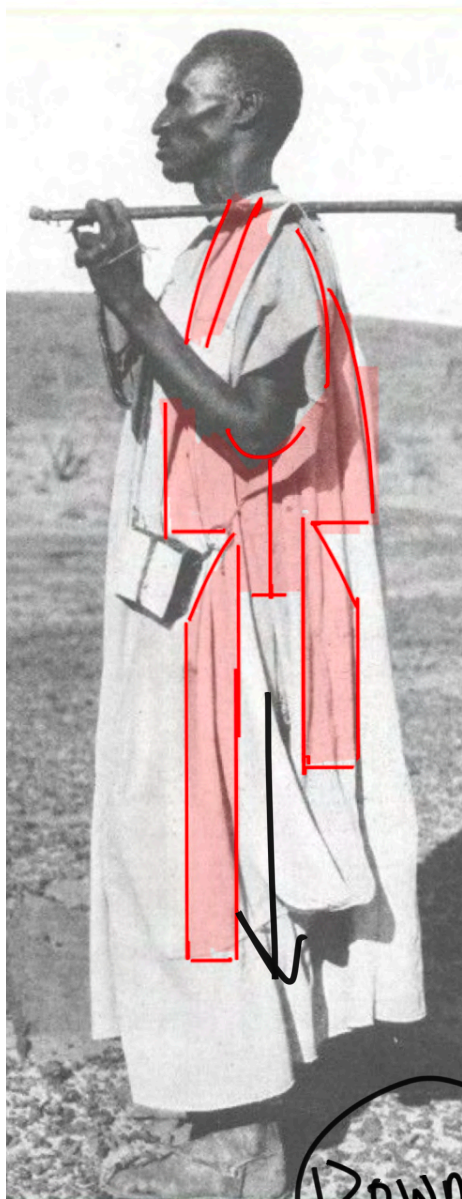

Slinky Soft fabric for better drape

Patch Cargo pocket

Flare out

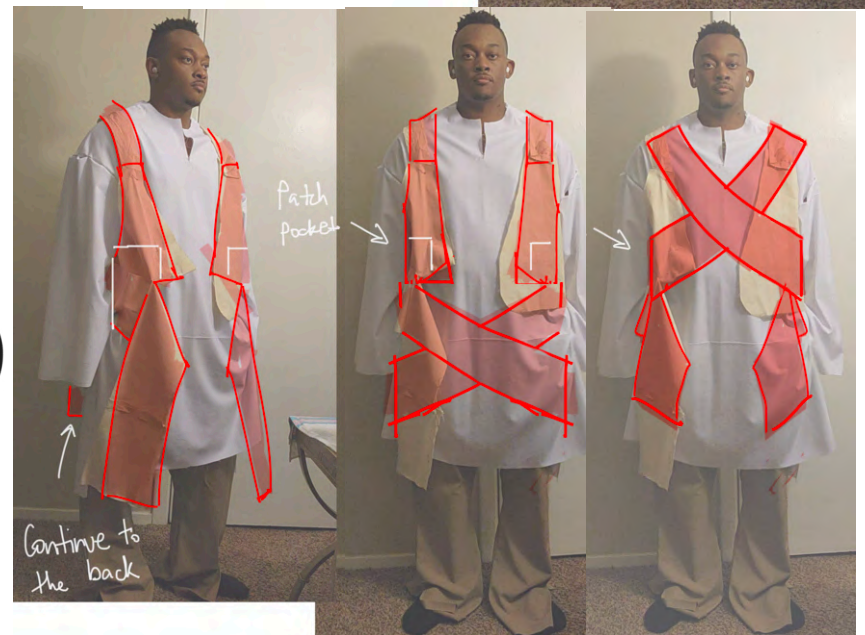

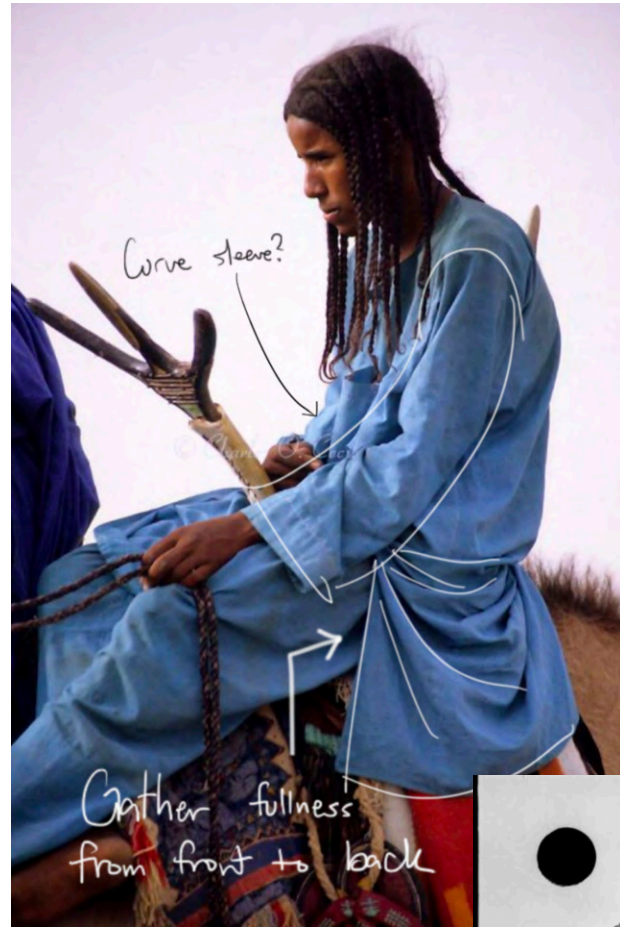

Too Rigid

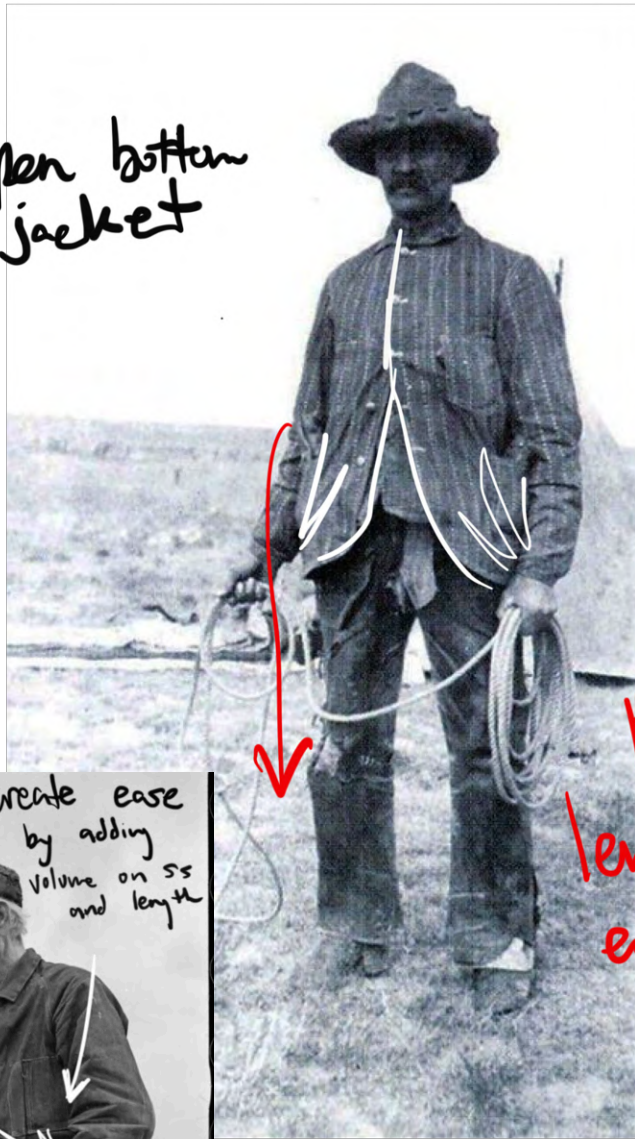

Downward Drape

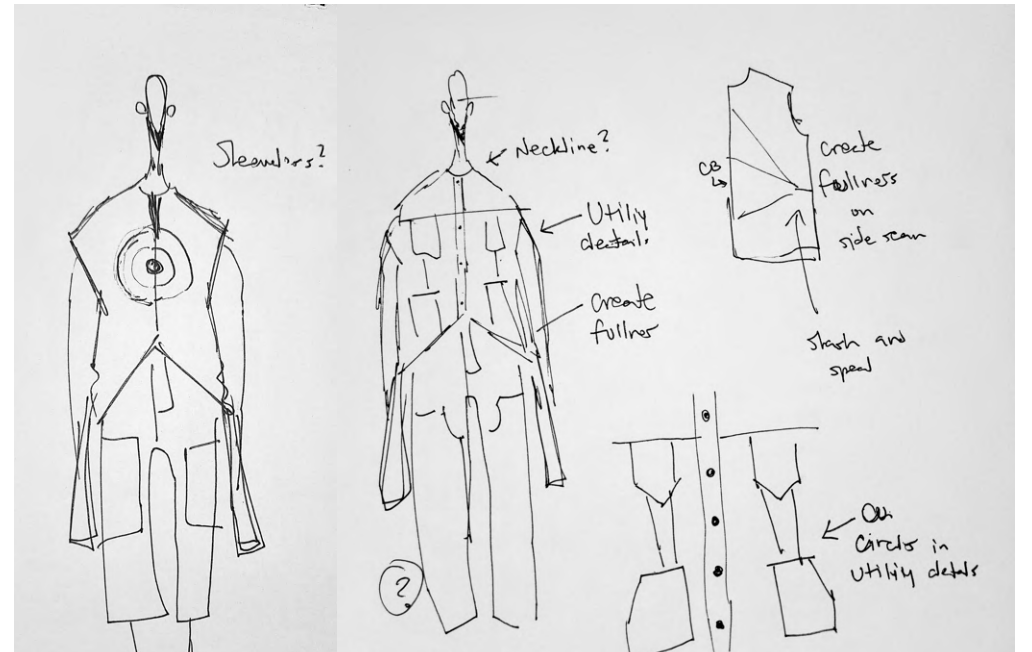

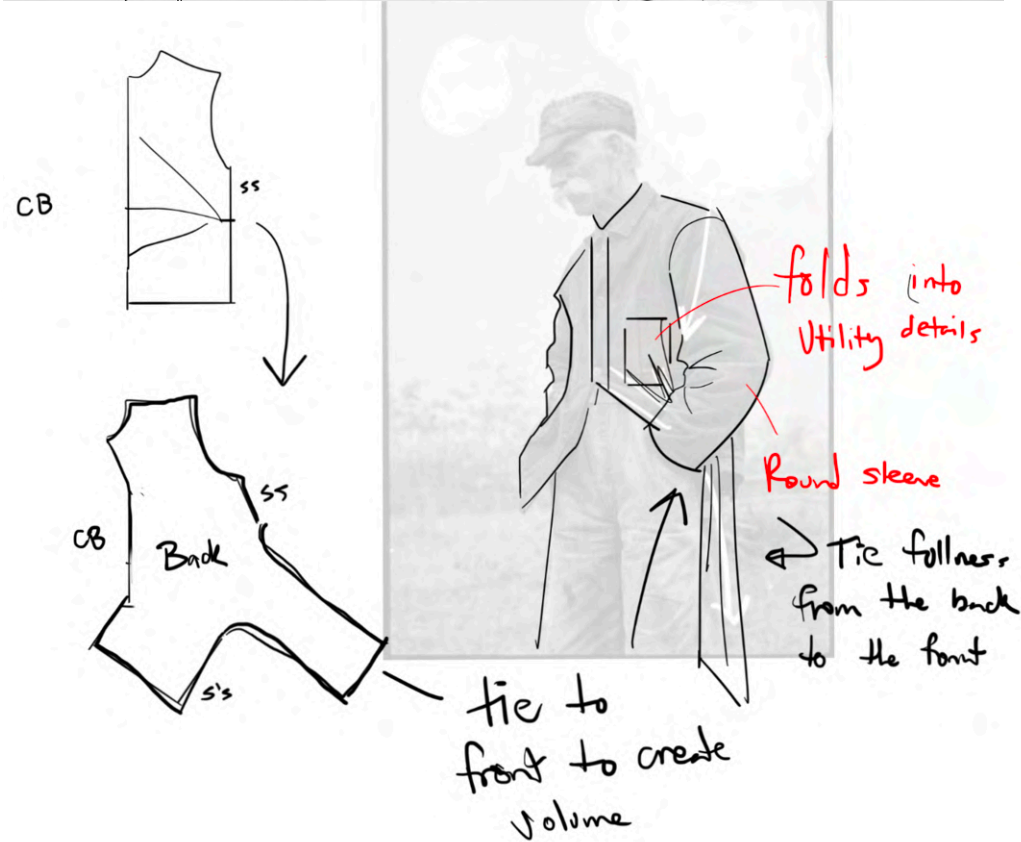

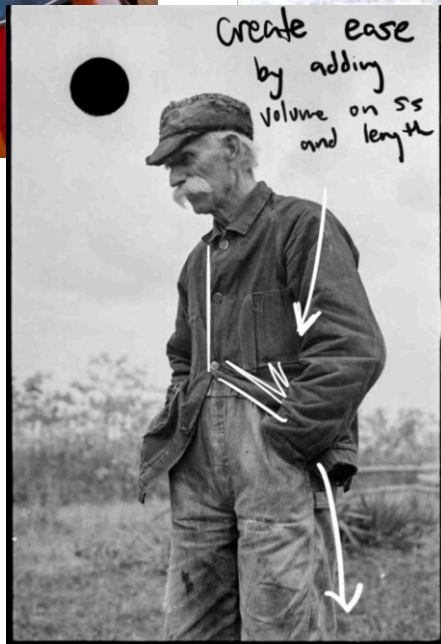

Open bottom jacket

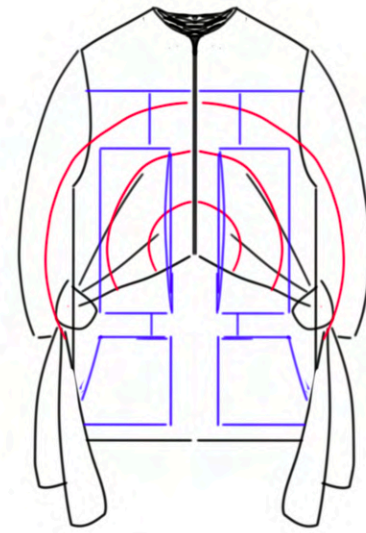

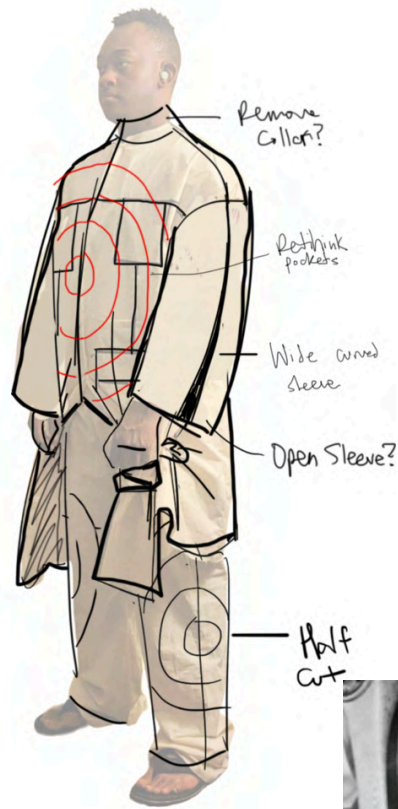

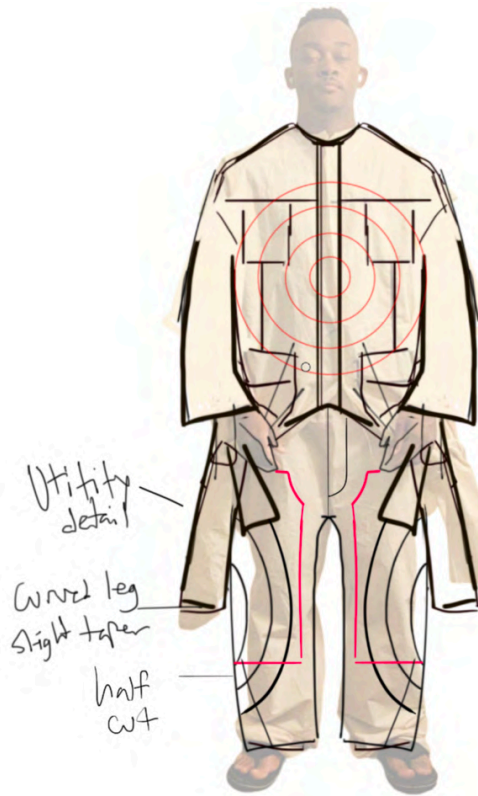

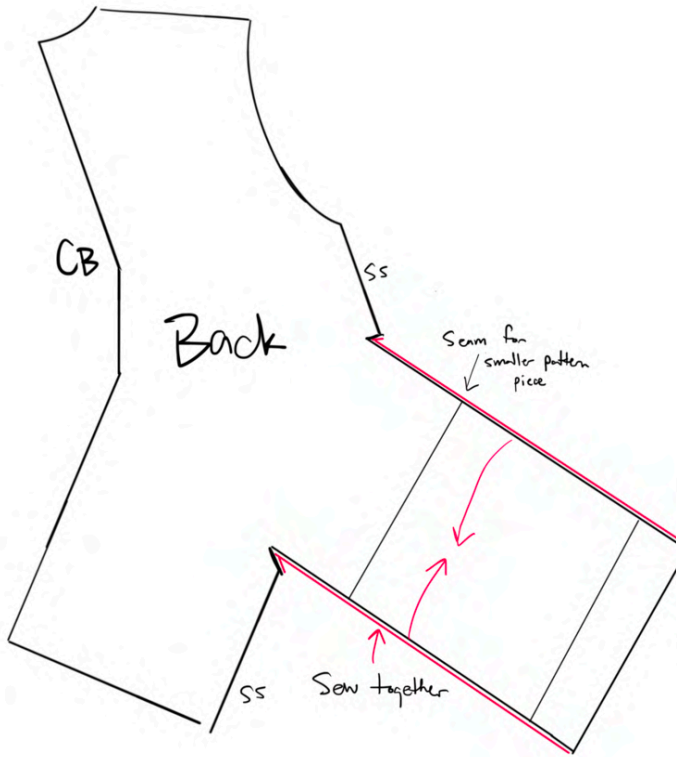

Add length for easy drape

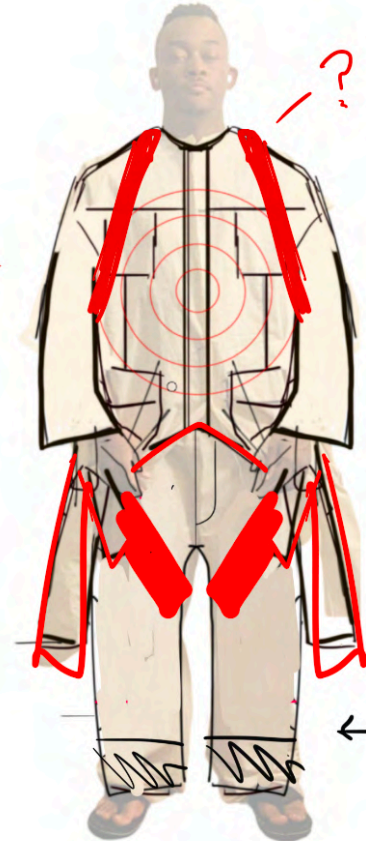

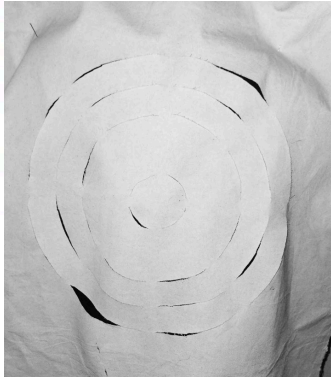

Gather fullness from front to back

Half cut
Utility Details

Too heavy?

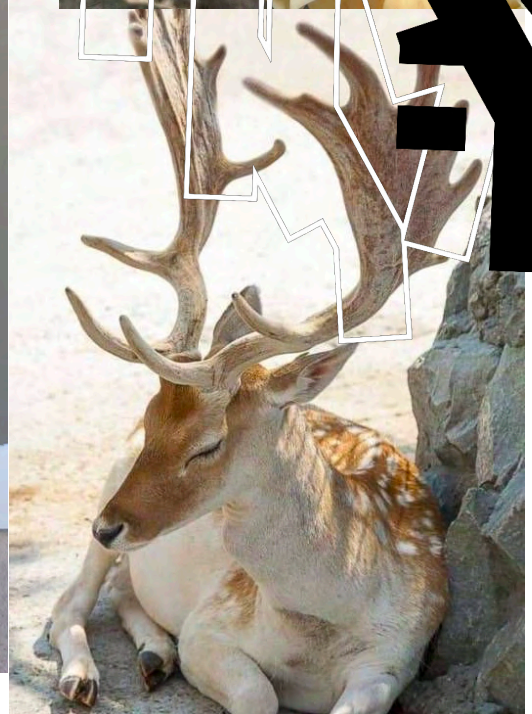

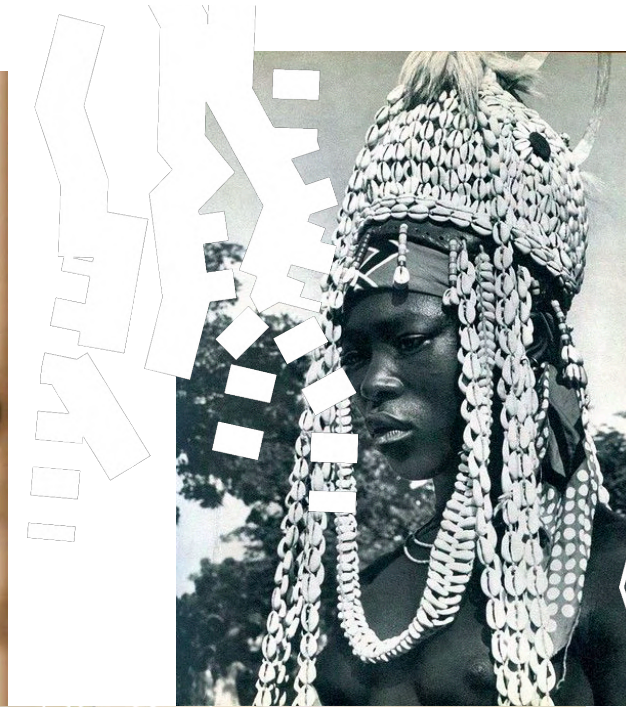

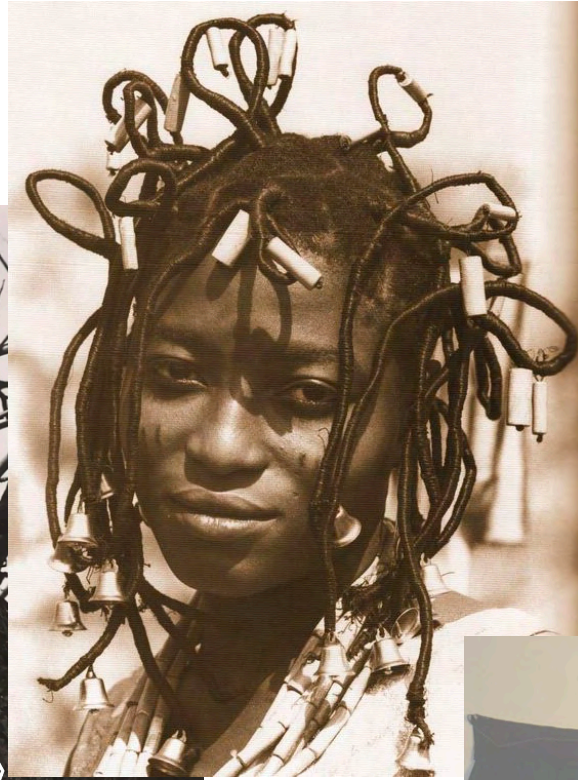

Add straps that balance out angle of the opening and volume of drape.

Shorten and taper?

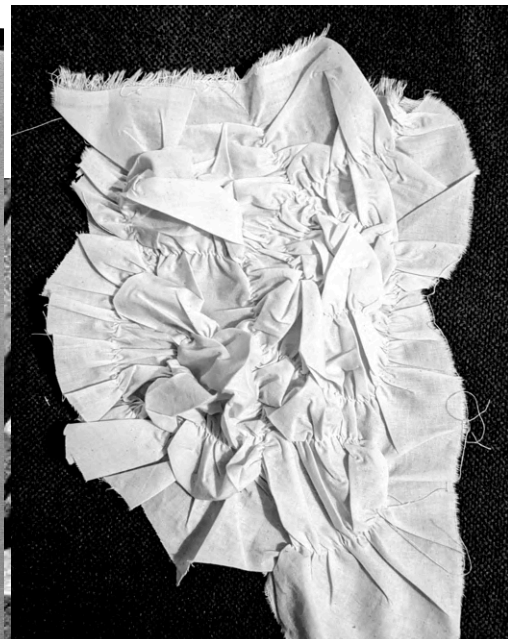

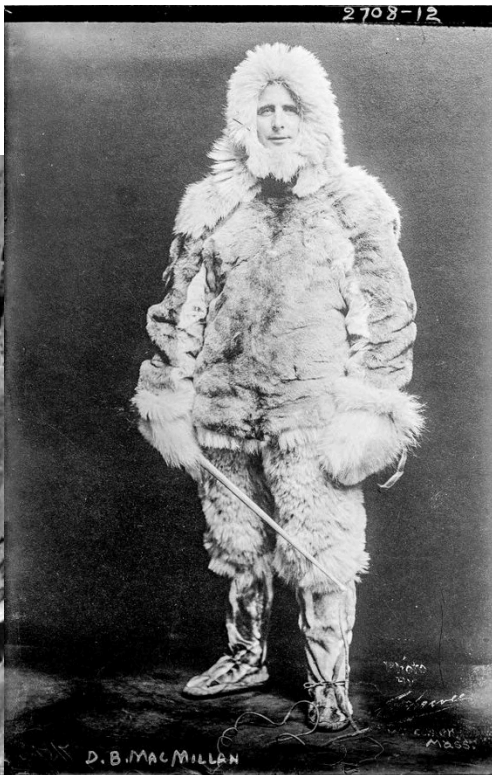

TEXTILE EXPLORATION

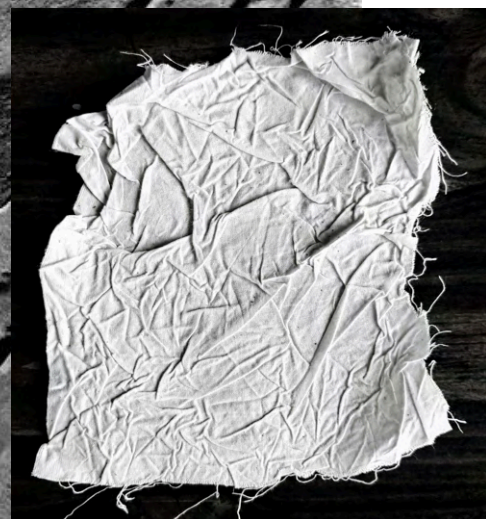

I see myself at peace in nature

↓ Elastic thread

Elastic sewn
Under fabric
to create texture

COLOR EXPLORATION

