Divorce Agreement

-----

I am She, and you are He. I can't and don't want to live like this anymore. I don't love you. I hate you. You ruined my entire life. I am 46, we have no children and never will, we have no comfort or material well-being, my relatives and close ones can't visit us because of the dogs, you don't want to go to my relatives in Suvorovka and Blagodatnoye, you have no friends, you don't go with me to visit my friends, even at my sister's wedding I was alone with my dad, like a fool. Sights, entertainment venues, cinema, theater, musical concerts don't interest you. Cafes, restaurants, parks... it's just laughable to see you there. I want to live like a normal woman: relax, walk around the city among flower beds, travel, visit beautiful places and communicate with interesting people. I want to enjoy life and be happy, and with you, I can only live in the forest with wild animals, they are the only ones who understand you. And your attitude towards bugs, spiders, fliers, centipedes, slugs, and other creepy things - it just kills me. It would be better if you treated me like you treat them. I still haven't understood, what is that scary thing living on our garage roof? Do such rats even exist or what is it? And the birds, why do they all fly to us? I live like in Noah's Ark. Do we have a flood tomorrow? Human relationships are not for you, you are not made for them, you don't know how to live humanly. I am unhappy with you and don't want to live like this anymore. I want a divorce. Leave me. Find yourself another place to live, take all your dogs and go away. You can take:

1. Volkswagen Polo Sedan car.
2. Lenovo laptop, clothes, shoes, and toiletries.
3. All the animals, including dogs, except Fimochka and Puzik.

Our house and everything in it stays with me as moral and psychological compensation for 12 years of suffering with you. If you are a real man, you will find a way to solve your financial problems as soon as possible and earn money to buy yourself a separate house. My love is dead. I beg you... leave my life.

When my mom was pregnant, dad gave her a "gift" in the form of a serious venereal disease. The doctors in the maternity ward faced a dilemma: either save the mother or save the baby. They decided to save mom. And they saved her, while the baby... against all odds, was born alive. He was born despite everyone. In childhood, mom told me that when she was delirious in the maternity ward, a woman came to her room and handed her a bundle with me wrapped in it. She later searched for this woman, asked about her, but no one besides mom saw her. I don't like such stories. I have a very negative attitude towards religion, mysticism, occultism, magic, witchcraft, and other paranormal nonsense. In short, the child somehow was born after three days. The baby was born with a defect – brain damage affecting the speech apparatus; such damage manifests itself as congenital stuttering. There are two types of stuttering: congenital and acquired. Congenital stuttering is like a birth defect. Acquired stuttering is a psychological condition caused by stress, fear, trauma, etc., where there is a disruption in breathing during conversation, i.e., acquired stuttering is simply a person breathing incorrectly when they talk. It has different forms, but they can all be treated. My recipe for people who cannot cure their acquired stuttering: during conversation, stop breathing with the chest and diaphragm and learn to breathe with the abdominal cavity and lower abdomen, and your speech will become wonderful. Congenital stuttering outwardly looks very similar to acquired and differs little in symptoms. But as you understand, a damaged brain can no longer be healed. Moreover, brain damage is not only stuttering, but something else. Venereal diseases i.e., sexually transmitted diseases, can cause serious acquired brain injuries (ABIs) in some cases. I "got lucky" – I am a congenital stutterer. Maybe you know that when a person loses one of their innate abilities, the mind directs its development to other abilities, for example, blind people hear better, and the deaf see better, or feel smells differently or something like that. At different times in my life, I treated my problem differently. For example, I always had serious difficulties in relationships with girls. At some point, to heal me up, mom took me to Moscow, Voronezh, and who knows where to various healers, herbalists, psychics, magicians, and other "superhumans". Probably, because of these trips, such a negative attitude towards mystical personalities formed in the child's psyche. They didn't cure it. This was in elementary school when I first turned my gaze inward, and began to deal with dad's "gift". For years, I studied myself, conducted experiments on myself, and when I realized in practice that not only my speech but also other parts of my brain were damaged...

And “curse” changed its status to... I am ashamed to say this word. If I do, I will find myself in the same row as those who play on your ignorance, fear of the unknown, belief in miracles and supernatural powers. But you created these people yourselves, your vile desires and fairy fantasies gave rise to legions of X-Men. Demand is being studied, they come with a proposal and satisfy your demand. Fair enough. You wanted it, you got it. And despite this, I would like to say in defense of witches, sorcerers, psychics, magicians, summoners, enchanters, soothsayers, fortune-tellers. All you do is not such an easy job, it's a waste of strength, time, energy and even health, and your work should be well paid. People want to be deceived, so deceive them, people love to listen to lies, people want to believe, so let them believe. And for that, take money, take as much as your conscience allows. Don't worry about me, I am not your competitor, I will not enter your territory and do not pretend to take a piece of your pie. I don't have your abilities, your “gifts”, I don't have a vampiric appearance, I don't have black clothes, I haven't held even a deck of tarot cards in my hands. And most importantly, I do not have your creative talent for the things you do with your hands, voice, clothes, equipment and decorations around you. My area of knowledge is Death... Yes, I know, in modern and humane society this is a very unpopular and avoided topic. I spent most of my life studying Death and just as simply trying to do something else, normal, ordinary, human. I can no longer, I can only be a watchman or a driver. I don't have the necessary education and knowledge in the demanded areas of human life. I was born in a small rural town in the south of Russia, my childhood was spent in my parents' and grandparents' house, and across the road from us was the only church in the town, and a quarter block away was a small cemetery. And every two weeks or every three weeks, as soon as I heard the familiar melody of the ritual orchestra in the distance, I would abandon my childhood games and run headlong to sit on a bench. Like being hypnotized by Kaa the python from The Jungle Book, I would hold my breath and carefully watch the funeral ceremony. I was wildly fascinated by everything touched by Death. Needless to say, the cemetery was my favorite place for relaxation, spending time, and reflection. I would come when it got dark, lie down on a grave bench, and look up at the stars, surrounded by the scent of lilacs and the chirping of crickets. I would close my eyes, and everything felt so good; I didn't need any movies or fairy tales. If I delve into the details of my interests, I'm afraid I might lose you as a reader... So maybe it's enough with the preludes, and let's get down to business?

Look at the bottom right corner of the page. Find this composition on the internet and play it. Now you can not only read my lines, but also hear a voice very similar to mine, the voice of a congenital stutterer. Listening to me, it will be easier for you to understand what is written here. So, you are dying of cancer at the last stage, chemotherapy does not help, doctors avoid specific questions and try not to look you in the eyes. The cemetery is waiting... you always rushed through life, and it goes nowhere in no hurry. It always has vacant places, always... and it silently and patiently waits for you. If you don't like this state of affairs and you want it to wait a little longer for you, then this booklet is created for you. Let's talk about money, or rather let's count them. I have nowhere to live and I need a house. Requirements for the house: it must be on the outskirts of the city but not far beyond it, a forest, field, or river nearby, with a minimum of neighbors. I found only two such houses for sale in my city, costing no more than $500,000 as of 18/06/2024. Being extremely antisocial and non-communicative, I divided all work related to the booklet among five parts - five assistants. The money they are receiving now is a shame and disgrace. I think they deserve more. Thanks to their efforts and creativity, you have had the opportunity to live longer. Of course, if they are given a lot at once, the money will spoil and degrade their minds, they will relax and lose their creative potential. Therefore, I think a modest amount of $100,000 each will be a fair and deserved reward for them. I only accept face-to-face meetings 1 on 1, so all negotiations will go through them. For negotiations to be successful for you, they will have to like you, demonstrating your culture and respect. We add up  $500+5*100$  and get $1 million - this is the amount of money you should have before contacting them. People who don't have such money should understand that I am not the person who will help and save them at all. There is no divine mercy and compassion for other people in my heart. Why would I need crowds of suffering and deprived individuals? I am a supporter of the old rules, your story knows: "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth," another thing is "a heart for a heart, a breath for a breath," is lost forever, as our modern language translates as "love the one who loves you, breathe with the one who breathes with you." - total individualism. If you have $1 million, don't rush to rejoice. You still need to meet a whole list of qualities, and if you lack even one, no amount of billions will save you. What your body will encounter can kill you faster than cancer. The "dance" procedure or iToFormation is a dangerous activity. How not to die from cancer I will show later, but I will not explain in detail how.

artist B.W.O. track Living in a Fantasy

Ladies and gentlemen, may I ask you how you earned your capital and acquired assets? I believe you did this only one way – diligently, persistently, working hard, and trying to earn money yourselves. No one gave them to you; you earned them yourselves. The key word is "yourselves." What do you do with your cancer? Do you think cancer is any different from your other assets? What do you do "yourselves"? Are you working diligently? No. Are you working persistently? No. Are you working hard? No. You run to doctors in search of a magic pill and seek miracles from doctors, hoping they will save you. What do you do "yourselves"? You do nothing "yourselves." That's why you lie in cemeteries with touching inscriptions on the tombstones. I know you don't have time to understand everything we show you here, and you just wanted to know specifically that you have to pay $1 million. I answer – you pay $1 million for "stopping" your cancer. I don't treat cancer; I'm not a doctor. I "stop" cancer and boost your immunity. Stopping the killing of your body's cancer. It doesn't go away anywhere; it remains inside you, but it stops killing you. Your tumor stops being malignant, its metastases stop destroying other organs. Your cancer falls into a coma, and the metastases begin to "shrink" through osmosis. Yes, your cancer dies and is excreted through your body's elimination system, but this takes decades, which you hardly have. I apologize for deliberately substituting "I" for "you" to make it clearer for you, but in reality, this is incorrect. Your cancer is "stopped" by you, not by me. You can only "stop" your cancer yourselves, not I. You can! Question: "Tell me, how much money do you have to pay me to go to the toilet for you?" For $1 million, can I go to the toilet for you? And if 10, 100... how much do I need to pay for this service? The answer is, even if you pay me all the money in the world, I won't be able to go to the toilet for you. You can only do this yourself. "Stopping" cancer and going to the toilet – it's the same phenomenon! I, with a damaged brain, uneducated and poor, understand this truth. And you, with a healthy brain, well-educated and wealthy – don't understand this at all. You do everything... just to avoid doing anything yourself! Naturally, such irresponsible behavior always ends up in the cemetery. Bluetana "scolds" me when I say "dance" instead of the technically accurate and correct iToFormation. You will pay money for iToFormation, which consists of four parts: cleansing (not medical), nutrition (individually selected), physical exercises (not sports), and "dance" with the psyche, so you don't commit suicide. Don't worry so much about the money; if you are not suitable for iToFormation, then the millions will remain with you...

Leukemia - 1

-----

Blood cancer is my "favorite" cancer. As you understand, I won't tell you what everyone already knows. The booklet is not intended to retell common knowledge. Leukemia results from mutations in the DNA. These mutations may occur "spontaneously" or... I've spent and continue to spend more time on leukemia than on all other cancers combined. Blood cancer is magnificent in its functionality, it's the cancer of the future, a biological weapon of the future, it has great prospects. Because of this, I find blood cancer so interesting, even though my main failure is tied to it. As of today, 25/06/2024, I cannot "stop" blood cancer. I lack knowledge, and I don't have the practice with this amazing disease. I never got to meet a person on whom I could "practice" and test my ideas. I must admit - I have only theory and lots of unverified ideas, not practical knowledge. My second recipe for those who have given up on trying to cure their ailment: find the phone number of Oleg Tinkov, a famous Russian entrepreneur, don't be shy, call him, unlike me, he is a simple, open, sociable, and most importantly - a free-thinking person, no matter which social class you come from and how much money you have, I think he will give you the contacts of people who saved him in Germany. In my opinion, they are the best specialists in the world for blood cancer. Although they give a 50/50 chance, you will have a whole 50%... Don't come to me with leukemia, don't waste your time, I won't take on this - you will die... The history of blood cancer began with this unfortunate person (look at the painting). They say he was terribly ugly (artists always embellished his appearance), incredibly stupid, illiterate, courtiers laughed at him behind his back, and he suffered from many terrible diseases. When I hear so many bad things about someone at once, I automatically start to sympathize with them because I see my own reflection in them. Being one of the richest people of his time, he was the result of his parents' foolish love. I can assume that they did not understand the details of preserving royal blood purity and began engaging in things they knew nothing about. As a result of their ignorance and not understanding how to practice "proper" incest "without consequences," this much-suffering boy was born, who endured unbearable muscle and bone pain for the rest of his life. Only his own research and experiments with blood, along with his passionate desire to live without bodily pain, led him to a logical and tragic end - with far-reaching consequences for future generations. After all, he wanted to live like all healthy people; he just wanted to Vivere...

This man perfectly understood his fate. He had all the resources and opportunities to change his life. And he started searching... Dozens of Spanish galleons roamed the seas and oceans in search of new lands and treasures, but he was interested in something entirely different... he needed the voslaj. Even before WW2, an interesting document was known (last heard of in Thule-Gesellschaft circles) that mentioned a certain Roman city called Uhramnus. In this strange city lived rather strange people, something like a large family community or sect. They were scholar-medics and "served" the health of the powerful of the world, and their city was somewhat like a huge modern private clinic. They were under the protection of their clients and no one disturbed them, just as no one disturbs Monaco, Liechtenstein, or the Vatican today. Only they were allowed to engage in activities that were strictly forbidden for other peoples and considered mortal sins. They started with the same things we are doing now: tattoos, piercings, implants, plastic surgery, transplants, etc. By the end of their existence, they no longer resembled humans and were similar to bio-cyborgs. They had "improved" themselves to such an extent that their women lost the ability to give birth to healthy children. And then they created their greatest creation - voslaj; before that, they would simply replace their organs with new ones, remove and regenerate bone tissue and skin, but now, thanks to voslaj, they have also begun to cleanse and rejuvenate their blood. Immortality was within their reach. They were mistaken... voslaj triggered a series of events that I would call "uncontrolled pornography of death," focused on the endless improvement and rejuvenation of the human body. The rulers whose lives they prolonged began to supply them with an unlimited amount of human material for their experiments. Naturally, the people from whom this "meat" was sourced hated and despised them. The kings who protected them were not eternal, and when they lost their power, were overthrown or killed, the consequences were not long in coming - primitive peoples unleashed their wild rage and fury upon the inhabitants of Uhramnus, wiping not only them but their city, their knowledge, and even their trace in history off the face of the earth... And his expeditions found something, though where and what exactly, I do not know. He immediately gathered his numerous and great royal family and asked them to "lend" him the funds to drain several dozen hectares of coastal sea around modern Istanbul. In return, he offered them "something" equally valuable...

I can imagine the expressions on the faces of his relatives. Draining part of the sea is theoretically possible, but how can one scoop out a multi-meter layer of silt from the bottom of that sea? Either he didn't know about the silt layer, or he knew something I don't. What the family replied to him is unknown, but if Istanbul is currently washed by the sea, they did not give him any money. He was offended by his family. But most of all, he was offended by the God he always believed in and prayed to. You see, now you can hate God a hundred times a day and go about your business without any consequences. Back then, it was a different time with different morals, and the king of Spain couldn't just turn away from God without being misunderstood by his people, losing everything, including his wealth. Plan B. He began secretly hiring an entire army of alchemists across Europe, forcing them to synthesize his own version of voslaj. This proves to me once again that the galleons really found something. But the problem was that only those who seriously engaged in rejuvenation, even for cosmetic purposes, knew just two words on this topic: incest and voslaj - the energy drink of the inhabitants of Uhramnus, purifying and changing the blood composition. How to start large-scale experiments across Europe without much publicity, including avoiding harmful attention from the church and its royal family? And how to steer away from the topic of blood and rejuvenation? This man comes up with a simply brilliant idea. I should note, this was the time of the height of medieval philosophy. And what does he do? He names his version voslaj... stone, so that the very essence of the noun is as far from the original (drink) as possible. And to completely encrypt his creation for centuries, he adds the trendiest adjective of his time - philosophical! From that moment on, his alchemists begin to seek and synthesize the "philosopher's stone," and it is no longer for rejuvenation but for transforming metals into gold. Brilliant! All commoners of Europe were guinea pigs on whom this drug was tested. And around this time, a deadly blood disease called "caducus anima" appeared among the people. He himself died from one of the versions of "caducus anima". This is how blood cancer - leukemia - came to be. I think that modern blood cancer is an artificially created and genetically transmitted disease resulting from the improper synthesis and use of unfinished analogues of voslaj. The story of voslaj does not end there; the next person to seriously search for it was Adi, as Adolf was affectionately called by only two women: his Mother and Eva...

Look at the second page of the brochure, where Socrates talks about what he thinks about a society where people have already known everything. These people were in Germany before the start of WW2 who surrounded Adolf. The general obsession with messianic ideas and tasks led to the desired being taken for the real. Fantasies about great and global events acted as a drug on obsessed minds. Around Adolf there were always many people who, like parasites, wanted to live carefree at the expense of the Reich money, to have fun in the best brothels of Munich and Berlin, to do whatever they pleased and then hiding behind the noble intentions of the nation, never be responsible for anything. There is nothing surprising in this fact - human desires are as old as the world, and now people also want to do nothing, have everything and not be responsible for anything. Someone told him that voslaj should be sought in the backward and impoverished Tibet, where people are starving and ready to come up with any technologies of ancient Atlanteans and Lemurians for just a bowl of rice. And in general, Kailash is the lost Shambhala, walled up with concrete, you just need to find an approach from the right side and the entrance to the land of the immortals, switch off the energy barriers, etc. People can't live without mysticism, they need the sacred mysteries of the ancients like air, life will be incredibly boring without mysteries and rituals. What should they do if there is no Agharti, Hyperborea or the continent of Mu? Life will immediately lose its meaning. Someone told him that voslaj can turn ordinary soldiers into Über, who do not know pain and fear. He sent the first voslaj expedition for himself because he wanted his empire to last for 1000 years and to search for a method of turning ordinary soldiers into super soldiers. Heinrich even selected a special group of SS officers who underwent trepanation of the skull followed by surgical brain intervention. All those young and beautiful guys died. They couldn't create a single Über Soldaten. Stupidity is an incurable disease! And the second walk in the mountains was sent for retribution weapons, when Adolf had problems near Stalingrad. Two expeditions to Tibet ended in nothing, except for a case of "stopping" cancer of an expedition member. They were unable to synthesize the "real" voslaj. Unfortunately, a human being cannot live without violence and suffering. And it must be acknowledged - the important research and discoveries in the field of Death were made by doctors, medics, and scientists of the Wehrmacht...

Lung Cancer

Cancer of the respiratory tract: larynx, trachea, bronchi, and lungs - I will refer to it with one phrase: lung cancer. This type of cancer "appeals" to me with its audacity and speed of killing the body. It is a silent cancer - it simply does its job quickly and quietly. I like silent and decisive people, and that's why lung cancer seems "sympathetic" to me. "Stopping" lung cancer is a standard information procedure and does not cause difficulties; you just need to act quickly, and you'll have to do much more aerobic exercise compared to other cancers. Doctors and physicians scare and greatly exaggerate the deadly danger of lung cancer. For example, "non-fatal" pneumonia is far more dangerous than "fatal" lung cancer. COVID-19 proved this with its own example. In Russia, cigarette packs say "SMOKING KILLS." This is utter nonsense! When I was sent to school at the age of 7, I was already smoking. I smoked throughout school until the army, and when I realized at 18 that in the army I needed a completely different body to immerse it in an atmosphere of idiocy and violence, I quit smoking that very day. After the army, I came home, "cleaned out" the dark brown filth from my lungs, increased my oxygen saturation, and removed the nicotine traces from my blood. That's it! I didn't do anything else. So, I smoked for 11 years. Where is my lung cancer that doctors scare you with? If I were to get an MRI of my lungs now with contrast enhancement, the MRI scans would show that I have never smoked in my life... Smoking is wonderful! I loved to puff and savor every drag of an expensive cigarette. And the smell of expensive tobacco smoke - what a thrill! Smoking is one of the sensual pleasures, do not deny yourself in it, listening to other people's moralizing advice. Smoking is the best practice to observe your breathing and delve into its details. Smoking pleasantly and relaxing affects your thoughts. Smoking, if done thoughtfully and focused, helps "catch points of focus." And focus on anything is a "terrifying" force. For example, the magic, which I can't stand, is entirely built on "points of focus." When you get tired of "children's" cigarettes, try something "adult." You understand what I mean. This is the easiest way to look inside yourself. To understand yourself. The easiest, but also the most primitive way. There are more effective ways. But start small. And always ask yourself: "Why am I doing this?" Don't be afraid to smoke, lung cancer doesn't come from smoking. Just smoke good cigarettes, not garbage. Smoking can give you many important insights about yourself. Smoke with pleasure...

Stomach Cancer

"Gluttony"... what an exquisite English word. But how many horrors and nightmares are associated with it? Stomach cancer is the most demonized cancer. Wherever you look, there are devils, demons, and the eternal sufferings of Hell. I don't know about devils and demons... but the fact that you will suffer hellishly during the "stopping" of stomach cancer is noted correctly. In truth, the suffering will not be eternal, but only for the duration of iToFormation. Stopping stomach cancer is an extremely unpleasant procedure. You will have to drink various disgusting liquids that will make you vomit so much that you will not be happy to meet me. I warn you in advance that you will feel very, very bad. And what did you expect - to use your stomach as a trash can and then not feel bad? If it comforts you, you will not be the only one suffering... I am a practitioner, not a teacher, and therefore I will demonstrate iToFormation on myself, i.e., you will only do what I do. Practice, practice, and more practice. I do, you watch me and do the same. I have no superhuman abilities. Physiologically, you are no different from me. My body's capabilities are exactly the same as yours, i.e., everything I will do physically, you can do too, provided that you have no serious bodily injuries. It hurts me and it will hurt you, I suffer and you will suffer. Our difference will be only in knowledge and reactions to actions that can shock and cause fear. The fourth part of iToFormation - the "dance" with the psyche is needed precisely for the "stopping" of stomach cancer, so that you do not suddenly lose the meaning of life. If you didn't like how I described iToFormation for stomach cancer, then don't forget that you might not even qualify and be excluded from iToFormation due to the lack of necessary human qualities. In the legal part of the booklet, I explain in detail why, in the absence of these qualities, the amount of your money ceases to matter. Do you think you can cope with stomach cancer? I knew a person who couldn't. Why would you live if you can't eat deliciously and a lot? Indeed, if delicious and plentiful food is an important factor for you in enjoying life, and without it, life ceases to be happy, then why fight and cope? No need. Remember, you always have an alternative. Hundreds of oncology centers have been built around the world, and thousands of oncology doctors have been trained and are working. You will receive treatment, a comfortable ward, and encouraging smiles from doctors, and you won't have to endure pain and suffering with me. Contact me only in the most hopeless and doomed situations...

Intestine Cancer - 1

No matter how hard I try, I can't avoid this "funny" topic. As much as I don't want to, I can't describe intestine cancer (whether it's small or large) without devils and demons. The topic of Hell is somehow relevant here, and I have to use it fully. Intestine cancer is the most important and central type of cancer; it is the Alpha & Omega of your transformation. When I "stop" cancer (with the exception of blood cancer), I always and simultaneously utilize the thermal-energy functions of the intestine. In fact, the microorganisms (I like to call them "animals") that reside within you become my best "friends" and help me in "stopping" your cancer. However, upon the completion of the "stop," I have to kill most of my "friends," but what can I do - such are the laws of Hell. If Dante Alighieri had looked into his intestine, world literature would not have received its greatest work on the subject of Hell. In this case, the ignorance of Mr. Alighieri serves as the creator of a work of art and can be considered an exceptional blessing. One of the innate properties of the human brain is boredom. If the brain is not stimulated, it operates in a "sleep mode" to maintain balance of your iToS, remaining in a state of boredom. Humans lack the "challenges" of life that wild animals face, so humans experience boredom for most of their lives. The entire entertainment industry is focused on finding ways and methods to alleviate boredom. Due to boredom, the human brain cannot exist without a system of evaluating reality through rewards and punishments. Simple praise and criticism do not adequately stimulate the brain, which is quite inert; therefore, there must be extreme forms of impact on the brain. Only orgasmic forms of reward and sadistic forms of punishment can bring the brain out of "sleep mode" and satisfy its boredom. Special terms and places with extreme decorations were devised to address such concepts as Good and Evil, God and Devil, Heaven and Hell, etc. Without these fundamental notions, we cannot move forward; they are an integral part of human existence. I will discuss the body's capabilities related to Heaven, and in which organ it resides, at the end of the list of all cancers when I describe fatal diseases in women... Large intestine cancer differs from small intestine cancer only in the time of cleansing and the degree of horrors you will be able to witness. If you have enough courage and can overcome your disgust, you can even touch and smell it. Don't worry, Hell is not contagious, it doesn't penetrate the skin, and you can wash your hands afterward. But imagine the experience you'll gain!

If you love watching horror movies or reading horror literature, then iToFormation of intestine cancer will greatly please you, it will fully satisfy your devilish desires. I will show you hell in reality. Don't be afraid, unlike stomach cancer, you will feel bad only at the very beginning... and then you will feel good, very good... You will be so calm and quiet that you will be afraid of yourself. And then, when the main iTo movement starts, you will want to fly. There will come a moment when you will feel as if you can perform miracles and possess super power. You will want to try it on weaker animals and humans. And in the end, as often happens, you will tell me that you have understood everything, and I am no longer needed and you can handle it yourself... The details of your "divine" behavior will be pre-written in the contract, and we will follow its points strictly, regardless of your supernatural abilities. And then I will lower you from the heavens and you will lose your power, but your cancer will be stopped, you will stop dying of cancer. As for what will happen next, I don't know myself. The contract will be fulfilled, we can withdraw our money from the account and I will leave you. That's all! Note an important detail, the money can only be withdrawn, according to the contract, you will be alive on a specific date. Until this date, we will not be able to do this... It seems to me that I have described your condition in detail during the iToFormation of intestine cancer and excited your brain. Are you not bored? In fact, intestine cancer is quite a rare disease and does not threaten most modern people living in big cities where people are more educated. Intestine cancer mainly affects depraved and ignorant people who relate to themselves like a "black" box, mostly these are elderly, ignorant, rural residents. Although, there are always exceptions. This is all understandable, but what surprises me is quite a different observation. I hope that our booklet is read by people with intact brains and that they do not take my words, especially those in quotation marks, literally. People have written and continue to write hundreds of books on the topic of "Death." Teachers, saints, and messiahs regularly come to you. They teach, save, give blessing and leave until the next time. Dear ladies and gentlemen (and I truly respect you for having achieved something important and tangibly material in this life, unlike me), if you have been visited, taught, saved, written to, and you have written... You know so much and are so skilled about Death, then why do you still die from cancer? Why? What is wrong?

Brain Cancer - 1

I feel sorry... I don't feel sorry for people, not because I'm so cruel and heartless, and not because no one has ever pitied me and now in my cruelty I "punish" everyone around me. No, not because of that. I simply deal with phenomena and events that do not possess your human qualities and characteristics. Pity is a human invention, and if you look closely at nature around you, you will not find pity there. These are the rules, and I must observe and play by these rules... But in the case of brain cancer, you are not to blame; the whole reason is in me... I truly feel sorry for you that at such a crucial moment in your life, you encountered such an "inconvenient" person as me. If I knew whom to refer you to, I would have done so, but unfortunately, I know no one who could "take" you from Death besides me... And I don't want to do that. But on the other hand, I can't just "slam the door" on you without any explanation. That would be wrong. Therefore, I still have to give you an explanation... But here, so many topics intertwine, so many personal matters are touched upon, and all this needs to be somehow explained in a language understandable to you. For me, this is a problem. We will have a problem with words. The fact is that human speech is a rather primitive way of conveying such information, because in the language of people, words are associated not with one, but with several images at once. The image for the same word is chosen from the context. One word - several images - the incurable pain of human linguistics. For example, in the language of mathematics, there is no such pain. In addition to human speech, there are more informative languages for this purpose, such as the language of images, the language of music, or the language of emotions. If you noticed, we have been using these three languages from the very beginning to convey the inexpressible... And now, in the language of words, I have to explain to you why I don't want to "stop" your brain cancer. Initially, I wanted to set a separate price for brain cancer at $10M and leave only those who hadn't yet started having headaches from the tumor, but then I realized that this option doesn't suit me either. iToFormation, like everything else in this world, is not perfect. There are "side effects". For example, if you climb to the roof of a five-story building and jump off, you will break your legs. Question: "Are broken legs a side effect of Earth's gravity or not?" You understood what I mean by this? The same goes for iToFormation - there are such "side effects". I am constantly improving them, but I cannot remove them completely...

The most important requirement of iToFormation is to be always present in consciousness and not lose the soundness of one's thoughts. Your science and medicine haven't known this yet; perhaps this discovery will be made in the future, but at the moment of death, just a few seconds before death, you lose consciousness and faint. I will not explain now why this is happening, but I will note that dying in conscious and unconscious states are very different kinds of dying. Between them is a huge abyss that you will not be able to jump across without understanding how your fear is connected to the heart, and the heart is connected to the tumor in your brain through the blood. When Death looks you in your eyes with the 'brain turned off,' you will immediately 'lose' and die. One might think that ItoFormation will kill you instead of cancer, but that will not be true. Here it is, the obvious pain of the images of human language. Do you remember what I said about the 'stopping' of cancer on page 30? In the 'stopping' of cancer, it 'falls asleep in a coma' and remains inside you. But if it 'falls asleep,' it can also wake up, which is actually happens when you lose consciousness during iToFormation, turning off your brain temporarily. And again, your medicine doesn't know this yet, but cancer has its memory, and when it 'wakes up' from a coma, it becomes 'incredibly angry' at how it has been treated. And who do you think its anger will be directed at? Me? No, it's your cancer, it's inside you. It won't reach me. He will kill you in a fit of his rage. Brain cancer will kill you in about 2-3 weeks. And in order to intervene in this battle of your body with Death, I must be with you 24 hours a day to prevent your brain from being in an unconscious state for a long time. Do you understand that it means to live next to you around the clock? In fact, I have to dedicate my life to you. I wouldn't even want to do it for $10M. Now, do you understand better why I don't want to take on this cancer? You are a completely perfect stranger to me, and why would I give a part of myself, a part of my life, to a stranger? And not just to give, but to give totally, without reserve. Moreover, iToFormation itself, in the case of brain cancer, is the most challenging thing in terms of details, precision, and responsibility, because I will be dealing with the most complex organ of your body - the brain. And those "mistakes," which I can afford to allow with other iToFormations in other sorts of cancers, I cannot allow for brain cancer, this is jewelry work, any mistake is your death. I will have only one attempt... But! I can "take" you from Death if I Love You...

How can you name an act when a person of a different orientation admits to everyone who he is? "Coming out"? I want to confess, too. I am very kind, sincere and with great sympathy to people from the LGBT community. Everyone who has met in my life, who I have crossed paths with in conversations and so from the outside, you left me with an extremely pleasant and respectful impression. You have a beautiful culture of communication, you have exquisite traits in the manner of behavior, your minds are not loaded so much with surrounding bustle, you tell the truth more often and more emotionally, without looking back at the consequences. I was always attracted by people with skills, which I don't have. For example, you are always stylishly and beautifully dressed. I don't get enough of that. You have beautiful speech and facial expressions. I miss that. You often smell good and sophisticated fragrances work well with your other behaviors. Dealing with the theme of Death, I am far from pleasant aromas. Of course, this does not mean that I am dirty and it smells bad from me. No, I just don't understand the zest of perfume, but I would like to understand something about it one day. Well, the most important thing you have is your "real" magnets - your hearts! Unlike perfume, in hearts I understand and see, and feel when they are filled with human vices. I didn't see it in your hearts. You are so alive and real! Thank you that I had the opportunity to meet you in my life, thank you for being and make this world so rosy and sensual... Back to brain cancer. If you're a man, you have brain cancer and have $10M to pay for cancer "stop" service. Excuse me. No. Despite everything that I said above - I am different, I can never love a man. My heart is not made for a man's love. I have not seen anything more amazing and beautiful than female eyes in my life. The most fabulous, stunning and charming what happened to me is the look of a beloved woman into my eyes. Through her eyes, I seem to touch her heart and millions of pieces of her iTo hit me like blows of lightning. They are so small, and they hit with such force that I begin to feel her breathing inside me. I breathe her... This feeling splits me into atoms... I do Death and I know at what moments I need to use force, and at what moments the defence. And here comes a small, fragile, gentle and feminine creature and timidly looks into my eyes... and... the Universe explodes with a dazzling light of relic radiation flying through her eyes right into mine, burning in the ashes my force and defence... I freeze with confusion... and I don't know what to do...

Have you found someone who will need you when you are no longer needed by anyone else? The younger and more beautiful you are right now, the more confident you are that it will never happen to you, and if it does happen, it will be very far in the future and old age is not about you at all. And even when senility comes, you will have time to prepare for it and know how to live. I have some bad news for you - you won't have time... and you won't... If you have skin cancer - old age has already come to you. Your age is not just a number in your passport, it is the state of your skin. If your skin is affected by cancer cells, it doesn't matter how old you are - the speed of your body's aging has already increased significantly. So, have you found someone with whom you would like to share your last breath? The most desperate feeling of an old person is to be needed! You can answer me rightfully, but I am needed by my Mom, Dad, Sister, Brother... children and finally friends. Everyone who loves you right now... Everyone to the last! All of them will go there, where people do not return... All your beloved and precious ones will disappear forever... And most likely, you will be present at their "departures from life"... You will bury your loved people... You cannot escape this fact and hide from it anywhere. You will do it! The loss of your loved ones will change you greatly and you will never be the same person as previous. Then why bother with all of this? Why be happy and live, only to lose it all later? What is the point of such life? Everyone chooses their own meaning of life. If you are interested in my opinion, personally for me, there is no meaning in life, life is meaningless to me, I just play it without any meanings. Yes, for me life is a game, I don't live, I play in life. If you get to know me better, you will also, like me, immerse yourself in this game and lose all meaning... The absence of meaning is my meaning - it's my choice. Never try to follow me, your life is a completely different vast world of events and possibilities. Only you can choose your personal unique and unrepeatable meaning of life. Even if you can't find someone who will need you in old age... even if your friends turn away from you and no one needs you, which often happens when you become disabled person. Inside you, there is something that will never deceive you and will never betray you. It will always be with you, it will need you in any condition and with any mistakes. Your heart will always be with you. Ask it what is the meaning of your life. And whatever it answers, that is the Truth. That is your purpose in life...

Don't worry, not everything is lost. I have good news for you, your skin cancer is not a fatal disease. It can be cured! You didn't mishear, not "stop", just cure. In skin cancer, there is nothing to "stop," iToFormation is not applicable to it. There is no special diet, no physical exercises, and no "dance" with the mind. There is nothing! Your skin cancer is a consequence, and the cause lies in a "local defect" and improper functioning of specific organs or systems associated with them... Skin cancer is the oldest and most expensive of all cancers. In the past, it was called the curse of unclean spirits and sinners. In ancient times, it was associated with terrible infectious diseases and was transmitted by just touch, and it was treated simply by burning a person at the stake. Fire was a good "medicine" for ancient people suffering from skin cancer. But times and customs have changed, infections started to be defeated by vaccines and the link between skin cancer and them was broken, so essentially only those forms of skin cancer survived that did not occur because of infections. It is both good and bad at the same time. Skin cancer has stopped being deadly, but now it has become incredibly difficult to find the cause of it. Modern medicine has defeated deadly infections but has lost the ability to find the causes of modern skin cancer. Due to the difficulty in determining the cause, skin cancer is the most expensive. Currently there are three main types of skin cancer, but there may be many more causes. In other words, skin cancer is like an "infection", but not for the entire body, but locally for a specific organ or system or connection between the systems. It takes up an incredible amount of time and effort, I even hesitate to say how much it will cost in monetary terms. If you came to me with skin cancer it is the wrong place, because it is not a lethal disease. You do not need me, you need doctors... and many doctors are needed, a whole oncology center. Why so many? Because no one oncologist is able to show a comprehensive and voluminous picture of the pathology of your body. To understand your skin cancer, hundreds of analyses need to be done and a lot of time needs to be spent analyzing everything. Sometimes your organs seem to be working individually fine, but assume the liver due to a "local defect" starts conflicting with the right kidney and they start to "quarrel", while your skin suffers, for example, moles start to darken and get wet. But the blood test shows that everything is fine with these organs. Skin cancer is not difficult to treat, but difficult to find its cause...

Skin Cancer - 3

I stay away from skin cancer; firstly, I am not a doctor to treat it, and secondly, the treatment of skin cancer is in the area that I actively avoid - rejuvenation. My field of activity is Death, not "pornography of Death." It may seem that there is no difference. But the difference is huge! My actions do not harm or threaten the life of a healthy person. The focus is on a dying person who has nothing to lose. Rejuvenation, or as I call it, "pornography of Death," is the application of your knowledge to a healthy person. Do you feel the difference? When a dying person dies - it is normal, there is no tragedy here. But rejuvenation like a vacuum cleaner sucks in all those who resist its temptations, and it ends in tragedy. Rejuvenation is a game with "other" people's money and high stakes, where the lives of healthy people are used as bets. Rejuvenation, compared to "stopping" cancer, attracts other risks... I need admit honestly that I have been dealing with the wrong things and therefore have not achieved anything in this life, I have nothing and basically nothing to lose, but for the girls on page 2 who will answer your calls and messages, there is something to lose, and I cannot allow their lives to be like bets in this game. When you come to me with skin cancer, you are essentially asking me to dissect you, to find out the cause of your premature aging, remove the cause of aging, and put you back together again. With skin cancer, you can live quite well for many years. For most elderly people, it is in a passive form and there are no problems with it, skin cancer is a "normal" development of the body in old age... My grandmother on my mother's side had skin cancer - melanoma, she had a non-healing wound on her palm and a rotten spot on her cheek. She raised me from infancy. I loved her very much, and of course I tried to save and prolong her life. Grandmother didn't let me find the reason for her cancer. Metastases that had spread to the lymph nodes and the esophagus had dried her out almost to the bones, and only the old yellow skin wrapped around them, she could barely walk and kept falling, her strength was leaving her, and I kept pestering her with my experiments every day... Come on, Granny, don't give up... just try and you will live... why don't you want to? She was smiling with difficulty, shaking her head and squinting while saying quietly: "Oh, you are such a fool my grandson, but I'd rather die than do what you say..." Two weeks later she died, in 2006. It has been so many years, but her quiet voice still echoes inside me: "..., I would rather die than do what you say...", "..., ..., than do what you say..."

Liver & Kidney Cancers - 1

-----

Liver cancer and kidney cancer are not different from each other, but they differ from other cancers in that way, the approach to them lies through certain moral difficulties when dealing with the dying person, especially with a dying woman, and especially if this woman is married. The higher I climb the ladder of descriptions of deadly diseases, the more questions you will have, queries like: "Why do you do this?", "Why exactly do it this way, not differently?", "Why are you hurting me here?", "Are you sure that you need to touch me here... maybe lower... even lower...". "And why is that... why is this?" etc. And such list of questions will grow like a snowball. If you have questions, it means that you are thinking and trying to figure things out. It is great, that is how it should be! But try to put yourself in my shoes. I am alone, while there are dozens of you, maybe hundreds, maybe even thousands... and everyone has questions, questions and more questions... What should we do with such questions? How motivated do you think I am to answer each of you? You can object: "If you want to sell a product/service to your potential clients who are ready to pay you millions and if you are not afraid to lose us, then you simply must tell us in detail what and how you are going to do with us." But I am not afraid to lose... Let's clarify the situation right now. Firstly, let's replace the word "clients" with the phrase "my international guests", I am not a bank or a service station for you to be my clients. Secondly, if you think that I owe you something, then you haven't read the brochure carefully, please go back on page 30 and read it carefully and calmly again... Do not equate a "cancer stop" to services you are used to have everywhere you pay money. Thirdly, I have already said that I am not a teacher or mentor, it is much easier for me to show something on myself or on you, that is why all questions will immediately disappear on their own. But liver cancer and kidney cancer are not the same case, here it is necessary to explain my actions before touching you, especially this applies to married women. And if this woman is a Muslim, she has 5 children at home and a wonderful, caring and loving husband? And why can't a woman who practices Islam want to not die, live on and enjoy her life? Of course she can, because first of all she is a living person who breathes, sees and feels just like you, she is a Woman! And after that she became a follower of her faith. Death doesn't care at all about what faith you are, what sacred scriptures you read, or what traditions you follow. It turns out to be a real "misunderstanding".

-----

Death doesn't care... but your husband will definitely care who his semi-naked wife ends up alone with. The husband, and you yourself, will immediately have many questions about the correctness and expediency of the measures being taken. I am already silent about the questions about my personality. For such cases, people long ago came up with a form of business relations that would answer their questions before they even started doing something. And they named this form - "contract". Between you and me there will be 2 agreements. The first agreement will have the legal force of your country of residence... You didn't mishear - your country! Not mine, not Russia where I live, but yours, where you live. If you are from Canada, the first contract will be according to the laws of Canada. If you are from Germany, Poland or Italy, the first contract will be made according to the laws of the European Union. If you are from Iran or the UAE, the first contract will be drawn up in accordance with the laws of these Muslim states. You will be protected by the law of your country. You still don't know what iToFormation is... And that's why I want it to be like this. My 5th assistant will take care of these questions (page 28). The 2nd contract will be brief, taking up 1 page, and will be signed in blood between you and me. The second agreement does not have the legal force, it will have a completely different power, but only if you respect yourself as a human being, if the words you speak are not just empty sound. You are a guest on this planet, and all guests have a tendency to leave... and if you respect the laws of hospitality provided to you by Life, you will perish, but you will fulfill what you signed with your personal blood. You can see an example of such a contract on page 4. If you do not fulfill your blood contract, then how will you be able to walk on the earth, how will you be able to raise your gaze to the sun, how will you be able to breathe air and drink water? Signing two contracts will greatly reduce your questions. I cannot anticipate all the intricacies and nuances of our relationship in advance, so of course, there will still be questions behind the scenes of the booklet and two contracts. I will answer such questions in a respectful conversation with you while looking into your eyes. For all other people who are just curious to find out and understand what is happening here, what iToFormation is and why it is needed, I offer a paid platform for answers, through the girls on page 2. 1 question = $1000. There are questions that I do not want to respond and will not answer, you will be refunded in this case...

Dear gentlemen, the following three pages are specially created for you. If your beloved woman is dying from liver or kidney cancer, and you are worried a lot about what I will do with her during iToFormation, then watch and listen... I asked Ingamoda to find me a beautiful photo with a very specific hand position of a massage therapist on a woman's body, she reviewed hundreds of photos and she found it. Thank you. The first thing I will start doing with your woman is slowly warming up her body, her organs... Yes, we will be alone, together in the sauna or bathhouse, where there is a steam room. She will be in a swimsuit, I will be wearing beach shorts. Sorry, but we cannot be dressed in such rooms. If you start heating the liver sharply right away, there is a high probability of getting a blood spasm and an unnecessary involuntary release of bile into the intestine in this situation. We cannot do this, so first we need to warm up the organs around the liver or kidneys, then the blood circulating through the channels of the "cleansing filters" will not cause spasms in the tissues and the liver/kidneys will feel very comfortable without colic attacks, in other words, your beloved woman will not be hurt. Then, when all organs have warmed up evenly, you can start the targeted warming up. We enter the steam room, she lies on her left side with her right side up (if we are talking about the liver), and stretches her arms as far as possible horizontally and parallel to the surface on which she will lie. It is necessary for tension she felt in the right side of the arm extension, the state of "tension" is very important for liver ducts during heating. I take the wares that will be in the inventory, usually it is a wooden bucket and a ladle, and start watering her right side first with hot water, then even hotter, and finally very hot water, raising the temperature of the water practically to the point of burning their skin. But need to endure, it may be a burn in the form of a large red spot. It is not dangerous and will quickly pass in this area. She will tell me when I need to stop with the temperature... As soon as it starts to get bad... Stop! Quickly out of the steam room, be careful, head will spin, and there will be "sparks" coming out of eyes. She reaches the reservoir with cold water and dives into it headfirst. Sparks leave the eyes, eyes widened, a non-voluntary stress cry is possible... skin is taut, all muscles are tense... We have just delivered the first heat stroke to her cancer. Cancer cells are intelligent and they can "defend themselves", and cancer will "turn on thermal protection" and will change it from hot to cold...

-----

I look into her eyes, if they start to narrow and regain their previous focus, we quickly return to the steam room. Repeat what we have already done. I pour water and watch her condition. I am waiting for her nausea, sparks in the eyes. Pupils dilate and face takes on a bestial grin. Cold water again. Madness in her eyes, anger, rage. Again into the same cycle and everything starts all over again. She constantly feels unwell and the nausea doesn't go away, but she can't throw up. Nausea comes not from the stomach, but from the bile. She starts asking, and then begging... to stop. I continue in silence. She can no longer lie quietly on her left side, her body is being twisted and turned by the "awakened" streams of iTo greedily "devouring" parts of her body like fire-breathing snakes. She is having troubles with breathing, she is suffocating from overheating of her internal organs. Trying to take off her swimsuit. I am trying to stop her, because she is married. She can't get up herself anymore. I pick her up, carry her out and dip her in a tank of cold water, holding her head so she wouldn't choke. There are no more screams. I take her out of the cold water and carry her back to the steam room, put her in the previous place. She no longer cares at all what do to her and who. The sparks are gone, replaced by pulsating circles and fields with endless geometric shapes. I place my palm on her right side. I don't feel the "breathing" of the liver. I change tactics. I fill two buckets with cold water, and from a ladle I start pouring a thin stream onto her "red target" on the right side, then more and more. I wait for insults and curses towards me. There are none. Which means it is still early. I switch the cold stream back to hot. She is in shock! Her body is in shock! Her cancer is in shock! I'm waiting for her to swear. Well, come on, Darling, come on... Go fuck yourself! Go screw yourself! Do you know who I am? Do you even realize what my husband will do to you? You! Who are you? You won't leave this place alive. It's all over for you! Do you understand? It's all over for you! Great! She is almost ready. Trying to pick her up, she is trying to hit me. She manages to hit me with a fist in the mouth. Do you know what I will do with your dad? I carry her to the cold water and gently immerse her, so she doesn't hit her head on the tile in a fit of a raging tigress. She is losing the ability to speak, holding onto my hand, her pupils as black as coal. I smile at her. My lip hurts a little, but in this case the pain is pleasant. I take her out of the water. Put my palm on the right side. Now I hear, I hear the "breathing" of the liver. She's ready!

The streams of iTo have "eaten" her flesh and she has no strength to speak now. I lift her up from the floor and lay her face down on the massage table, now hands forward just like in the steam room on both sides for tension. I untie the bikini top at her back and move the rope aside that is bothering me. I take a white towel and cover the lower part of her back with it so that when she "comes to her conscious" she does not feel awkward that I have been looking at her from above all this time when she was in an unattractive form. And when she "comes to her senses", she will see that she is "protected" and she will be pleased that our procedure ended so aesthetically and she was a good girl and behaved decently. She will calm down, relax, and feel great. I need her to be in such condition. The unwarmed and unenlarged liver is very difficult to "touch" because it can only be approached from the side of the ribs and it always "slips away" towards the lungs. But now her liver is pulsating and "breathing", it has increased by almost one and a half times. The area in which it can move has narrowed, the liver has become too tight to "slip away" towards the lungs. Look at the photo. I press down with my left hand and the lower part of the ribs like a trap, like pincers, fixates the already enlarged liver, and now it cannot move anywhere at all. With my right hand, I feel the "breathing" of the organ and adjust the frequency of its "pulse" by regulating the pressure up and down with my left hand on the "trap part" of the ribs. And now that the "elusive" organ is fixed in a stationary position, I can apply finger pressure to it and "tune in" to the iTo channels from the fingertips quite accurately. By the way, pay attention - under my right hand there should be no layers of fat, cellulite. Manipulations with pressure, temperature, and flows iTo and there are the very physical exercises (not sports) of iToFormation. This was only the first day. The iToFormation for liver and kidney cancer can last about a month, depending on the stage of cancer and the individual. During iToFormation, your beloved person will experience insomnia and complete apathy towards life. In addition to physical exercises, special nutrition is also involved here, fast food is deadly dangerous. "Dance" with the mind... this part will connect somewhere in the middle of iToFormation, when she no longer wants to continue fighting for living and living at all... And I will have to show her Death's "face", it will incredibly cheer her up, she will catch her "second" wind and so I will gradually accompany her to the end of her cancer stopping journey.

Eye Cancer - 1

When describing leukemia, I "agreed" with you that I will not tell things that are already well known to everyone. I am trying to describe something here that is either unknown to your science or do not understand it that way. Deadly diseases are a very unpleasant topic for discussion, maybe that's why no one wants to delve into them in detail? Sometimes I ask myself, "Why do people strive for everything pleasant, and not for what relieves them from unpleasantness?" I ask and do not find an answer. In general, almost everything related to Death is not quite pleasant, it is not pleasant at all, especially the smells! If you think I get high from the sensations and images of Death, no, it all happens differently... I enjoy receiving knowledge that Death gives me... touching the "transcendental" knowledge brings me pleasure. The smells of corpses, necrosis of human flesh, impurities of organisms and other abominations are just as unpleasant to me as to any of you, but the path to "transcendental" knowledge lies precisely through filth, stench, and suffering. As a test of "weakness", they do not let just anyone in. The same applies to the requirements of iToFormation - they do not allow just anyone to access for the additional life. You must be worthy to receive a bonus life, you must earn it with your pain, blood, and suffering. Only this way! There is no other method! Cancer of the eye is a special case of skin cancer with a touch of brain cancer. Eye cancer like skin cancer is not a deadly disease and is the same "pornography of Death". iToFormation is not applicable to eye cancer. In general, due to the complex structure of the eye, it is "much easier" to replace it with a new one than to "repair" it. This is how modular component replacement is currently accepted in electronics, complex components are not repaired by anyone, they are simply replaced with new ones entirely. The residents of the destroyed Uhramnus did the same thing - they did not treat their eyes, they simply replaced them with new ones, like components, sometimes replacing them with the eyes of animals and birds to gain their advantages in vision. Modern medicine cannot do this because of tissue rejection, as it cannot "reprogram" the glands of the endocrine system, which are responsible among other things for the "acceptance" of foreign organic matter. In short, eye cancer is a complicated case. You can't "deal with it" at home, you need a laboratory, you need special medical equipment. Eye cancer is a rare disease and I will not be able to gather enough "foreign guests" to cover the investing costs in such business. Game is not worth the candle!

What should you do? Try to cure until the end and if it doesn't work, just remove the eye together with the cancer and continue your living. This is the cheapest and most effective way. But better, Let me tell you what to do to avoid eye cancer. It may seem why I am doing this, why share such information with you, especially for free? You didn't buy this booklet, did you? I hope you have downloaded the brochure for free and are viewing it on your computer or smartphone. If someone sold you a printed paper brochure, then go to the person who sold it to you and hit his face with the booklet. It is free! The information in it is intended for everyone for free! So why should I share my secrets with you for free? You may consider it like a personal sympathy for the most beautiful organ of your body - the eyes. You can learn a lot about a person through their eyes, if you know how to do it. The connection of the eyes with the heart does not concern eye cancer and goes beyond this section. I adore people with beautiful, healthy, and clean eyes. The eyes are able to convey feelings and captivate me. I enjoy looking into them. And the more you will have healthy and beautiful eyes, the more pleasure I will have. Eye cancer appears due to three reasons: eye injury, brain injury, and "incorrect" lifestyle. If the first two reasons are clear, then the third is a very relative concept. "Incorrect" relative to whom? For example, I not only have an "incorrect" lifestyle, but also have very "incorrect" views on life. I have "incorrect" relationships with women (my wife is divorcing me), I say "incorrect" phrases and think "incorrectly" too... But despite all my "wrongness", I don't have any eye problems. You understand, right? Avoid aggressive sports where you beat on the eyes. Don't hit with your head unless it's necessary. Cleanse yourself as you can, fast as you can, eat "non-dead" food... Do not read the booklet for too long, it is harmful not only for the eyes, but also for the untrained psyche... The main point you need to understand in order to never think about eye cancer at all is regular blood pressure in the eyeball. Blood under pressure will "wash out" substances from the eye capillaries that lead to eye cancer... A simple exercise from the iToFormation secrets: feet shoulder-width apart, lean forward so that your eyes are below your heart, blink your eyes vigorously squinting and opening them wide for 30 sec., straighten up. That's it! Do this exercise when no one can see you, people will not understand you... Do it sometimes and you will never have eye cancer. Look at Life with healthy and clean eyes...

Pancreatic cancer is the cancer of yogis, vegans, raw foodists, and other interesting esoteric people. The first cancer is from the category of expensive ones that I undertake without any restrictions that the brain cancer had. The "price" for pancreatic cancer is $10M. Expensive? My beautiful men and women experimenting with their health, I really like you. I'm not joking, I find you very attractive! People have built intricate spaces all over the planet, called them temples, filled them with various things, gave them an epic meaning, and go there not understanding why, not seeing the ground beneath their feet. But you shouldn't go anywhere, you carry your "temples" - your bodies with you, cleanse them, cherish them, develop them. I adore people like you! If I could "stop" cancer with a simple kiss, I would hug and kiss each one of you. But unfortunately, I cannot "stop" cancer with a kiss. I don't have that knowledge. And you don't have so much money. No matter how good I am to you, I only love those who love me... "a heart for a heart, a breath for a breath" - Do you remember? In case of pancreatic cancer, I am risking not only the life of my foreign guest, as usual, but also with my own health. Risking yourself for $1M for the sake of other people... you should understand. Modern medicine divides all types of cancers by the type of cancer cells, invents complex names for them, classifies them by cell division characteristics, etc. My head spins when I see medical treatises on oncological diseases. Reading such volumes of scientific literature can give you brain cancer itself. But what surprises me the most, the names, who comes up with them? A person dies of cancer without even learning how to correctly pronounce the name of his death? Is it normal? I have a completely different approach. The larger the organ affected by cancer and the closer it is to the body surface, the easier to "reach" it and make a "stop". The smaller the organ and the further it is from the surface inside the body, the more difficult to "reach" it. In fact, the only tool that can "reach" a small gland cancer is iTo streams. But cancer is not just stupid uncontrollably dividing cells; before spreading its metastases, firstly, it ruins the flow of iTo - its main opponent in the human body. And when it "takes them under its control", then it moves on to spreading itself in the tissues of other organs. In such cases, I have to either restore the flows of iTo of another organism (it's very difficult) or connect as a blood donor and give part of mine (it's easier), but it is a risky business and it becomes dangerous to me...

If you are dying of pancreatic cancer right now, you must perfectly understand that $10M is the absolute minimum. If I had no conscience, I could name a figure of $100M and $500M and even $1B. I won't do that because such action is called "extorting money from a person in a desperate situation." This is not fair. I can't do that. I have internal boundaries that I can't cross, if I do that, I'll stop being myself. $10M and let's ask some "uncomfortable" questions instead. I know you are very interested in "uncomfortable" questions. An example of such question from a reader of the $1000 brochure: "Can you show me the real people who have managed to go through iToFormation to the end, if I pay you this amount of money, I would like to see specific results of your work on another people, with whom the cancer is "stopped" and they are still alive?" Look at you in the mirror. Suppose you are a person who managed to pass iToFormation, I have "taken" you from Death for an "indefinite time". You continue to live, your family is happy, everyone is laughing and dancing... but they should be crying while looking at your motionless pale face lying in the coffin. Now think and say, would you like to be shown alive and happy to other candidates for the same happiness? Would you like to share your story with others? Look into your eyes in the mirror and answer. Answer yourself, not me. And I will answer you like this, my results = -2 people: grandma and dad. I won't tell you anything about others. Remember that I talked about questions I don't want to and won't answer. Here is an example of such question. Another question is: "If I pay you $10M, what guarantees will I have?" Under one agreement, if you die before a specific date, I will not be able to withdraw $10M from the account, your death is not beneficial to me. And here is another question that I do not want to answer right now, look above at the phrase "indefinite time". What does it mean and how should people understand it? But people should not understand it at all. Only those who have been admitted to iToFormation can ask such questions, it doesn't concern anyone else. One more "uncomfortable" question: "You described in such detail the first day of iToFormation in stopping liver cancer, can you also tell us about iToFormation for pancreatic cancer?" I can't. Why? I don't want to. I don't want modern medicine or any famous Nobel Prize laureates use my results, my discoveries in this field. I don't want to do it. I am not greedy for money, but greedy for knowledge. We have different approaches to understanding the reality of the human body and what lies beyond that reality...

Gentlemen, multimillionaires and billionaires hold on... others please leave me alone with them for two pages... He was smart, but he never understood what cancer was exactly. He was one of you. If he lived in Stavropol and knew me, maybe he would be eating apples... After many years experimenting with keeping his diet, Death "came" to him and asked: "Steve, you were given this body as a gift, but you did not appreciate the gift and started to break my laws..." He replied, "I am the ruler of the world of gadgets and I decide here what to violate and what not..." He completely did not understand who came to him and did not draw the necessary conclusions. We must admit that hardly one understands the moment in time when Death comes to them in the prime of their strength and health. People think wrongly that Death comes when a person starts to die... No, it happens in a different way. Death comes to you when you are not sick yet and full of strength and health, but have already crossed the line and violated its laws. Some time later, he was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer and instead of trying to understand why it happened, he started... the same thing as everyone else - fighting the cancer. Any deadly disease is a masterpiece of Death in killing your body. A cancer is a deadly creation! In this lies its beauty and grace. But people are people, and Steve, even though he was a ruler, was just as ordinary person as everyone else. None of the people want to understand Death or to figure it out, immerse themselves in its laws, feel its breath, look in its eyes. Nobody wants it! Everyone just dreams of how to defeat it and destroy it. Death comes to you to "talk", "embrace" you, "dance" with you, "kiss" you... And what do you do? You hate Death, you drive it away, you fear it, you destroy it with your "treatments". You want to defeat and destroy the most important and invincible enemy of humanity. So, how's that working out? Have you seen many of its winners? Steve tried to do the same thing. And he made a fatal mistake, he started operating on his cancer when the cancer had already taken control of iTo flows and became the "master" of Steve's body. We cannot operate on the "master" of the organism with iTo streams under its control. He trusted American doctors, for whom cancer is just silly malignant cells. David Agus is one of the best cancer specialists in the world, but he completely ignores the energetic properties of cancer cells. Did you want to know what the guarantees are? There is no phenomenon or event in your life that will happen to you with a 100% guarantee... except for one - your death!

When I solve my problem with apartment, I will have 3 options for my future life: continue dealing with petty "nonsense" for $1M per person, stop dealing with the "stopping cancer", leave, live quietly and peacefully... or to raise all prices by 10 or 100 times to weed out the majority of dying people and have only the most "elite foreign guests" - to have you, multimillionaires and billionaires. Now on 06/08/2024, I am considering more the second or third option. I am 46 and I understand perfectly well that I will not be enough for everyone, I will have to refuse and choose carefully... and I want to choose you. I would rather make a "stop" for $10M for one person than for ten people for $1M each, such a single "stop" of cancer will be of higher quality for you and easier for me physically. In general, if we are talking about money, I have a strange relationship with it. I have everything except for an apartment now. In essence, there is no big difference for me between $10M or $100M, I wouldn't know what to do even with $1M. I live a rather modest and quiet life, without excess, without unnecessary things. Russians have a special word for things and objects that can be done without - "barahlo" (stuff). I have never had a passion for collecting stuff like other people do. This doesn't mean that I am for poverty and against expensive and beautiful things, against comfort, luxury and other delights of a rich life. No, I'm all for it! It's all wonderful! I avoid people who don't have money. I avoid not only physically, but also in conversations... they are from a different world. I want to focus and choose you... not because of money, but because of your worldview, because of your outlook on life... because you are close to me in that life is a game for you, you also play it like I do... the difference is that you play in the financial field, and I play in the field of Death. We are very similar, our approaches to the game are similar. And in the future, I would like to communicate only with people who are pleasant and close to me in worldview, who understand risks like me and feel the rhythm and pulsation of life like me. I have a fantastic dream. Someday to open a private clinic for the richest, most influential, and most powerful people in the world somewhere in the heart of the Bavarian Alps (my favorite place on the planet). And although these are just fairy fantasies... perhaps meeting you will bring my fantasies closer to reality. I do not intend to share my knowledge with humanity and will only pass it on to my child, whom I do not have yet... and also there is no beloved woman who would give a baby to me...

-----

Thyroid cancer is a mystery to me. On 12/08/2024, I don't know the exact reason for its origin. Of course, I have guesses and theories, but I haven't tested them yet. First of all, you need to compare standard oncological treatment for any cancer with "stopping" cancer. I want you to see the difference. Look. You have cancer, for example the last stage, it doesn't matter what kind of cancer, just cancer and you are dying. You come to oncologists and say, "I have cancer, I'm dying, save me...". You are offered to conduct a bunch of analyses and researches to determine and develop a strategy for fighting your cancer. For instance, in Russia, from the moment you enter the oncologist's office, they immediately start lying to you - don't worry, we have modern medicine, nanotechnology (I often hear), everything will be fine. Well, this is Russia, that's the way things are done here. I know, for example, in Germany and the USA they always tell the patient how much time he has. You have to be tested through some examinations, the oncologists have developed a treatment strategy, what's next? Next, you are offered either to go to the clinic for surgery or undergo radiation, hormonal or chemotherapy. These methods can be added or combined with each other - this is the treatment strategy. I don't like the complexity which artificially created around deadly diseases. In my opinion, all modern oncology treatment comes down to two verbs: "cut out" and "poison". You can only "cut", you can only "poison", or you can "cut" and "poison" together. No matter what kind of person you are, what skills you have, how you feel about Death. For oncologists, it doesn't matter. They say you are sick, please sit down, lie down and rest, and we will treat you. Please note, in modern medicine you are a passive element. You are being cut and poisoned with poisons and toxins. For example, during chemotherapy, doctors prescribe a large group of drugs (they call them a "cocktail") which can slow down or stop cell growth. Know that "cocktail" targets fast-growing cells that divide and multiply. However, medications do not distinguish between healthy and cancerous cells. Many healthy cells in the body, such as bone marrow, the gastrointestinal tract or hair follicles can grow rapidly. Chemotherapy kills these cells: hair falls out, the immune system is destroyed, not to mention the streams of iTo. The goal of chemotherapy is to slow down the growth of cancer and prevent its spread to other parts of the body through metastasis. Also be aware that both radiation, hormonal and chemotherapy increase the risk of developing and progressing other cancers...

I call such "treatment" nothing but barbarism! But on the other hand, what else can oncologists do? Nothing! They were taught in such way by university lecturers and professors. They do what they were taught for years. They are not guilty. And now let's take a close look at medicines, not only at the medicines from the "cocktail", but at any drugs in general. For example, the simplest headache pill, visit pharmacies and buy the same medicine from different manufacturers. Just suppose, you bought 4 packs of pills from the following pharmacists: American, Polish, German and Indian. Make yourself a headache. Practice and only practice! Try one, then try another the next day until you get a headache - try another one and do this for 4 days, 4 times. I did it myself and you should try, don't just believe me, but do it yourself. Do you understand what I mean? They all have the same name, they are synthesized according to the same formula, they have the same technological synthesis process, etc. They are all the same, except for one thing... the effect! They all have different impact on your headache. You say, well, what's so surprising about that, it all depends on the quality of the manufacturer. Is that your answer? This is a bad response when it comes to your life from poisoning with unknown toxic drugs from a "cocktail". I will reveal a terrible secret to you - half of the deaths occurs after some time, as a result of such poisonous and toxic therapies due to... incorrectly composed "cocktail". But you are a passive, weak and trusting element. Therefore, such deaths are well deserved. Wake up from your passivity, awaken your personality, and stop believing (page 29). Take your health and life into your own hands. No one knows your body as well as you do. All the crap that doctors try to put into you - you don't need. All medications, hormones, enzymes and fluids are already inside you. Your body has the best pharmaceutical factory for producing unique substances, and it is called the "endocrine system". Moreover, all "medicines" are specially developed for you and have no contraindications or side effects. They are essential for your body. Take any pack with any medicine, open it, take out the leaflet, find the chapter "Contraindications". They exist in every medicine, even when they say there are no contraindications, don't believe it... they are! They just don't tell you about them. They are always there! Endocrine system products have no contraindications. None at all! But if you want to get these substances in your body, you need to be active, you need to be fierce, you need to be dangerous... you need to know how to roar!

And now see how "stopping" cancer differs from "cutting out" and "poisoning". The first thing is cancer in the last stage is never removed, it cannot be done for energetic reasons. The second one is no "cocktails", you can synthesize everything yourself with the help of the endocrine system inside you. "Stopping" is all about "activating" your internal pharmaceutical factory. Thirdly, no sitting, lying down and rest... forget this medical heresy! Activity, hyperactivity, extreme activity on the verge of losing consciousness and having a heart attack. The fourth one - you yourself, with your active actions can stop cancer, without fighting, without fear and without running away from Death. "Stopping" of cancer creates some kind of "dance" around it, when you begin to feel with every cell of your body what Death is without dying. And if She "likes" the "dance" you'll demonstrate, "embracing" and "spinning" Her, then She will not take you away and your cancer will simply "fall asleep". "Stopping" cancer is a new approach to the problem of deadly diseases. There were sections where I pleased you, but now I want to disappoint you. Thyroid cancer cannot be "stopped". You have deprived me of a tool that I always use, for example, to stop pancreatic cancer. Thyroid cancer destroys iTo ducts. If your cancer is at the stage where it can no longer be removed, then you are already a walking dead. The thing is, the thyroid gland, in addition to synthesizing hormones T3 and T4, is also responsible for important things for iToFormation such as T-cells of the immune system and the calorogenic effect, without which I cannot adjust iTo ducts. There are no iTo channels - there is no iToFormation - there is no "stopping" for cancer. You lost. Death. At the earliest stages of thyroid cancer many people remove part or all of their thyroid gland to prevent it from spreading to neighboring organs. After such operation, they become disabled for life, taking hormones during their whole life and keep a strict diet. By the way, there is another important difference between "treatment" and "stopping". Treatment temporarily saves life, making a person disabled, while "stopping" also temporarily preserves life, leaving the person completely healthy. Does "stopping" cancer in everything better than oncological "treatment"? In the case of thyroid cancer - no! The 'stopping' for you is closed and you must 'heal' your cancer, but not at the last, but at the first stages, when it has just started to develop. Sure, you will become disabled, due to such "treatment" you may develop other deadly diseases... but do you have a choice?

Prostate Cancer - 1

Women, please leave these pages... This is purely a male cancer - the cancer of "biological" slackers and idlers. The cancer of professional drivers, programmers, pot-bellied bosses and others who really love the comfort of a sedentary lifestyle. Remember, I said that blood cancer is the cancer of the future, I want to clarify, the cancer of the distant future. And prostate cancer is the cancer of the nearest future, just like breast cancer. However, prostate cancer only threatens the most advanced and civilized societies. Although in Russia, approximately 1/3 of all men over 40 years old have prostatitis in one form or another, despite such high rates, prostate cancer is a very rare disease. You really have to "try" to get it. I see men with prostatitis around me every day, but I have never seen a man with prostate cancer in person. I would like to meet such doomed person. I address this message to all men of the world; if there is a person among you with an advanced stage of prostate cancer who can come to Stavropol, then tell the girls on page 2 about it, I will choose... I offer you $1,000,000 in exchange for your leaking life. I want to conduct a series of experiments on you and "fill in the blanks" in my knowledge on this topic. We will draw up and sign a contract and your family will receive this amount of money after your death. Whether you die for no reason or financially help your loved ones, you can choose... Prostate cancer. Why is it a cancer of "biological" slackers? Who are they? I believe that by the middle of a man's life, around 40 years old, prostatitis usually begins... Every man should have his own beloved person: a man or a woman - it doesn't matter, but beloved. If you don't have one, by the age of 40 you should have at least some past experience with such person. Simply put, a man should not be a virgin by the age of 40, otherwise in this case, it is not prostatitis that needs to be treated, but a completely different organ, organ of thinking. And, as is known, it is not amenable to treatment - it is for lifetime. I will take the traditional model of relationships - a man and a woman. Do you have a woman? Undress her right now, take everything off... including the underwear too. Undress yourselves completely. Look at her and yourself. What do you see? Don't tell me about the reproductive organs. What else do you see? Look closely, what other differences? Hint is... look at the skeleton... At the structure of the skeleton... How do you differ? You differ... By the muscles! Examine her muscles and yours, touch her muscles and yours... touch every muscle! Do you see the difference?

Why do her muscles on her arms, legs, shoulders, back and stomach look one way, while yours look completely different? Why? If you have the same muscles as your woman and you don't see any differences, then stop reading the booklet and go to do your business... If you understand the differences between your male muscles and her female, then this is already an important step in understanding the problem. Why were you given such muscles? Muscles of such shape and structure? Just to sit around the clock in front of a monitor or behind the wheel of a car? To sit in a leather chair with heating and vibromassage made of high-altitude calf leather, which doesn't know the bite of mosquito? Have you been given muscles for such comfortable places. Do you understand what the vice is? She is a woman, her body, her muscles are created to sit at home, be the keeper of your hearth, be a paradise for your children. She can do that, and you can't! You can't sit on a chair and lie on the couch all day long. You must keep moving constantly, remember what I said about the "stopping" cancer and the role of an active element in it? Men, your life is a never-ending movement! You must constantly keep moving, the only time you should lie down and rest is during the sleep. You don't have time for rest. If you don't understand this, then prostatitis will be your best friend. But it would be fine if you just sat and lay, but you also stuff kilograms of different organics into yourself and drink them with buckets of liquids. Food and drink have become a sport for you with a quantitative system of prizes. Prostate cancer is directly related to your fertility. And this is already a disaster, I can say a tragedy! Prostate cancer destroys your sperm, not the sperm cells themselves, but the prostatic secretion - the nutrient fluid in which the sperm cells live and move. Disruption or loss of this nutrient liquid leads to the inability to ejaculate, you simply won't be able to do it. For this reason, you will be denied access to orgasm. And if you can't achieve orgasm - you are not suitable for iToFormation. Male orgasm is an internal fountain of iTo ducts. As for the external fountain, I hope you already know by the age of 40. The inability to precisely control the iTo ducts during iToFormation is the first hit. The second blow of prostate cancer is hitting your urethra. It either squeezes it at the best way, or at the worst - it grows through urethra walls, which you will immediately feel from the intense pain and blood in the urine. If you have problem with your stool, then you are also not allowed to iToFormation, I will explain this in the requirements...

Dangerous, harmless, forbidden, allowed, deadly, healing, bewitching, rejuvenating and even sexual... All these conflicting epithets can be applied to the most versatile of all cancers - bladder cancer. So why is it so special? Because he deals with the most special liquid in your body - urine. Each of you goes to the toilet and knows urine. But do you really know and understand what urine actually is? What knowledge does it conceal? When was the last time she ran through your fingers? When was the last time you deeply inhaled her scent, tilting your head back and closing your eyes? How long have you felt the bitter-salty taste on your lips? Ewww, how disgusting... you say. If you call the magical elixir created by your body "disgusting", then you don't need an extra life. The one that you are celebrating now is going from one joyful Birthday to another, is quite enough. Have you ever thought that every Birthday you celebrate is another year closer to your Death. Every joyous celebration... brings us closer and closer to another year... In the cemetery, the dead, turning into horror, the dead themselves stop feeling other horrors. What do you know about urine, besides disgust for it? Do you know that the strongest love spells in "romantic" witchcraft are based on urine? Did you know that urine can be used to rejuvenate and treat the skin, including some types of cancer? And of course, you should know for sure that you can start bladder cancer in another person and kill him using urine. It's a black magic. Kill any person whose food you have access to and no one will even know about it, and you won't get in trouble for it. For example, your best friend, husband, wife, or a mean boss at work. And all this is done using urine and bladder cancer. On page 26, I said that I would not be a competitor to wizards and witches. And promised "not to step" on their territory and "not to snatch" a piece of their pie. I will keep my promise and go on to do it... If you want to hurt someone badly and do something terrible, don't come to me, I don't do that. Find someone who is making good money or pretending to make good money. He also needs money. Pay up and they will help to "solve" the problem with the person bothering you. Bladder cancer is deadly at the final stage and completely harmless at the initial stages, at the final stage you are not allowed to undergo the iToFormation procedure due to urination problems, and at the early stages of cancer you are easily allowed. The price of the "stop" is standard - $1M. A person has two main indicators: blood and urine. Let me check you right now with the help of urine...

Find any transparent container, drink a large glass of plain water, and wait for the urge to go to the toilet. Fill the container with urine to a level of about 5 cm from the bottom of the container. Now look at the photo above. This is how the urine of a healthy person should look: clear, without sediment, without foam on top, color is light amber. Only like this! Now look at your urine and compare it to the standard. Is it clear? If yes it's great. Is there any sediment? If yes, your "filters" are clogged and not working properly, expect troubles. Was there foam when pouring into the vessel? If yes, your affairs are in a bad state. What color do you have? Yellow, bright yellow? Nothing to worry about, it will pass, you either haven't eaten for a long time or ate the wrong thing before the analysis. But if it "leans" towards brown, that won't just pass and your affairs are bad. Smell your urine, what does it smell like? If it smells like normal urea and protein breakdown products, then it is good, but if urine smells like the food you last ate, for example, smoked duck or fish, then it is also bad. Do not cover the container with a lid on top, as you do in hospitals when you're getting tested. Urine should have access to oxygen. Now place your container with urine in an open place somewhere dark for 24 hours, for example under your bed. During the day, sniff to see if there is any smell of urine in the room. If there is no smell in the room, then everything is fine with your excretory system. And if you smell it, it means accelerated protein breakdown and the release of corresponding gases, which should not happen - this is bad. It's been a day. Get the urine and bring it to the light. Hold it up to a light bulb or to the sun and carefully look at the middle of the liquid level. If you see gray cloudy flakes in the middle of your urine, then you are a normal person and everything is bad with you. But if you see not gray cloudy flakes, but white-gray twisted threads at the bottom of the vessel, which have formed over 24 hours, then now everything has become terrible for you. Trouble has already come to you, but has not informed you of her arrival yet. But what if a miracle happened and the urine in the vessel remained the same in composition as you placed it there 24 hours ago? What if this? And if it's like this, then I bow to you and respect you. You are amazing, you are smart, you consciously or intuitively understand the laws by which your body works, you live correctly and take care of the cleanliness of your "temple of fire". You are a living example to follow. I'm glad that there is someone like you living out there...

The weak spot of your teeth is the enamel, which can be easily damaged and then cavities develop at the site of the damage. The same goes for the urinary bladder, its walls are also a weak spot that can be easily damaged. But how can it be damaged if it is "closed" from all sides? The internal structure of the bladder walls is similar to the walls of the stomach, but while the walls of the stomach can be damaged by ulcers caused by "wrong" food, it is not possible to do so in the bladder because only urine enters it, which is a rather "safe" fluid for the body. There are several urological diseases that arise due to colds and infectious reasons, but all of them only inflame the mucous surface of the bladder walls. Cancer forms specifically in damaged walls. But how does it manage to break down the walls and let it in? It may be that you were born with thin walls of the bladder. Not every child is born with fully formed organs, it is normal, there is no pathology in this. Especially this concerns the reproductive and endocrine systems. They continue to develop during a person's life. This also applies to the urinary bladder. In some people, it "grows up" along with them and its walls become ordinary, standard, while in others it remains the same as it was at birth, with thin walls. And what do you think can be done with such thin walls? That's right, they can be damaged by poisons and toxins that may contain in your "safe" urine. And if you are an ordinary person and eat, as they say, "everything that lies under your feet," then toxins and poisons in the urine will be excessive. Your mother used to tell you in childhood: "My dear daughter/son, if you need to go to the toilet, you shouldn't hold it, it's so harmless." Were you given such advice? Your mother was right. If you endure and do not go to the bathroom right away, then toxic urine in your bladder begins to slowly eat away at the walls. This is how cancer develops. Have you understood how black magic works in triggering bladder cancer in a person you dislike? But what you should do if you want to kill a person who has a healthy lifestyle, healthy urine and goes to the toilet on time. He needs "help". Special witchcraft potions are created for this purpose and added to the food, reacting with stomach acid, they turn into special poisons that do not kill the victim, like regular poisons, but make his urine extremely toxic. Urine is already performing black magic on its own. I won't tell you the ingredients. For such concoctions, I send you to professionals - witches. Pay them generously and then you will be able to influence the lives of the people you hate...

On pages 12 & 26 I told you that I have an extremely negative attitude towards dark personalities because my mother used to take me to them in childhood, trying to cure my stuttering. They really got on my nerves by taking money from my mom for my treatment. And now I'm saying that I will keep my promise and send you to them for the recipes. How should you understand this? Why am I contradicting myself? In childhood, my mother took me to idiots and charlatans who had nothing to do with magic and sorcery. In my entire life, I have only met one person who was truly serious about practicing witchcraft. She has had a big impact on my life, on my attitude towards women, towards the scents and liquids of the female body. I miss her... I will dedicate a separate section to her, where I will show how an encounter in the church turned my life upside down. So, I have a great attitude towards people who are "not for this world", and I sympathize with them a lot, but only if they are really and seriously engaged in strange things without "showing off" and theatrical performances, and just for the sake of self-knowledge. I would really like to have among my friends not only multimillionaires and billionaires, but also real witches and warlocks. Worldview! Your taste for life! Share with me the insatiable hunger for "transcendent" knowledge, and I will share with you all the material goods I have. Satisfy my hunger by helping me or collaborating with me. Come to me and breathe together with me! I will return to the magic of love. How to drive the desired object crazy with urine? How to make them want you as if you were a piece of juicy and delicious meat! Watch an amazing movie - "Perfume: The Story of a Murderer" by Tom Tykwer. At the end of the movie, the main character obtains the final component and creates Ingrubi - the scent of love. Notice, you don't have to drink it. This is perfume! Of course, this is fictional cinema and in reality no one needs to kill anyone. Approximately 300 years ago, if, for example, a woman wanted to seduce a man, she would go to a witch and order ingrubi. The witch took her urine sample and selected a diet based on it, the woman had to "keep it" for a month. This diet included not only fruits, herbs, and roots... maybe even seeds or nuts for protein balance, I don't know the exact recipe. The woman fasted on such food for a month and then received urine, which she applied to the lobes of her ears and went to the desired man. He felt her perfect smell, went crazy, wanted her around the clock and through his passion she began to control him like a slave... Go to the witches, pay, order ingrubi and seduce...

In the previous section, I touched on magic and sorcery, where I briefly told you how they "work" in real life without fairy tales. As for me, looking at this photo, magic is where one life gives particles of its flesh to give growth and continuation to another life. I am enchanted by the beauty of a breastfeeding woman. Isn't it magic? Men, don't leave, stay here. I insist you should stay and listen carefully. Breast cancer is the "easiest" in terms of treatment duration, ranking second after skin cancer and is the most relevant and important cancer for any woman. In short, breast cancer is the female Mega Cancer! I can foresee the obvious development of events for European and American women aged 18 to 38 - the most suitable age for conception. By the end of the 21st century and the beginning of the 22nd, general oncology centers will be separated into oncology centers for the treatment of breast cancer because it will become cancer number one. You won't live to see it, but your daughters may, while your granddaughters and great-granddaughters will visit them regularly, like going to work. This is the future that awaits women in developed countries. And despite the fact that this cancer is "the easiest", I don't take this cancer. It's not profitable for me. What a dirtbag! What a scoundrel, you might think. Always talking about some personal gain, millions, billionaires, want his personal clinic in the Alps. What shameless audacity one must have to want so much? What a calculating, greedy and arrogant person! Do you want to add more offensive adjectives to my description? I understand you... and I am not offended. It will be difficult for you to offend me. Offense arises at the moment of not meeting one's expectations. You get upset when you don't get what you're already waiting for. But will there be offense if you don't expect anything? Call me what you want and think what you want about me - I won't get upset - because I don't expect anything from you. For example, in kindergarten and the first grades of school, children called me "stutterer". But even then, being still a child, I understood that my best "defense" against people is to never expect anything from them. I admire and bow down to the structure and functioning of the female body. If I needed a God, I would without any hesitation choose a Woman for that role! I don't only want to live in the Alps, but I also want millions of women around the world not to have breast cancer. And now a calculating, greedy, and shameless person, i.e. me - will tell you that any woman with hands, can "cure" her breast cancer at home. The price of the "treatment" is $0.

There are some types of interesting people who will remember every word or phrase I say and then "present" them to me as evidence of my mistakes and contradictions. I want to respond to such people. My whole life is full of mistakes and contradictions, I constantly contradict myself and make mistakes because I am not standing still, but developing further and learning something new, which forces me to constantly re-evaluate my views and methods. Another real reason for the contradictions lies in the structure of human language, which I clearly feel and understand inside myself, it is difficult for me to explain to you, so I can express my thoughts in different words and from different points of view and if we start comparing two points of view on the same expression will always result inconsistencies in the terminology and images that arise in your mind. Sorry, I can't do anything about it. Please read page 49 again, where I explain in detail the reason for the errors and contradictions of human language. Therefore, "catching" me on my own words is very easy. Catch and present, I will only be grateful to you, this will help me change, improve and find more suitable words to explain my knowledge and practices. This way there will be more benefits for both me as a source of knowledge and for you as a recipient of this knowledge. For example, a contradiction has arisen now - I said that I do not treat cancer, but "stop" it. And now I am going to tell you how to cure breast cancer? Contradiction? Yes. Caught in the act? Yes. If you enjoy this awareness, if you enjoy reading the brochure, then for me and my assistants your "enjoyment" will mean that our efforts were not in vain and we managed to bring you "pleasure." But, there is always a small "but". If you think about it, telling how to "treat" and actually "curing" are not the same thing. The question arises, if this cancer is so "easy" to cure, then why isn't it beneficial to me? $1M in exchange for the simplicity of conducting iToFormation, what could be easier? Besides, as a man, it should be pleasant for me to touch a woman's breast. I should, on the contrary, strive and attract women with such cancer. Do you think so? What you call excitement on the outside looks like the movement of iTo streams through erogenous zones inside the body, which, like bio-magnets attract, gather and direct them down to the intimate area. I "gather" them in her breast, but the woman gets excited from my touches and most of iTo flows down like a waterfall into the area of her hips. I can't hold them inside her breast. And everything is going to hell...

The second issue lies in the duration... without iTo streams, this procedure can no longer be called iToFormation... time of "healing". Due to my inability to control the iTo ducts of a woman when she is aroused, I have only 3 tools: physical exercises, nutrition and "dance" with the psyche. The last one is immediately ruled out due to the non-lethality of breast cancer and there is nothing to dance here. There are 2 left: exercise and food. Only two "healing" tools prolong the procedure over time. By my calculations, it can last up to 1 year. "Up to" does not mean 1 year, it can be less, depending on the stage of breast cancer, the capabilities of the woman's body and other various reasons. Can you imagine what it means to touch, massage and squeeze someone else's female breast for a year and almost every day? Plus, strict nutrition, plus regular 3-day "dry" fasts - the most difficult of all fasts. I can no longer be called a young man, and even though my body still allows me to endure the rigors of ascetic events, but my psyche is already resisting participating in such annual "marathons." If only I loved you as a woman, then everything would be easy and pleasant. But I don't love you, you are a stranger to me. And I can't spend a whole year on a woman who is a stranger to me. In a year, I can make up to 6 "stops" of other deadly diseases. In other words, like with brain cancer, the problem lies within me. You are not to blame - it's just the way your perfect female body is designed. It will get excited by my touch and you won't be able to do anything about it and I can't do anything about "naughty" and "excited" iTo streams. Sorry, I can't do it this way... But don't be upset, wipe away your tears, it's still too early... I will tell you how to do it yourself without me. If you have a husband, boyfriend or lover, it will be much easier for you. Before we move on to answering the question "how to treat it?", let's first see what modern medicine says about the causes of breast cancer. I think it is important for you to understand firstly why medicine leads to such causes of occurrence. If you have breast cancer, your doctor is an oncologist-mammologist. Anyway, You should visit him, go and demand he tell you the reasons of your cancer appearance. Don't be afraid to ask him uncomfortable questions, you already pay him, so let him work and answer. Usually, he doesn't like to mention the reasons because he doesn't know himself, what they are completely: genetics, age, radiation, obesity, smoking, alcohol, breast density, late childbirth, lack of childbirth, lack of breastfeeding and breast trauma...

Genetics in medicine is like quantum physics in physics. Everyone talks about it, but no one understands it. Talking about genetics and genes has become a sign of education and trend among doctors. If you are discussing genes, then you automatically "rise" in the eyes of other specialists. Well, it's like if you've heard of Christian Louboutin and now consider yourself as an expert in the world of fashionable footwear. I don't want to talk about mutations in the BRCA1 and BRCA2 genes that supposedly lead to breast cancer. This is a complex topic, and who am I to show off here? Maybe they do lead to it, I don't know... I look at it from a completely different angle. I have a different approach. If I know how to avoid mutations in genes, then why should I delve into the intricacies of genetic engineering and deal with DNA breaks? I know for sure only about leukemia, which is inherited genetically, I do not have such certainty about breast cancer and my practice and reflections do not confirm this fact. I am categorically against women having mastectomies and becoming ugly cripples because their mother or grandmother had breast cancer and now supposedly passed it on to them through genes. Knowing how to avoid mutations, for me mastectomy is vicious surgery and complete nonsense. I feel sorry for you, women who decide on this crazy act. Another procedure is lumpectomy, I recommend this procedure to everyone and here I am on the side of your oncologist-mammologist. Sure, the breast after it will become "unattractive" and you will have to do reconstructive surgery later, but you will have fully functional mammary glands and you will not be disabled. Lumpectomy will be easier for you to undergo both physically and emotionally than my "treatment". Age and obesity. Can you name a single disease, any disease, that is not affected by your age or obesity? I can't. Age and obesity not only affect breast cancer, but everything in your body. Radiation. Here is meant the influence of sun tanning or tanning beds on your delicate nipple tissues. You need to tan very, very "strongly" to achieve it. You will get a full-body burn faster than your nipples will undergo mutations of cancer cells. Smoking. I was talking about it in the part with lung cancer. Nicotine affects blood, lymph composition and breathing a little due to the coating on the lungs. Smoking has nothing to do with breast cancer. Alcohol. Honestly, I don't know, I haven't tested it on myself. The smell and taste of alcohol is unpleasant to me. The density of the gland, late birth, absence of childbirth, absence of breastfeeding, gland injuries - all of this is true...

I don't like so many reasons, they distract attention and divert from the origin of the problem. Is there a way to gather these reasons together and call them in two words? You can think of it as "blood stagnation." The reason for your breast cancer is precisely the "blood stagnation." An analogy can be drawn with bodies of water where there is no water renewal or flow, the water there "stagnates" and starts to deteriorate. The same thing happens with your breasts not only on a physiological level, but also on an energetic level. You can say, but how is it possible, I am constantly on the move, I cannot have any "stagnation". Ignorance of the laws of the female body does not release you from responsibility. Your "blood clot" is fed by three "dishes": a brassiere, absence of childbirth, lack of love. Let's taste these "dishes". In general, a brassiere or a bra for short is the devil in the details. The bra was invented to prevent the chest from sagging. Throughout history, sagging breasts have been considered a sign of poverty and lack of intelligence and physical health. Such type of breast was mainly found in commoners, peasants and women who didn't want to take care of themselves. The sagging bust immediately indicated the woman's status. There is a myth that Marilyn Monroe's secret of her firm breasts was sleeping in a bra. This is not true, she was found dead and nude. The secret of her amazing firm breasts is in genetics. She was born that way and there's no need to envy her. Speaking from personal experience, I can say that choosing the right bra is a whole science. And I am more than sure that you are currently wearing the wrong bra. I recommend you try a service called Bra Fitting. Do it at least once in your life and see the way, how an experienced Bra Fitter works with your breasts. I beg you, please do it! And you will see the difference in how you choose bras for yourself and how it should be done correctly. When a bra is selected for you, do not rush... add one size to it, i.e. if you have a C cup, take D. Your "blood stagnation" in the chest is caused by the low mobility of the chest during movement due to the bra. A bra with +1 cup size provides freedom of movement, allowing it to sway more easily from side to side when you're walking or running. The bra material is only 100% cotton or lace, so that the nipples can breathe through the mesh. You don't need any other materials. If +1 is not convenient and comfortable for you, then just give up wearing a bra altogether. Don't worry, your nipples will not become rougher from friction with outer clothing if someone regularly caresses them....

For a woman, the topic of breast size and its firmness is extremely important, I would say even egocentric. I have seen women for whom the beauty of the breast was a top priority. Therefore, I simply must explain what a man thinks and feels when looking at your chest. Again, I will take the traditional model of relationships: man + woman. Every woman wants a man to think, be interested, reflect, fantasize and worry about her. But "getting into" his brain directly is not something you can achieve. A man is not as developed creature as a woman, and unlike a woman, a man has only one erogenous zone - the lower abdomen. It exactly matches his intimate area. For this reason, the male brain is unable to focus on one woman for a long time and remains in a constant state of "switching women". If you only influence his brain, he will quickly forget you, not because he is bad, but because that is his anatomy. To capture his thoughts, you need to "rent" a place in one of his two organs. The first one is located in the intimate area, the second organ - the heart, is located in the spiritual area. In order to become important to him, you need to "register" in his spiritual or intimate zone. You cannot be both there and there. Most women make this mistake in relationships with men. That is why there are so many "broken hearts", "unrequited love", "amorous sufferings", etc. But it doesn't mean that if you manage to get into his heart, then you will have a boring intimate life. No! It will be of a different quality, of a different nature. Your intimate relationships will go through his heart, not through the lower part of his abdomen. So the first thing you should do is choose through which organ or which zone you want to enter his life, his thoughts. The younger the woman is, the more she influences him through the intimate area, and the older and wiser she becomes, the more she desires family, comfort and a cozy space in the house and in his heart. When you're making such choice, it is very important to maintain and calculate the balance of your age forces in order not to end up as an unwanted "queen" to anyone. If you want to master a man's life through his intimate area, then of course you need to improve your breast in terms of its firmness and size increase. Such women always easily "bypass" other hunters for his consciousness. But you should know that men look at your enhanced chest with their eyes, but see it with a completely different organ. The thing is, when you "rent" a place for yourself in his intimate zone, the man divides you into parts and places them in different sequences into his only erogenous zone...

A male brain divides a woman like at the butcher's table: breast, legs, back, buttocks, neck, etc. If you like his eyes and how he looks at you, don't deceive yourself, you are divided into parts and he is no longer looking at you with his eyes. Another thing is when a man reserves a place for you in his heart. A man's heart is designed in such a way that it cannot contain only your chest or only your legs. It either engulfs a woman completely or rejects her. If you have been able to "rent" the inner space in his heart, know that fact, his heart cannot divide you into parts, he becomes absolutely indifferent to the size of your chest and the shape of your legs! If you are part of his heart, he perceives you as a whole, as his only one, invaluable and irreplaceable. A man will no longer be able to replace your chest with the chest of another woman, even if it is younger and more beautiful than yours. It is impossible to do, his heart will not allow it. If he even tries to do it, he will immediately feel a painful emptiness inside himself, and this state is like a deadly disease for a man. So, you must choose for yourself who you want to be for a man. Divided into parts or as a whole. These are different approaches and you will have different life with its own strengths and weaknesses. If you choose the first option, your life will be full of passions, emotions, experiences, adventures, and of course betrayals and disappointments. If you have terminal cancer and you are dying, I would recommend you to choose this option so that the rest of your life is bright and vivid. The second option is not as emotional and exciting and choosing it you will not "burn yourself out". Here he will develop feelings previously unknown to him, such as compassion, caring for your health, interest in your problems, a desire not to sleep with you, but you always sleep nearby him. This option is more calm and balanced, without the stresses and adventures that are characteristic of a man's intimate area. If you want to turn your life into a dazzling flash and have chosen to be broken into parts, keep in mind that male brain will constantly compare your charms with the charms of other women. And no matter what you do with yourself, no matter how you take care of yourself, new girls and new temptations are born every day, and you will be constantly compared with them until the appropriate moment of your replacement with fresher young flesh comes. Your individual parts have the property of aging, but the inseparable part of his heart, i.e. when you are whole, never ages! This is the big difference between the intimate and spiritual zones. Choose...

With the development of progress, technologies and personal comfort, women in modern and developed countries are having fewer and fewer children every year. Thus losing and forgetting the main function of the female breast - feeding the child. For modern women, the breast loses its biological value. The absence of childbirth not only deprives you of continuing your lineage and family, but also it's a cause of breast cancer. What does a baby do when you breastfeed him? He does a very useful massage for blood circulation with lips on the nipple and hands on the chest, and the breast itself reacts to the process of feeding and hugging, constantly expanding and contracting like a pump, plus milk production. All these amazing processes together make your chest work like a separate organism. The world is constantly changing and now women don't want to give birth as it was, for instance 100 years ago. It is their full right, ok, fine, there must be another way to avoid "blood stagnation" in their chest. Have a lot of fleshly love. If your breast is not touched by a child, then someone else should take care of it - a man or yourself. Therefore, I said that any woman can "heal" her cancer if she has hands. The point is your chest should be constantly subjected to pleasant physical influences, so that there is a constant influx and outflow of blood to the mammary glands through the fatty layers inside the chest. Your breast should be constantly touched by someone, this is its second main biological function - to be touching! By the way, important question is what kind of breast is considered "ideal" for touching of your man? It's simple, chest should fit into his palm. If you have a big man over 2 meters tall, with big hands, then your chest should not be small too. And if you are Thumbelina, then find a man with a small palm that fits your chest. Your man, whether he wants to do it or not... he must, he is obliged to touch you. Touch, massage, squeeze, bite your breasts along and across. You need a constant supply of fresh blood flowing to the mammary glands. You should command your partner to do it with you. You don't have to dominate him every day, he won't last that long, 2-3 times a week is enough. The next cause of breast cancer is breast density, it does not occur on its own, but usually due to trauma. But still, this is once again a "blood stasis", because new cells form and grow at the injury - the body's protective self-healing property. If self-repair occurs with failures, then the cells themselves continue to divide further, which causes breast cancer. Take care of your breasts and don't injure them...

Before we get to the most interesting and important part for you, I must make a disclaimer. Everything I describe further is extremely dangerous to your health and life. My experiments can cure you or they can cripple or kill you if you do something wrong. Therefore, it is better not to do this alone, but together with your man, so that if something can happen... he can call an ambulance and try to save you. If you die, it means you didn't understand me. I sincerely wish you to cure your cancer, love your body, and find someone who will need you and only you... Firstly, your tumor should have already grown and be at a stage where it can be felt with your fingers. You can feel the tumor, but if you are uncomfortable doing it, ask your partner. Secondly, you should take a clear picture of your breast lump that is understandable to you, not to doctors. Because besides a malignant tumor, there may be other formations in your breast, such as a cyst. And you must be absolutely sure, looking at the picture, that you are touching a cancerous tumor and not something else. Thirdly, find all possible information about "dry" fasting on the internet, especially, how to "exit" it with the help of juices and fruits. Practice with fasting several times for 1 day. Try to feel how "dry" fasting affects your organism. This is very important because incorrect using of "dry" fasting can cripple you or even cause stomach cancer. In short, find out everything about it from books and then try it and correct it to suit your reactions and your body. I indicated that you will need 3-day "dry" fasting, it's only for skinny, lean, light and weak people. If you have an average body, trained muscles and strong bones, you will need 5 days of "dry" fasting. And if you suffer from obesity, excess weight and have a wide bone structure, you will need 7 days of "dry" fasting. During such type of hunger, you can moisten your lips so they don't crack, but you can't drink for fear of death penalty! I won't execute you, but breast cancer will. And the last one, fourthly - don't rush, do everything slowly. Breast cancer is not lung cancer, which requires quick action. Do everything as if you are a "brake", sloooowly! From the outside, it may seem like you have something wrong with your head and that you are a complete idiot. But if you want to live, you must play by the rules of the "other" world, not yours. If you have an experience in meditation, then you probably understand what I mean. Don't rush with breast cancer, Death will wait while you're training. "Dry" fasting is the first tool...

The second tool is food. Remove all products containing flour from your diet. It presents in half of your products. Forget about potatoes and all porridges. Cereals in general - All types of cereals! Remove from your diet products containing sugar, except for fruits and berries. If you have a "sugar crash", just eat a teaspoon of honey, no more. And do not swallow or wolf down honey right now, but taste it in your mouth. Don't buy anything in supermarkets and don't eat anything that has already been prepared by human hands. Buy products only in a raw form and cook at home yourself. No cafes or restaurants. Your main food is any meat cooked on the grill or baked in the oven + various types of vegetables and greens. The point is not to be hungry between "dry" fasts. You only fast during fasting, and should be fully energized and strong outside of fasting. Remember, there is no rush! Start the first day with a "dry" fasting. It's been a day, you've weakened a bit. Imagine your tumor as a pus sack that you need to squeeze out. Your chest needs to be "warmed up" with training. Go to any fitness club and ask what you should do to "warm up" the chest muscles with exercises. Warm up. Feel the lump with your fingers and slowly press... stop for a minute, hold the pressure... push further, stop for a minute... endure the pain... and now push with all your willpower until you can no longer hold back the scream of pain... you have reached the limit of your pain endurance... stop pushing. You have just injured your tumor, causing internal bleeding to cancer cells. After such damage, cancer will stop dividing its cells and start to "heal" them. You are currently on the second day of "dry" fasting. Cancer needs the strength for the "treatment", which is taken by "dry" fasting. When squeezing "pus" out of a tumor, some cancer cells may enter the bloodstream due to bleeding and metastasize in other organs through the blood. And this is where the osmosis of "dry" fasting is needed, which will save you from the spread of cancer. Passed 3, 5, 7 days of "dry" fasting, come out of it, meat + other food. Cancer could not "cure" itself immediately, and now it's too late... Gain strength, when the pain in your chest subsides - a few days, return to the starting point. Within a year, your cancer from such "torture" will be dying until it disappears completely. He will be defeated by your immune system and eliminated from the body through the blood in the usual way through the excretory system. Endure and you will be rewarded for your patience! That's it, you no longer have cancer, you are healthy! Run to your loved one, kiss and enjoy your life!

I know you can't wait to move on to a detailed description of the iToFormation requirements to find out more about what iTo is and whether you are suitable for the procedure or not. Please endure 6 (without this) sections more. A careful reader will notice that 6 sections won't be enough to describe all the remaining cancers. You are right, there are still quite a few small and non-lethal cancers left, which I won't deal with because they are all treatable and cost less than $1M. I want to ask readers, who do not have cancer, are you not tired of reading about deadly diseases yet? Why are you reading this brochure if you don't have cancer? And there are a lot of such readers. Why do you waste your time on me if you don't need me? Go and make love better. Would you like me to tell you why you continue to read the brochure even if you don't have cancer? You want to know the "secret" of how to possess power and control other people. Am I right? By knowing this "secret", you will be able to stand out and rise above the other "mortals". The feeling of superiority over others has been one of the most desired feelings of human beings throughout all times. And for the right to possess such a feeling, great empires were destroyed and entire nations were exterminated. But how can I tell you the "secret" that doesn't exist? iToFormation isn't a divine miracle given from the heaven, but it's dangerous, psychologically exhausting and heavy and quite material physiological procedure, using the functions and capabilities of your body that are ignored or poorly studied by official medicine. In the pages of the brochure, I spoke about my helpers: gut microorganisms, the immune system, the endocrine system, the nervous system and of course, iTo ducts. And they are in each of you, in everyone! The only difference is that I know what to do with them, and you don't. There are no other fundamental differences between us. If I can go through the iToFormation suffering, so can you. If you really want to live. Ladies and gentlemen, this section is specifically for those who don't have cancer and who want to learn the "secret" of power over other people... Hemophilia and Lymphoma are not fatal diseases, but they can ruin your life worse than cancer. On 12/09/2024, I don't know how to cure them. I have lack of knowledge and completely lack of practice. Lymphoma "disables" my main assistant - the immune system. Without it, I am like a surgeon without a scalpel. You know how I feel about chemotherapy, but this is the one case, I recommend it to you. Yes, it may make you feel even worse, but what else do you have left to do - take a risk!

Here we are, fateful colleague. If you, Grisha, didn't show your eyes and hid them like all of us, then your secret would have remained as a secret forever. But you showed your eyes. I hope your descendants will forgive me... If you cannot control the iTo ducts inside yourself, then they begin to control you. This is Grisha's tragedy... Grisha possessed the forgotten tantric technique of "recharging" - aragashe. In our time, tantra has lost its former value and has turned into a trendy sexual mockery of person's intimate zone. I think Grisha called himself this meaning like aragashe or "gift from God" or didn't call it anything at all. He just knew how to use it correctly. In the Western world the forgotten Indian technique of "recharging" from another person is called "energy vampirism". Do you have a smartphone? Do you use a PowerBank to charge it? Grisha was like this kind of PowerBank. He "charged up" from women whom he allegedly cured of women's diseases. Because of the excessive amount of Grisha's iTo "charging" looked like rough animal sex with pressing hands in certain places of the female body. Sex with one condition - you cannot lose your semen, you cannot ejaculate. Only in this way you can "suck" women's iTo during coitus and charge yourself. Aragashe is a dangerous technique for even the PowerBank itself, because due to frequent sex without orgasm, the excess of iTo in the streams "tears apart" the body from the inside out. This is a serious energy load on the heart, brain and blood vessels. Unlike men, women have a protective mechanism to transfer iTo to another body. I think this protective function is somehow related to fertility, to protect the child from iTo "exhaustion". Men don't have that, and they can lose iTo at all and die. Since one woman cannot "take" a lot of iTo, Grisha needed many women for "charging". When you "suck" only one woman, it's not a problem, her iTo "get along" with yours. But when there are many such women, their iTo inside the man start conflicting with each other, which leads to degradation and wear and tear the male body. For this reason, the more sexual partners you have, the faster your body ages. Overstimulation in the women iTo ducts incredibly increases metabolism, which manifests in a wild animal hunger. Read the essays of his contemporaries about how Grisha ate. Then, "charged up", he would come to Tsarevich Alexey, pray to divert attention, and then run his "charged" fingers along Alexey's body in the opposite direction of the bleeding, easily stopping it until the next time. Here is the first "secret" of power over the people...

How great it is that you can live now, knowing that humanity has only nuclear weapons and no tectonic or atmospheric ones. Application of the first one you can see on page 24, and the second on pages 18 and 19. I will tell you only about the "whip of nations" - that's how the beautiful Latin word "sumracus" is translated - an atmospheric weapon widely used once in the Mediterranean region of the planet. A person never changes in their wishes, only the decorations around them can change over the centuries, but the desires remain the same. This is normal, this is "human nature". Therefore, peace to huts, war to palaces! If Erwin, sent by Adolf to Africa, had found sumracus for the Reich, then Adolf would not have had to send an expedition for vengeance weapons to Tibet. Sumracus would have won Stalingrad. WW2 would have ended completely differently and the world you know now would have been different too. But Wüstenfuchs "let down" the Führer and did not cope with his task. The modern world you live in is striving for miniaturization of its technologies. All machinery and electronics, including military, are constantly becoming smaller and more compact. Look at your smartphone, 50 years ago huge computers didn't even dreamed of its capabilities. But it was not always like this, there were periods in the history of mankind when progress moved in the opposite direction, towards megatization. And weapons of mass destruction also corresponded to the trends of ancient progress. For example, if a medium-powered nuclear bomb were dropped in the center of Paris now, approximately half of the city would be destroyed and no more than a million people would die, i.e. a large part of the population would survive, although somebody will die later from radiation sickness. But still, if we consider Parisians as a separate French people, the people will survive and continue their kind after a nuclear catastrophe. And if we "hit" Paris with sumracus with a green component for Lymphoma right now, the whole city and the Eiffel Tower will remain invulnerable, but very few people will survive just who manage to escape from under the "cloud" of atmospheric weapons. The Parisians as nation will be destroyed. The biblical story of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah is interesting, where a fraction of sulfur powder was used to "burn" the lungs. I think the reason of the destruction was not in the sins of their inhabitants at all, for the entire ancient world, people lived like them and there were no sins in that... Sumracus is a stunning sight, but Lot's wife should have run faster, rather than turning back and admiring the beauty of inevitable Death...

In fairness and calm weather over the city, a huge volume of fine-dispersed powder, prepared by alchemists, was dispersed. There were several kinds of powders, after activation they differed in colors. The powder contained some super lightweight conductive metal - this was one fraction, the second fraction was alchemical and "turned off" the human immune system by entering the respiratory tract and the third fraction of the powder was the link between the first and the second. The cloud was hanging high above the city and needed to be activated. There were two people, I'll call them UpMan and DownMan. UpMan was inside the aircraft above the cloud, he had some device. DownMan was a saboteur infiltrating the city, he also had some kind of device, and it was quite heavy. He carried it on his back in a bag to avoid attracting attention. He tried to "blend in" with the crowd of working lower classes. For capturing DownMan, they were given a royal reward with a bunch of privileges. The person who caught DownMan became a national hero and sat at the same table next to the king. If he was caught, they executed him very long and painfully in front of the whole people. These people were prepared very well, because they were caught rarely. When the cloud was hanging over the city in its deactivated form, it looked like ordinary clouds and did not attract attention. DownMan chose the correct position in relation to UpMan to activate sumracus, signaling him with the help of a system of mirror lenses. UpMan was doing something with the device at the top, while DownMan was doing something with the device at the bottom. Due to their joint action, a potential difference was created between their devices and the difference was such monstrous force that it struck a pinpoint lightning bolt into DownMan's device, piercing the cloud hanging over the city. The atmospheric pressure activated the ultra-light metal in powder, it reacted with the "binder", the cloud became heavier, its color slowly changed, in our case to green, and the gradually greening cloud descended on the city. When people noticed it, they knew perfectly what awaited them next. They threw everything away and ran in a panic to the outskirts of the city, trampling children, elderly people, and cripples under their feet. They usually had just over 10 minutes. Hiding in the basements made no sense. People didn't visit such towns for a couple of years until they were washed by the rains and blown by the winds. Those who did not manage to escape, did not die immediately, but fell ill with a genetic form of Lymphoma. And here is the second "secret" of power over people...

Ladies, please proceed to the next section... The first thought that comes to my mind when I hear about cancer of the male organ is to take a leather whip or even better medieval birch rods, tie you to a pole and flog you so that you couldn't sit or lie down for a week. Only through acute pain you can understand, in this case, not dear sirs, that you need to protect and take care of your intimate area, just like most women do. Any reasonably educated man knows about the monthly and daily features of the female body and has heard something about feminine hygiene. I am very surprised by the fact that everyone knows about female hygiene, but almost no men know that there is also male hygiene. Why do we need to know? The doctors told us that we, men, are not to blame for anything, it's all the mischief of viruses. In general, doctors have a kind of "scapegoat" that can be blamed for all sins - viruses. Remember I talked about the difference in approaches in medicine for "treatment" and in my case for "stopping". Passive element against active. If you are passive, then, of course, you are not guilty of anything. Unhappy viruses are blamed for everything, in this case HPV (Human PapillomaVirus). But if you want to be an active element who controls your personal health and your life, then viruses have nothing to do with it. Don't blame the "poor" viruses. It's all YOUR fault! And only YOURS! Does this wording bother you? That's good already, because it might finally make you think about proper hygiene care for your organ. Why do I call this part of the male body just simply the "organ"? Because I don't like the names by which it is called in both Russian and English languages. I don't like them! Neither colloquial nor medical! There is no respect, no beauty, no admiration and no health and strength in these names. In ancient times, people worshipped it and treated this amazing organ with awe and reverence. Right now he is debased in thoughts, transformed into insults and mocked with primitive humor. The only decent word that looks at me from the depths of the ages is Phallus. I like this word, I feel the power in it, see beauty, touch health... But what does it have to do with you if you have cancer of the organ? None! Men, if you have cancer of the organ, then you don't have a Phallus. It just isn't there! Phallus is not about you. If you have cancer of the organ, that's why you are left with exactly what is defiled, insulted and ridiculed. If blood cancer is my favorite type of cancer, then cancer of this organ is my least favorite cancer. And as you may have guessed, you don't need to come to me with this stupid disease...

Men's hygiene is simple to the point of indecency. Vegans and raw foodists have a different composition of urine and it does not affect you. After each visit to the toilet, you need to wash your organ, I mean not the whole organ to the base, but only its extreme part. Attention, if you have a "short frenulum", then you need thoroughly wash it from different sides. This is the very place where the "scapegoat" grazes so beloved by all doctors. Go to the toilet, wash yourself right away either in the bidet or in the shower. This habit should be developed to the point of automatism like breathing. If you are somewhere in public, in a public place, traveling, etc. There is such a cool invention as "regular wet wipes" or "for intimate hygiene". They come in packs of 10 items or even less. Very convenient and almost unnoticeable in any pocket of men's trousers. You don't need to carry a bag for them, as women do. If I scold you now and say that you shouldn't sleep with women you don't love, you will smile and tell me to go away. For such "smiley" men there will be a whole section - "Masturbation & Sex" in the requirements for iToFormation, where I will show in detail how you degrade and destroy yourself. But for now, while you are obsessed with every skirt and want to "relieve tension," at least do not ejaculate twice or by no means three times in a row. Take a break between ejaculation; an ideal short nap of 30-60 minutes and subsequent intake of high-carb food, such as cornflakes with milk or steamed rice with honey would be perfect. Meat is not worth eating between ejaculations, as it will take a lot of energy to digest it and it will be harder for you to "shine" with your erection. The same goes for masturbation... Yes, I know, you don't know this word. When your woman asks you about it, say that you have no idea what she's asking about. Relax, eat some "fast digestible food" and keep feeling like a winner. I want to say a little about male culture. I have met such wealthy people who thought that if they paid a considerable amount of money for something, they did a favor and now they should be flattered and catered to from all sides. This is especially true for relationships with women. If you gave her something, for example a car, now she owes you and is obligated to "work off" this damn Lexus. Gentlemen, now is not the time to behave like this. Women are not "beautiful toys" for entertainment. If you regret your gifts to women later, then do not give such presents. If there are no joyful women around, then you will also lose your joy in life. Do not expect anything from women and do not regret anything with them...

-----

Why do I so indecently "expose" myself starting from the very first pages of this brochure? Why do I describe my personal life and even intimate secrets in details? People shouldn't behave like this with the others. Maybe I am lonely and I have lack of communication? No. Or would I like to "talk it out" like in a therapist's office? No. Or do I want to impress and shock readers with my frankness? No. Then what the hell is going on here? Couldn't I just remove all personal information about myself and simply describe deadly diseases and methods of fighting them, avoiding "wet and moist" topics? No, I can't! This could have been done and I would have done it if not... iToFormation. Without iToFormation, I don't need to meet you, get to know you and "stop" your cancer. Without iToFormation, I wouldn't have said a word about myself. Do you understand that the brochure is created as a practical guide of how to take actions to save your life? Essentially, you are supposed to entrust the rest of your life to someone you don't know at all. Who am I? Where did I come from? How did I acquire this "strange" knowledge? If I were you, I would want to know everything about the person whom I am going to "entrust" your life. I would try to learn as much as possible about this person as much as I can. I would like to feel and understand what he is going to do with me and what are my chances. I would like, would you? I cannot please everyone and I am not going to adjust to everyone for the sake of money. Some people will like me and find me attractive, while others will find me annoying and irritating, and some may even hate me and want to kill me. Your feelings towards me are beautiful if they are sincere and come straight from your hearts. I am ready for any outcome. You won't be able to survive iToFormation if you don't understand me. By telling so much about myself, I have already started preparing you to meet with the Death. Reading the brochure and increasingly accepting or rejecting me, like a ferryman from the land of the dead, you must clearly understand for yourself before the start of iToFormation. Understand - who am I to you? Solution or problem? If I am disgusting and unpleasant to you with my revelations, then do not be ashamed of these feelings. Forget about me and find another way to prolong your life. If you like me, try to understand me and accept me for who I am. If you manage to understand me without words, then I can take you from Death. Why am I telling you about myself? I want you to have a "double impression" of me as a living person and as a useful tool. Shall we get to know each other even closer?

-----

It was the 1st of September, 1985. I went to school to the 1st grade. Guests came to our parents' place. A husband, a wife, and a daughter. Our families were friends. When the children, the girl and I finished eating, we were told to go to play in the children's room not to disturb the adults' conversations. We were told and we went to my childhood room. I was excited about the first day of school and started showing her my new textbooks. She was staring at the textbooks with no apparent interest. And then she says, "Go and see what the parents are doing." I got distracted from showing the textbooks and asked in surprise: "For what?". She replied: "Go have a look... I'll tell you later the reason." I left the scattered textbooks on the floor and went to see. In the kitchen parents turned on the music, drank, laughed and passionately discussed something. I returned to the children's room, knelt down to the textbooks, and replied, "They are not doing anything, just talking." She stood up from the chair and walked to the center of the room right in front of me and asked, "Do you want me to show you something?" Continuing to flip through the pages of textbooks and searching interesting pictures, I replied, without looking at her "What?" She did something at her waist and pulled her pink skirt down to her knees. When I looked up, I saw the pink blouse and white panties underneath. I had only seen something like this at the seaside, when my mom and other women were in swimsuits. But not so close. She came up to me almost close and asked again: "Do you want to see?" At that period I stuttered heavily and couldn't answer her anything. I was stunned, staring at the center of her white triangle in front of my face. Without waiting for my response, she lowered her panties down to where her skirt was. And for the first time in my life, I saw it. From such kind of shock my head started spinning. I was looking straight there... the childhood room around me began to disappear somewhere. She asked: "Do you want to touch it?" Her question scared me so much, because seeing that "cut" on her body I was afraid that if I touch it, the same "deformity" could happen to me. I was scared. Well, what do you want, I was 7 and she was 10. Having lost the gift of speech, I shook my head. She said: "Do you want to see where girls pee from?" And she began to spread it with her fingers. I started to feel unwell, I closed my eyes, grabbed her skirt with panties and started pulling them up, trying to put them on... She quickly tidied herself up and we went nonchalantly to our parents in the kitchen and she, smiling, said: "We already played, when will the cake be ready?"

Fateful Meeting - 3

The next "woman" in my life was a thick physical education rope hanging at a height of 6 meters in the school gym. Maybe you know that there are several climbing techniques. The point is that the stronger your hands are, the less you need your legs. No one in my class had such strong arms, so everyone climbed like "worms" on a rope. I was 11 years old, I had a speech defect, I spoke little and listened and observed more. And while listening and observing, during one of the physical education lessons, I noticed a strange situation. One of the girls climbed the rope not like the others. Because of the weakness of her hands, she tightly gripped the rope between her legs. And if others, when moving upwards, constantly detached their pelvis from the rope and weakened their grip on the rope between their legs, meanwhile she, on the contrary, "dug in" with her intimate area into the rope and rubbed against it while climbing up. No one noticed it, not even our PE teacher. No one except me! I started to watch her closely and saw that when she reached the very top, she turned her face to the wall, froze there for a while and then slowly descended. When she was downstairs, she quickly left the gym, probably went to the restroom, I don't know. It caught my interest. Next lesson, when she climbed up, I approached the wall she was turning away from and looked at her face up there. Her eyes were closed and her mouth was slightly open and it seemed to me that she was shivering a little. I realized that something was going on up there with her. And I had to find out what! After classes, I arranged with the duty student to clean the floors in the gym instead of him. And I climbed the rope exactly as she did - tightly gripping the rope between my legs. I reached the top... and nothing! Friction with the rope made it hot between my legs. Second attempt. I climbed up again and the friction with the rope made me feel even more pleasant between my legs. I reached the top and the pleasant feeling faded away. My hands were very tired, there was a "fire" between my legs. But I felt that I was on the verge of a Great Discovery. Something was very close, it was calling me! I was climbing for the third time, in the middle of the rope my hands were numb from fatigue, but I kept climbing. And when I was almost at the ceiling... Inside me, a "nuclear explosion" was exploding... from bliss, my numb fingers loosen... and I, closing my eyes, fell back and down... That was how I experienced my first orgasm and "drowned" in a bubbling fountain of inner energy. Drops and splashes, which I will later call iTo portions, and jets and streams are iTo ducts...

Fateful Meeting - 4

One of the peculiarities of Dad's "gift" was my delayed and inhibited sexual maturation. I was not interested in girls until I was 15. Even the incident in the children's playground at 7, and the rope at 11 didn't bring me closer to the female. After discovering ito at the age of 11, I was interested in something else a little, except for the capabilities of my own body. And my peers at 15 were already going to discos, kissing girls on benches and some of them were already starting to touch them under their dresses. Of course, at that age no one had intimacy yet, but everyone around me were kissing, hugging and suffering from love experiences. Now, looking back, I understand that it was the most romantic and magical time. But then I didn't understand it. Everything changed in early August 1993. On page 26, I told you that I was born and raised near the church. I went not only to the cemetery, but also to this church. But I went there not for the reasons that other people visited it. Smells! I liked going to church because of the unique scents that weren't in other places. I enjoyed the church incense, specifically the smell of frankincense. And so I went to the church once again to smell the frankincense: Google Maps Plus Code PV8R+2H, Ipatovo. I entered, quietly sat on the bench near the wall, not bothering anyone, closed my eyes and inhale the scents of the old church. Grandmothers stand near the icons of saints, muttering something to themselves, the priest is doing something at the altar... silence and grace, everything as it should be. And suddenly, I didn't even notice where from, a woman in a scarf and dark glasses sits down next to me on the bench. She leans towards me and whispers, "Boy, what are you doing here? You smell of sin..." The first thought that immediately came to my mind was: "she is not local," because we don't speak like that here, especially in a place like this. She smelled of perfume and alcohol. She continued to look at me through her glasses, waiting for a response. And not finding more suitable words, I stuttered in response to her: "Aaa-nd... yyy-ou sss-mell like a woman!". She took off her glasses and looked at me intently in the eyes. Seconds of silence... and we both laughed at the foolishness of what I had just said. But the spontaneous laughter immediately stopped, because the grandmothers disapprovingly turned away from the icons towards us with expressions of panic on their faces, and the priest pretended not to hear us. I immediately got up, put my hand on my chest, and bowed to the grandmothers, thus apologizing... We quickly left the church. I was 15, she was 29...

-----

Meeting her is the most important event in my life. If she didn't exist in my life, you wouldn't be reading this brochure right now. We were together for only a month. She has just divorced her husband and has an 8-year-old daughter. She "escaped" from St. Petersburg to her grandmother's house to relax and figure out what to do next. She lived with her grandmother and daughter, and I lived with my parents. Neither at her place nor at mine, we couldn't meet. That is why there were several of her rules in our relationship. She did not want us to be seen together, so we only met in the darkness. There were no mobile phones back then, so I would come to her grandmother's house and lightly throw a pebble at the window of her room. But even when we walked along the dark street, we walked not together, but on different sides of the street. She wanted it that way. We only had one meeting place. The place I knew like the back of my hand and knew the first and last names of all its regulars. A place where no one could bother us: Google Maps Plus Code PV6R+CG, Ipatovo. It was August, at another time of the year we wouldn't be able to enjoy each other so much under the open sky. Of course, we weren't on bare tombstones, I brought blankets, a quilt and pillows from home. We had several thuja bushes where I hid our bedding until the next night. We talked a lot, looking at the stars, she showed me everything on herself and explained in detail what and how to do and most importantly why. If I didn't understand something the first time and tried to ask again, she often touched my lips with her index finger, signaling me to be quiet: "Shh... focus on the sensations and just keep going... and you will understand everything!" I continued... and over time, understanding came to me and the questions disappeared. She really liked scratching my back with her nails, she loved doing it so much that her eyes sparkled in the darkness like cat's. Not to spoil her pleasure, I endured pain at first, but later I began to like it myself. Moreover, she then smeared my back with some ointment of her own making and the bloody stripes on me quickly healed. People call such relationships - sin of fornication. But I call it - transformation. My transformation from a boy was insanely beautiful, extremely useful and indescribably pleasant! Natasha, you are already a grandmother, but if you are reading these lines now, please let the girls on page 2 know about yourself. You know, I am in debt to you and would like to financially help you or your daughter. In my memories, I imagine inhaling the scent of your hair and gently kissing your eyes... Thank you for being in my life!

Scent of a Woman - 1

First of all, I want to apologize to Miss Gabriel for using her photo without permission. I want to point out that she has no relation to the topics covered in this brochure. She does not have cancer or any other life-threatening diseases. Bluetana was against the idea of using photos of famous and popular people, she considers that it's an unreasonable foolishness which can lead to legal disputes and financial losses. Maybe she is right, but what could be better than finding yourself in an American court next to one of the most beautiful women on the globe? It may not be reasonable or smart, but what else do I have to do in my meaningless life, if not foolish things? Miss Gabriel, if the publication of your photos in our brochure has offended you in any way, please direct your protest to the girls on page 2. I will definitely come up with something. At the beginning of the brochure publication, on January 2-3, 2025, I will have nothing to offer you except my friendship, and I ask you to wait for some time so that I can earn the necessary compensation amount. Don't rush to get angry, let me explain my bold move. I won't tell you how beautiful you are and how millions of men desire you. You have already known that perfectly well without me. This is a common male desire and there is nothing wrong with it. Let them continue to crave... I want something different from you... I carefully watched on Youtube your "big", more than 20 minutes, interviews, where you talk not only about your titles and answer "routine" and uninteresting questions, but about those parts of the interview where you talk about your feelings, emotions and desires. Your desires and your thoughts about what you want from life in general have touched me. To my shame, I don't know English well enough to easily understand it when people are speaking. But you have such clear and coherent speech that even I was able to understand, but peeking at the subtitles sometimes. You don't "eat up" endings and don't reduce frequently used words, like most Americans do. You have a beautiful English speech! I "want" you, R'Bonney, as a famous person. Look, you are not only very popular in North America, but you are also loved and always welcomed in the countries of Southeast Asia because of your Filipino roots. By the way, if you didn't know, you have an attic skull shape. People of the extinct Khmer nation had such a skull shape. Only beautiful people were able to create such a breathtaking architectural masterpiece as Angkor Wat. I need someone like you. Beautiful, intelligent, popular in different countries, loved by everyone and proficient in the oratory art...

I will not be able to travel frequently from Russia for objective reasons, read in section "5. The Offer of Cooperation to...". I want you to become the official face of the iToFormation brand and my permanent representative in English-speaking world, specifically in the USA. America is the most important and priority country for me because there are many rich people dying of cancer there. I think that people who have worked hard all their lives to achieve something useful and important for themselves, for their country and for the planet shouldn't die like everyone else. Because they always did what not everyone did. Such people should have a second chance. I should try with every dying rich American who is suitable for iToFormation. Remember the immortal phrase of Jack Nicholson in the movie "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest" - "But I tried, didn't I? Goddamn it! At least I did that."? And you, R'Bonney, will help me with this. Don't rush to laugh and tell me "Oh No!". I won't accept your refusal now. Tell me about your decision at a personal meeting, which will take place around 2026 in New York City. If everything goes as planned and thought out, we will meet there. If it doesn't work out - no problem, you don't have to come to Stavropol, the Earth is big, then we will see each other in the Philippines or in Thailand, also not a bad option. Miss Gabriel, you are precious to me as a vivid example of incredible female beauty. In the brochure, I constantly mention some incomprehensible beauty of Death. I want millions of women all over the Earth to see their own beauty through the prism of Death when they look at you. R'Bonney, with you it is impossible to compete in outer beauty, but thanks to you any woman will be able to see her inner beauty. The time will come and I will show you how to do it, but now is not the time or place for it. The Brochure about cancer and Death. But remember, every woman... can be extraordinarily beautiful inside herself, be the queen of her inner world! The theme of human beauty goes beyond the brochure, especially since it is closely related to the dangerous topic of Rejuvenation. But if everything will be fine between us, I mean business relationships, then I will explain and show you something... you don't want to age like other women, do you? I don't envy you and don't expect anything from you, so get married, have a beautiful baby... it is useful for any woman. I only ask one thing, try not to extinguish the "fire" in your heart and don't forget your desires. Do not lose your identity in the hustle and bust... The Goddess of Beauty - R'Bonney Gabriel will never forgive you for this!

Oncogynecology - 1

This is the last description of cancer diseases in the brochure. Right now you are reading the third edition of this text. The first version of the text, as I see and understand it myself, was too convoluted and complex for an ordinary woman to understand. Deleted. The second version contained my theoretical reflections on the energetic properties of life and reproduction. All this, of course, is interesting, but how will it help you to get rid of cancer? Deleted. And here is the third version of the Oncogynecology section, very close to the body, it is more understandable and specific for each organ. To defeat cancer, you will need to accomplish two tasks: give birth to a child and "change" your personality. What does it mean to give birth to a child? Are you out of your mind? No, not in mine... I want to get into your mind. Give birth to a child from whom? From me? I disagree. Reading the brochure "between the lines", you have already understood that I want a child, whom I don't have. I don't hide it. Yes, I want a child! But I want only from a woman who will love me and who will need me with all my quirks and flaws. And the one I will love, love with all of myself and all that I have, love her until my last breath. Only in such relationship I want to have a child. I don't want a child from a foreign guest who paid me money, no matter how rich, beautiful and tempting she may be. I can't participate in the birth of your child in any way. My lovely assistant - translator said it in the best way by writing in her WhatsApp status. I want you to read these magical lines, they are extremely important for understanding your pregnancy. She wrote: "There are moments of love between a man and a woman, they are so intense that it is impossible to believe that these moments are measured by time, that they are just like everything else, that they will pass and disappear. In such moments you are sure: it's impossible that nothing remains of them. This is how children are born. They are not made for the sake of children, but for the sake of love. To make them last these moments. And as long as those two love each other, they feel that the child is the embodiment of this love." These are the best words I've ever heard about the birth of a child. Can you imagine that in Stavropol all female translators refused me because of Death theme, and only she dared and agreed to translate. I was incredibly lucky with her. She is unbelievably beautiful, talented, sensitive and intelligent girl, and I am lucky to know her. She understands me so well and has become very dear to me. Right now you are reading my thoughts in her words.

You ask me, what if my age doesn't allow me to have children? What if I already have children and don't want any more? What if I can't have children due to ovarian problems? And what if I have a problem with ovulation and my eggs don't mature? And what if I have extensive Endometrial Cancer and the embryo cannot implant into the uterine wall? And what if I have a low level of progesterone, which interferes the attachment of the fertilized egg and the cessation of menstruation? And what if I have a hormonal imbalance and the Cervical Mucus is very thick, which is why the sperm can't pass through the cervix? And what if, on the contrary, the Cervical Mucus is too liquid and doesn't allow to "close" the Cervical Canal, which leads to infections and miscarriages? What if I have undergone IVF several times and nothing works for me? And what if... and if... and if... There can be a great many reasons for these "what if" situations. In general, the problem of women's oncological diseases reminds me a bank safe with an open door. The cause of the disease penetrates there very easily, after which a thick safe door closes behind it, and "getting" the cause from there and even more to cure it becomes quite difficult, and in advanced cases even impossible, except through radical surgery. Therefore, I will say this: if you want to remain a woman with all the organs given to you at birth, then you will find a way to "get rid of" these "what ifs". Go to your gynecologist and think together, but most importantly start doing something, because if you have uterine cancer, due to the abundant blood supply of the uterus, cancer cells will metastasize very quickly to neighboring organs. You don't have time for long discussions about the reasons for your "what ifs". If you disagree with me or you didn't like what I said, then I'm sorry - your place is on the surgeon's table and the solution to your problem is radical surgery. This is when parts of your female reproductive system are removed and you stop to be a woman from an energetic point of view. I am against the removal of female organs. There is nothing extra in a woman's body. And when you lose a part of yourself, you stop being a full-fledged woman. After removing parts of your female organs, you will face a lot of problems, both physical, hormonal, and psychological, because you will be "robbed" of the joy of being a woman. And Anhedonia will be one of the smallest troubles that you will eventually solve. But how will you solve the absence of your lower energy pole located in the uterus? No way! Read about "changing" your personality in the section "iToFormation - Introduction".

I chose the Earth and the planet's magnetic fields as the best example for comparing human energy. The two opposite points around which the planet rotates are called the geographic poles: the North and South poles. But there are also magnetic poles of the Earth, they constantly move and don't coincide with the geographical ones. Through the magnetic poles pass the magnetic fields of the Earth, which protect the planet from the destructive effects of space. The same thing happens in the human body, it has two poles: the brain and the intimate area of male or female organs. Through these poles not only magnetic fields pass, but bundles of iTo ducts. The lower pole of a man is the male organ, and for a woman it's the uterus. That's why men want sex around the clock. The upper pole for both sexes is the same - the brain. The upper poles are the same, but their polarity is different. The polarity of the male brain is equal to the polarity of the uterus, while the polarity of the female brain is equal to the polarity of the male organ. This is why, due to the different polarity, the male organ constantly desires to penetrate the female organ. And the man's lips and a woman's so passionately want to merge in a kiss. Different polarities attract each other. Modern science explains the desire to be drawn to each other by the hormonal work of the human endocrine system. This is true, but it is only part of the truth. All those incredible feelings of closeness and love that you are able to experience can't be explained by just hormones. But the iTo currents, bubbling inside you and your loved one, explain it completely. The meaning you call "love" on the outside, inside looks like the intertwining, mixing and dissolving of your iTo ducts. In other words, lovers cease to be for a while separate man and woman with their separate iTo streams. Your iTo ducts merge into a whole and you become for a while one bi-person with doubled energy, doubled strength, doubled iTo. That's why you feel bad and lonely when your loved one isn't around - your united iTo ducts are weakened sharply. By the way, if you didn't know, all lovers can perform various miracles and tricks. Your energy can afford it without damaging your organs. You can heal minor illnesses, stop bleeding and do other interesting things, but you can only influence organic matter. You will have only one problem - how long you can stay in the state of your love, in the state of intertwining iTo flows from different organisms. Spending too much time in the state of bi-human will lead you to feelings of omnipotence and madness... Superpower isn't our topic.

On page 80, I told you about cancer, which "subordinates" iTo ducts and becomes the "master" of the body. This happens when cancer is already in the final stage and essentially becomes a separate organism within the body. This type of cancer is almost impossible to cure, but it can be "stopped". And in order to do this, you need a second host of the organism, who will engage in a "deadly battle" with the first one. After the "battle" only one will remain. Where to find the second owner if a person's body can't have two different primary cancerous tumors simultaneously. There may be secondary metastases from the first owner. In this case, secondary cancer cells are similar to the heads of the Hydra from Greek mythology, but they don't take control of the iTo flows, because the Hydra has only one body - one owner, and there can be as many heads as you like. Where can you find the second tumor, the second owner, the second hydra? How scary it may sound, but your unborn child could become the second hydra. Right now you must think I've gone mad. Modern medicine hasn't discovered it yet, but your child can try not only to "stop" cancer of any female organ, but also of any organ outside its location area. Your child may attempt to cope with even the most difficult cancers, such as brain cancer or pancreatic cancer. Please note, I use the word "attempt" because if the baby fails, the first owner will kill your child and you will have a miscarriage. The first host is a cancerous tumor "takes" all your "body fluids" and subjugates the iTo ducts to work for it. The second host is your child in the womb also "takes" all the fluids of your body and subjugates the flows for its growth and development. And since "body fluids" - nutrients carried by the blood, are also limited as well as the amount of iTo flows and energy in them, then two owners of these resources won't be enough. One must kill the other! But if the cancer is only going to kill the child, then the child may not be able to deal with the cancer killing. Because the first owner is more powerful, mature and experienced in terms of energy than the newly implanted embryo in the uterine wall. It will be very difficult for a child to kill the first owner, but it will be easier to take away all his resources, thereby depriving it of sustenance and "stopping" it. But he mustn't be ordinary, the little one must be energetically strong. Otherwise, you will have a miscarriage and cancer will win. How to give a birth to such child? In the modern world with sick women and men it is difficult to do. If you believe in God, it's great, it's time to pray him to give you such baby...

Oncogynecology - 5

And if you don't believe... then it's time to start believing in Yourself! You - Women - living goddesses, walking on this Earth. In the hustle and bustle of life, you have forgotten who you really are. Do you want to live? Then we must remember that before people started worshipping the Phallus, they worshipped the Woman and her organs. You must feel in the depths of your hearts that your female organs are the beginning of all beginnings, the cradle of life on this planet. Without you, there would be nothing! The First - go to the gynecologist and check the condition of the ovaries, find out your ability to produce healthy egg cells. The Second - check the patency of the Fallopian Tubes and whether there are any adhesions there that may hinder the movement of sperm and egg cell. The Third - determine the condition and thickness of the Endometrium walls during ovulation and find out if everything is in order with your Implantation Window. The Fourth - check the functionality of the cervix for sperm passage. The Fifth - check the condition of the Regional Lymph Nodes, if there is no inflammation in them. The Sixth - find out if there are any side effects from the hormonal medications you are taking for cancer treatment. The seventh step - restore the correct level of Progesterone in the blood. Now let's talk about sperm. An energetically strong child can only be born if the egg cell and the sperm are healthy and energetically strong from being saturated with iTo portions. How to know if a man has healthy and strong sperm? Go to any diagnostic center and do a sperm analysis. Or, at home, for this procedure, your man should ejaculate not inside you, as you like, but for example, on your belly. Look closely at the sperm. Healthy sperm should resemble in color and composition to milk jelly. It should not be transparent and very liquid, i.e. when it is on your belly it should not spread for several minutes. Touching it with her finger, it should stick. The smell of healthy and strong energetic sperm is reminiscent of the smell of fresh dough. There is no need to taste it, because healthy sperm has no taste. If your man's sperm is not as I described above, then he is sick and weak. You won't succeed. Go and treat him somewhere and somehow. If you have trouble with natural conception, such as something with the cervix or fallopian tubes, then you need to consider IVF. The problem with IVF is that a reproductive doctor won't allow you to do IVF if you have cancer. In other countries, this is solved differently. In Russia, we have two options: private clinics or bribes/corruption. I like both options...

If you cannot get healthy sperm from your man, then you need to look for a donor, but not from cryogenically frozen sperm, but from a live specimen. Cryopreservation of sperm is a bad option and is not suitable for you. If you can't find a donor, then there is only one thing left - deception and betrayal. I don't want to talk about it. If you have any questions, you can ask the girls on page 2, they will answer any questions they know the answer to. Communication with them and their responses are absolutely free for you. I just ask you to behave decently and not allow yourself anything extra, they will have the option to block any of you at their discretion. About the questions to me personally, I said on page 64. But in general, if I admired every cancer before this section, then I have no sympathy and admiration for female oncological diseases. They are like a knife in your back. I would say that female organs, despite being wonderful in their design, I still think that they were not completely designed and thought out. Infections that penetrate so easily into them shouldn't penetrate like that. There should be protection. And such protection exists - an acidic environment, but I consider it insufficient and Bacterial Vaginosis is a direct proof for that. This shouldn't be. Due to the lack of thoughtful protection, a woman is very constrained in her actions and lifestyle. She is not allowed to behave as freely as a man, who is one step lower in biological development. But there is no evil without "good", while the death of a woman is significantly different from the death of a man, of course, I mean the energetic component. The death of a man is simply the utilization of dead organic matter into the ground and the dissipation of it into ducts in space. The death of a woman, especially when she is in her prime, and if she is still capable of giving birth not only to children but also to new portions... such death is like a walking in a dried-up botanical garden. It seems like everything is dead and ordinary, but there is still some unspoken beauty, a different atmosphere is felt and it is not immediately lost in the surrounding emptiness. Female death has a different afterlife! On page 61 the music is playing - it very accurately conveys my feelings about the death of a woman. It's good that music, paintings, photos help me and you can experience emotions by immersing yourself in my world. Oh, Women! Each of you is unique and irreplaceable in your own way. Each woman is "created" in a unique copy and "without repeats" and if one of you dies, another one will never be like her... There will be others, but they will be different...

Who is to blame? What to do? Eternal questions a person has. I will answer both of them. But first, go to page 30 and read it several times again. Usually, it doesn't come to consciousness the first time. This is one of the most important pages of the brochure, if you don't understand it, then the brochure is not intended for you. I'm sorry, I don't want to offend or insult you in your intellectual weakness, it's just that if you don't understand what I'm trying to explain you, so your time hasn't come yet. It will definitely come, but it will be later, not now. Have you read it again? Then answer me this question: "What do you do to have a healthy child?". Once again: "What are you really doing, physically with your hands, to give birth to a healthy child?" A healthy, smart and beautiful child is your main capital and investment that requires attention, preparation, and total dedication. You will receive what you give! Have you planned a baby? Have you prepared your body for its birth? What have you given of yourself to have a healthy and strong baby? Please, think about these questions, ask them to yourself... Cancer diseases in children's bodies progress differently. Pediatric oncology progresses more actively and aggressively than in adults. It happens because the majority of adult cancer tumors consist of mature epithelial (organ-covering) cells, while in children the cancer tumors are most often represented by immature non-epithelial cells. This is a significant difference and it determines the behavior of cancer in children. Up to 90% of cancer cases in children are congenital. Most often, this is an embryonal cancerous tumor due to a defect in fetal development. And a defect in fetal development is the result of your preparation for childbirth. I told you that smoking is "fine" if you approach it thoughtfully and it doesn't affect you getting cancer - that's true, but only for you. Smoking, alcohol and drugs will affect on your future child at conception. In general, almost all of your harmful habits affect the embryo of the child. Even your restless nights and lack of sleep will affect the health of your "immortality". I didn't make a mistake with the word, it is your children who are your "immortality", not what you see in movies and dream about in fantasies. Pediatric oncology includes about 10 forms of cancer, with the main one being leukemia. While adults' cancer is "treated" with surgery and a combination of different methods, children are mainly treated with chemotherapy or radiation therapy. This methods used very carefully, a child can expire due to toxic treatment, not due to the disease itself.

There are many different genetic childhood diseases that can be scarier than cancer. These are mainly congenital diseases and are called genetic anomalies. Who is to blame and what to do with them? If a wormy apple falls from the apple tree, who is to blame for this, the apple tree or the gardener who planted the apple tree? When your child is found to have an incurable genetic anomaly, parents immediately ask: "Why?" Why are there so many families and children around, and why did it happen to my child exactly? Why not to some other child, but to mine? My child is an innocent angel and is not guilty of anything. Why such punishment? Why does God allow this? Is it an apple tree or a gardener? I ask you again, apple tree or gardener... A person is structured in such a way that they always seek the cause outside of themselves. Eyes can only look outward and see the external surrounding world. The inability to look inside oneself, the lack of knowledge of the laws of the inner world doesn't mean that this inner world doesn't exist at all. Millions of microbes live around you, which you have never seen with your eyes, but that doesn't mean they don't exist. If you breathe stench, if you eat garbage, if you drink filth, if you think dirty, if you live by vices... and then you still ask "Why?". I answered your question "Who is to blame?". Now I answer the question "What to do?". Children generally do not have developed iTo channels. iTo channels begin to "align" and "function" in the body after experiencing the first orgasm. Children hardly fit any requirements of iToFormation. When an old person dies - it's good. When an adult person dies - it's normal. When a child dies - it's... it shouldn't happen, a young organism shouldn't die. But they are dying... This is your tragedy, the pain of your family, the child's death is a very personal family matter. I do not undertake to "stop" child death not only because I don't know how to do it without iTo streams, but also because I don't want to be part of your tragedy. This is your pain and I don't want to touch your wound. I'm sorry... In Ipatovo, in my childhood, there was a family living next to me: mom, dad, daughter, and son Yura. Mom and dad were over 40, the daughter was over 20, and Yura was my age, 12-13 years old. He was hit by a car and killed, but the driver wasn't from a "simple" family and it seems like nothing happened to him. After their son's funeral, the mom and dad immediately conceived a new child, and nine months later a new son was born. That's how they decided to ease their incurable pain... What to do? Do as they do - bury, give a birth again and keep living.

My Father's Son - 1

Will we continue our acquaintance? Meet my dad... I had complicated relationships with him. Because of what he "did" to me, I never respected him as a person and never loved him as a father. Of course, he is far from Alain Delon, but by Ipatovo standards he was a handsome man and was successful with women. You call such men - a playboy. We call - a womanizer. He always had connections with different women. There was something charming about him, some charisma and women liked him. Mom fell in love with him at first sight, moreover he was her first man. Mom really liked Adriano Celentano and his characters in the movies, and dad looked like Celentano and tried to behave in life like a great actor in the movies. They got married in 1976, dad was 23, mom was 19. But the real life with dad turned out to be not as romantic as in Italian movies. For energy reasons, I don't recommend men to have sex with your pregnant woman. Endure, exercising or masturbation will help to "relieve tension" in the male organ. Protect the health of your loved one! Dad infected pregnant mom with a terrible venereal infection. After my "accidental" birth in 1977, he continued to live the lifestyle of a loving macho. I don't know what reasons my mother gave him for this, but he often demonstratively bathed in the evening, dressed well, and went somewhere at night. And my mom cried with me all night long holding me and waiting for him until morning. When he came in the morning, happy and tired, he smiled at her sweetly and went to bed. I don't understand how she put up with him. She loved him very much and forgave everything, and he constantly swore to her that it was the last time... she believed... and everything repeated again. Dad enjoyed coming to the cozy house where he was always greeted with delicious food, clean clothes, order and comfort. In other words, Dad really enjoyed living with a housekeeper who created an image of prosperity around him. And mom kept hoping that he loved her and that she would soon become the happiest woman. I didn't like being at home when they were fighting, breaking dishes and a crying mother. She wanted a divorce, but he didn't want to, for him the status of a married man was important. And where would he find another fool who would cook, wash, clean, dress and create the appearance of a happy family. There was only one like that - my Mother who was in love with him. Later he ended up in prison for robbery, he didn't want to work, but he needed money for his mistresses. He didn't serve the full sentence, mom pulled him out of prison. And then he asked her: "What organ did you use to get me out?"

My Father's Son - 2

When they finally divorced, I stayed with my mom in a rented apartment. Dad married another woman, another housekeeper. When the new housekeeper understood why she was needed, she went to another city with her daughter. And the dad, an elderly man nobody needed, was left alone. He found himself in a situation he had never been in before - he was no longer being taken care of and now he had to do everything himself. This greatly upset him and undermined his health. He was diagnosed with lung cancer. I must say that only two people knew about my interests in Death: my dad and friend Alexander. My dad was really worried by the fact that I wasn't interested in girls at all until I was 15, he thought I was a gay. And he was following me and wanted to know where I was going and what I was doing. And once he followed me to the cemetery. We met there... and I had to explain him why I walk among the graves at night. He was so shocked by his son that I think he never fully understood my explanations. He only understood one thing, that there is something wrong with my head and no one should know about it, because this information would "tarnish" his "noble" family name. He even threatened to do something to me if I continued to shame the family with my nightly walks in the cemetery. I replied him, "Do it...". He never mentioned this topic again. He calmed himself down by the fact that I am not a gay and thank God and damn it, how great it is! When dad fell into despair from cancer, his second wife returned to him and took him to chemotherapy at SRCOD: Google Maps Plus Code 3WCQ+59, Stavropol. I never came to visit him once. Maybe I could have prolonged his life... but what for? I didn't need him, he was a stranger to me. Lung cancer metastases blocked his esophagus and penetrated his brain, he could neither eat nor drink and went crazy from hellish headaches. He died of hunger, dehydration and excruciating pain as a miserable and unwanted old man. Throughout his life, dad hit me only 3 times. Never hit your children, so they won't cause trouble and no matter how much damage they may have done. Let them "burn the whole world", but don't fight back. If you have a son like me, he will never forget it. If at least one man... it will be enough for me... after my story will stop betraying and cheating on his beloved, then I have achieved my goal - one more happy family will appear and children in such family will grow up in love and understanding, instead of walking at night in the cemetery and staring into the endless and cold space. Everything has its time - time to love, time to hate, time to die, and time to forgive... I forgive you, Dad.

Here you have reached the very heart of the brochure - iToFormation. iToFormation is an active practice that stops cancer and prolongs life. It is better to try it once than to read endless descriptions. But before you start practicing, you must first understand the nature of cancer and the cause of death. What is cancer? It is a congenital or a long-standing deadly disease. What does long-standing mean? It means that cancer doesn't occur as a regular disease, it develops over time. A common illness, which appears quickly, can also be quickly cured. Cancer, on the other hand, develops in you for years or even decades. It doesn't even develop on its own, but you persistently "earn" it. The reason for the appearance of cancer lies at the very core of your personality. Under your personality, I will understand the set of habits, values, desires, disgusts, views, judgments, moods and your overall lifestyle. If common illnesses are personality mistakes, then fatal diseases aren't mistakes, but the roots of personality. Yes, cancer is a root that goes deep into the structure of your personality. Therefore, cancer is so difficult or even impossible to cure because it physically lives in your body, but mentally it's born and fed by your personality. I know it's hard for you to understand, it's difficult because you don't separate personality from body. You think that the body is who you are. The whole Western world lives by the cult of the body. On the contrary, the Eastern world neglects the body and lives by spirituality. That is why in the West there is such material progress and decline in spirituality, and in the East there is spiritual development against the background of material poverty. To live as one body or to live as one spirituality are two extremes. There is no harmony, no balance of energies in them. I suggest taking the best from the West and combining it with the best from the East. Don't just be Americans, just Russians, just Indians, just Germans or just Greeks. Be the people of the Planet, the people of the Space! Don't attach yourself only to the body or only to spirituality. Because your personality/spirituality is the main cause of your deadly illnesses. A dead body is different from a living one by the absence of personality in it. All dead people are the same. Rich, intelligent, poor, sick, beautiful, ugly... if they are dead, they are all the same! The body can't live without personality. You call this personality "soul". I don't like the static concept of "soul" due to the lack of verbal activity. For me, "soul" is a dead, cold noun, while "personality" is a live, hot verb...

On page 148, I told you about two tasks. Just "stopping" cancer won't be enough, you will also need to "change" your personality. The thing is, any cancer is strongly "attached" to the personality. Essentially, when Death comes to you, she doesn't want your body, it's already on "lease" with you. Death wants to "take away" your identity. But because you do not separate your personality from your body, Death takes and your body. Your personality must die anyway, but your body may not die as quickly as it usually happens to you. Do you understand what I want to tell you? You will have to "give away" your identity in any case, but you can "keep" your body for an indefinite period. The fourth part of iToFormation - a "dance" with the psyche is exactly what you need to change your personality. If you weren't "taken away" your "old" personality, which led you to cancer, and weren't given you a "new" personality, then cancer will "come out" of the coma in a very aggressive form and kill your body. Having a "new" identity, cancer will not be able to "awaken" because it will have nowhere to "return", as it was "attached" only to the "old" identity. His roots "grow" from the "old" personality, that's why it needs to be eliminated, thereby "cutting off" the cancerous roots and depriving it of nourishment. Easy to say, but hard to do. A new identity will be a difficult test not only for you, but also for your relatives and loved ones. To gain something, you must first give something! In fact, to prolong your life you will have to "lose" yourself. All that you have made up about yourself, about your importance, uniqueness, irreplaceability... you will have to let go of all of that. Are you ready to let go of fantasies about yourself? Maybe it's time to stop and think, do I want to lose myself? Perhaps it's better to die as an authoritative, respected and remembered person after death? Is it worth exchanging extra life for yourself? After all, your beloved granddaughter may not recognize you after iToFormation. You have probably read or heard stories about "enlightenment" and "awakening", white bright light at the end of the tunnel and other similar entourages? If it will make it easier for you to think, then iToFormation will be exactly that tunnel with white light at the end. It will be the dividing line of your life BEFORE and AFTER. You will become a completely different person! Do you need this? I knew a few people who wished to die with their "old" personality, because they cherished it. Habits and desires, like glue, are capable of tightly glued "sticking" your personality to the surfaces of material forms...

Rules:

1. NO RULES

iToFormation - Introduction - 3

What happens if you don't fit and don't meet the requirements, but still want to try iToFormation on yourself? Do you want to spit on two of our contracts? This is a unique situation for unique people. In this case, a third type of contract will be provided, without legal force, based on personal relationships. Any laws, rules, and requirements are created for the purpose of being followed by the ordinary majority and violated by the special minority. You have to be quite "desperate" to decide to "dance" with Death without prior preparation. You should understand that such a "desperate" desire on your side will cost you 2-5 times more than the usual price for the "stop" of cancer. The increase in price is due to the fact that violating the requirements of iToFormation creates additional problems and risks for me and an additional burden on my organism. Not all iToFormation requirements can be violated and not all prohibitions can be bought. For example, if you have severe obesity with standard lung cancer, money won't help, I won't agree to iToFormation for $10M or $20M. I disagree due to your inevitable death from a heart attack at the very beginning of iToFormation. Another example, you are a woman, you have any cancer, but have a urinary incontinence. I won't take your money because iToFormation will turn into consternation, you won't be able to focus on the cancer and you will be constantly focused on your urinary incontinence problem and how to look dignified in my eyes. Another example, you are a man and you have liver cancer, but part of your liver is already damaged from cirrhosis due to regular drinking. I don't know how to "resurrect" damaged organ tissues. iToFormation won't save you. In general, any development options that may end with your death I will avoid it and refuse you. I don't want to be a "killer". It's better to die like any ordinary person suffering from cancer. The decision to admit you to iToFormation will always be carefully considered and calculated by me. My personal sympathy towards you will influence this decision. I cannot deal with people who I don't like or find unpleasant. I don't understand such people, and they don't understand me. iToFormation - an intimate procedure, but not in terms of sexuality, but in terms of understanding each other. I will have to "look into" the deepest depths of your body, in places not the most pleasant to look at or smell. Violating the requirements iToFormation is possible, but it isn't suitable for everyone and not for all cases. Can I be deceived with requirements? Of course, you can! Read about deceits in the "The Meeting" section.

iToFormation - Requirements - Consciousness

Fear is a great ruler and at the same time a protective mechanism of a person. If you are not able to control your fear, then it will control you. The first requirement of iToFormation is constantly to be aware and always be conscious of what is happening to you at the moment. I won't be able to feel all the changes happening in your body during iToFormation for you. We should "work" in tandem. You do, feel the changes, tell me about these changes, I correct you, you do it again, feel it again, tell me again, and so on. If you start to lose consciousness for any reason, you will "miss out" important sensations during moments of changes in your body. Sometimes such changes will be very sharp, and sometimes quite slow. You must always observe yourself, no matter how bad and disgusting you feel. You will often approach the edge where your brain's defense mechanism will want to "disconnect" you from reality. In fact, it will be your "old" personality, it will try to "turn you off". It will resist its destruction in every way. Have you ever lost consciousness at the sight of shocking scenes? For example, at the sight of human remains? Or have you "fainted" at the sight of some disgusting events or out of fear for your life? If yes, then it is bad for iToFormation. You have a vulnerable and weak personality and you don't meet this requirement. I will have a problem with you. How can I know or check this in advance at your place? No way! I will see it only when you "turn it off" for the first time. I will understand that you deceived me. If fear is the master of your personality and you cannot observe your changes, then I will most likely interrupt the iToFormation. My decision to stop will still depend on my personal relationship with you and the degree of "weakness" of your personality. If I realize that I am wasting my time with you, then the iToFormation will be interrupted and I will "switch" to another person, to another iToFormation. Since the payment for the "cancer stop" according to the agreement will only occur after the successful ending of iToFormation, millions will remain with you, do not worry. The only one thing that you will lost, it's $100,000 for our meeting and access to iToFormation. It will be a modest compensation for the deception. Please keep this in mind when you feel like deceiving me. Such misunderstanding won't mean that everything between us is the end of our relationship. No offence! When you figure out your fears, you can come to meet me again, but will you still be alive, dying from cancer? I will be busy with another person, another iToFormation, and you will have to wait...

iToFormation - Requirements - Lust of Life

Read the wonderful work "Love of Life" by Jack London. Try to put yourself in the main character's shoes. Could you do that? Pay attention to which way Jack using the word "Love", while I use "Lust". In my demand there is no love, joy, or pleasure. "Lust of Life" - This is dissatisfaction, this is internal hunger, this is animal instinct! You must be angry at yourself for being dissatisfied with your life. For example, I am very dissatisfied with my life in all its aspects, including material ones, but most of all I am dissatisfied with my knowledge of Life and Death. My anger "tears me apart" when I "walk around" and cannot understand how to "stop" blood cancer. The lack of this knowledge makes me extremely dissatisfied with my life. If you don't understand what I'm talking about, then it means you are satisfied with your life and are in harmony with yourself. If you are glad with everything, if everything is fine with you, if you are "full" of life, if you are sufficient, if you have succeeded as a person... then you won't be able to pass iToFormation. You won't be able to fight cancer for your life. You won't have the strength to fight. You will lose! Cancer will win and you will die, but at least in comfort and abundance with a sense of a well lived life. This isn't the worst option. "Lust" requires you to have insane, manic, boundless, unimaginable thirst for life! Want to live on the verge of mental insanity! Want to live so much to feel shivers running down the spine at the mere thought of the possibility of an extra life. I will tell you that such thirst is possessed by a negligible number of people. Everyone wants to live passively, but few experience an active thirst for life. If you are truly unsatisfied with your life, nothing will stop you from satisfying it. I think the nature of the word "Lust" is best revealed in the novel "Justine, or The Misfortunes of Virtue" by Marquis de Sade. In general, I think de Sade is a very underrated and misunderstood literary genius and the best connoisseur of human animal instincts. On the other hand, "Lust of Life" is a fervent respect for all living things. You must appreciate every manifestation of life, because life is a Wonder of Wonders! Chunks of dirty stone in the form of protective shells for the remains of former structures from cataclysms, which you now call "Pyramids," you consider the last Wonder of the World. And as for me, life on Earth is the last Wonder of the World! All the Egyptian pyramids aren't even worth a mosquito's paw sitting on your shoulder. Our live meeting will "show" me your level of "Lust of Life"...

iToFormation - Requirements - Disability

I don't know how they call disabled people in America, Europe, Australia or China, but in Russia they are called "people with limited abilities." This is a disgusting term and I don't agree with it. The best example would probably be Nick Vujicic. Millions of healthy people who are not disabled are far from Nick's "limited" abilities. You can only be limited by yourself, your thinking, your personality, which, by the way, brought you to me because of cancer. All your "limitations" are inside you and no one else can limit you in your possibilities. You may be missing some body parts and feel truly limited but limited not in possibilities, but in actions! Possibilities and actions are different concepts. The same possibility can be implemented through different actions. You can't do this action, try another one, try a third one... keep trying until you find the one that suits you, the one you can do well, reaching your potential. As long as your brain is working and you can think, you are not limited by possibilities! Why go far, let's start with me. From birth, I have had a brain injury that I have been trying to "fix" throughout my life. But was I limited in opportunities, for example, with ladies? Yes, due to my inherent stuttering, it was difficult to communicate with them, but I wasn't limited in opportunities. Again, all opportunities are inside of you, not outside. And only I myself, not other people, always decided what I am limited in, and what I am not. Allow yourself to live without limitations of possibilities. I allowed myself. And in what are you worse than me? Now I will limit you, but don't consider yourself limited. If you are disabled and cannot move independently on your feet without external objects, then iToFormation isn't for you. If you don't have one leg and instead of it you have a prosthesis that allows you to run, then I need to see how well you can use it. I also need to check what stage of cancer you have, because you won't have one of the main iTo ducts in the missing leg. If you are disabled without both hands, then iToFormation isn't for you. The absence of one hand is acceptable, but not for all types of cancer, you also need to understand the dependence of your cancer on the iTo duct in the missing hand. If you have any congenital genetic anomalies preventing you from performing exercises from the second part of iToFormation, then, of course, this procedure is not for you. If iToFormation is closed to you, then don't "earn" cancer so diligently, take care of your personality, don't "give up". As long as your head is "working" - you can do everything! Never limit yourself!

iToFormation - Requirements - Best Friend

Despite the amounts of money, I wouldn't call iToFormation as a business. For me, iToFormation is a "challenge to the laws of existence", it's part of the game, my life. And for you, iToFormation is an out of sight adventure, it's almost a love story between you and Death. Do you remember page 30? Who are the active participants in this story? Who can participate in iToFormation? How strange it may sound, but only those who are dying from a terminal illness, from cancer. None of your relatives, loved ones, friends, acquaintances, etc., can be present at the iToFormation. This requirement cannot be violated and cannot be bought by paying more money. Why? Please carefully read the section "Liver & Kidney Cancers". No one can be on iToFormation from your side. It's not up for discussion! Maybe some people want to pay me "big sums" of money to attend iToFormation and see what is happening with a dying person. No! The only way for you to learn the "secrets" of iToFormation is to die from cancer yourself. "Earn" yourself cancer and then come to me. I am a simple person without superpowers with 24 hours in a day and I can't do everything and manage everything on my own. When you arrive in Stavropol, at the airport you will be met by two girls: my favorite translator and my 5th assistant, Alice (page 64). They will take you to me in one of the Stavropol restaurants, where you can relax after the flight, satisfy your hunger, and talk to me in a calm atmosphere. After our meeting, the girls will take you to the hotel, where the best available room will be reserved for you. These ladies aren't a service staff! Harassing them -> refund you $100,000 -> refusal in iToFormation. I will tell you in detail about Alice's work in the sections "The Contracts", "The Meeting" and "1. The Offer of Cooperation to...". I will mark it right now: Alice will be your Best Friend and guardian angel while you are living in Stavropol. She will not only provide you with everything you that need, rent a private house for you with all amenities, including a gym, sauna, pool, etc., but also "solve" any of your household problems. Any of your questions and issues will go through her. Also, as a lawyer, she will regulate our legal relationships in contracts and monitor the execution of agreements. I am not good at English and I can't speak and do something without a translator. In short, without my interpreter and Alice, it will be difficult for me to communicate with you. And if so, these two girls are the only ones who can be present at iToFormation, but only with your permission. If you are against it, they won't be with us. Just you and me...

iToFormation - Requirements - Obstructing Diseases

You are young, you have "clean" organs, nothing hurts, fatigue visits you only at deep night, and during the day you are full of energy and determination to make the world a better place. Familiar feelings? How many young men and women century after century have experienced such feelings. How much time, lives, and energy have been spent on perfecting an imperfect world. As you are getting older and your organs turn from "clean" to "worn out", your blood will be polluted by the waste products of metabolic decay, and your desire to change the world for the better will disappear. Fatigue and weakness will visit you more and more often, not only at night, but also during the day. Illnesses will become an inseparable part of your life. Such diseases can become a problem for me on the way to "stopping" cancer. Any painful features of your body that prevent you from performing exercises from the second part of iToFormation. Everything in the body is connected to everything else, and there is nothing unnecessary and functioning just like that. Therefore, if you have "common" illnesses, they will indirectly affect your cancerous tumor. They will "interfere" with me by "creating" an imbalance in your system. The immune system will constantly divert energy intended for "stopping cancer" to treat "other" diseases. They will be like "persistent flies". And to "stop" cancer, I will first have to deal with the "flies". But you came to me only for the "stopping" of cancer. iToFormation does not include treatment of additional simple diseases. For such situations, you have doctors, medicine, hospitals, clinics, etc. Therefore, when coming to me with terminal cancer, you must be relatively "healthy" in your other organs and systems. You can easily deceive and hide from me your "secret" disease. Be prepared to take tests. I will make you do a bunch of different tests in the Stavropol clinics for the most important "obstacles" for me. But even after such a thorough examination of your body, I may miss something, and you may remain silent. All secrets will be revealed during the "stop" of cancer. During iToFormation, when I learn your "secrets", I will have a choice: either treat your "other" disease or stop iToFormation and send you to doctors for disease elimination. Which option do you like? I prefer the second one. Your deceit will undermine my sympathy for you. It may come to the point where I will completely reject you, because it will become uncomfortable for me to be around a person who constantly lies to me and hinders their behavior to "stop" cancer. If you want a good relationship - do not lie to me...

Everyone loves to masturbate and have sex, even those who say they don't like it, love it even more. What is the difference in energy between masturbation and sex if the ultimate goal is achieving orgasm and pleasure? In short, they differ by the motion vectors of iTo ducts. Depending on your age, the energy of your body, like everything in this world, is born, develops, and fades. There are different ways to influence the iTo streams. I distinguish six directions: breathing, masturbation, sex, meditation + separate physical exercises and temperature. The first thing you do when you come into this world is breathe. In childhood, while your speech is developing, you are simultaneously learning to breathe, thereby developing your iTo ducts. You are not born with a ready-made and "tuned" energy system, but create it yourself while your bones, muscles, organs, and various body systems are growing and developing. The simplest, yet primitive, way to "learn" to breathe - smoking (page 41). Along with the growth of the body, two poles develop and mature - the organs of the intimate zone and the brain. When you have "matured" and the iTo ducts started "flowing" through the lower pole (male organ or uterus), stop "breathing" practices. Switch to the next level of energy development - masturbation. Self-satisfaction is divine! It is "encoded" in you as if it were a program at the DNA level. But the truth is, if you only see masturbation as a pleasure, it is similar to "walking in one place". After the skeleton is fully formed, masturbation will gradually "damage" the organs and accelerate the aging of the body. If masturbation is not seen as a pleasurable "release" of iTo portions, but as a built-in program for self-exploration, then it is easy to understand and feel the "inner gaze". Masturbation can "teach" you to look inside yourself, "see" your organs, their condition, feel the movement and flow of energies, and other interesting discoveries, for example, the "geometry of consciousness". Boys and girls, do not listen to anyone and masturbate as often as you want. Your heart will tell you "simple movements". Study your body, observe its reactions, its responses. "Know yourself!" - said the Delphic Oracle, making this phrase the greatest in the history of mankind. When the iTo streams form, you will feel it, and you will want "more". It's time to give up masturbation, because further on it will start to age and degrade your body. Move on to the next level - sex. Look at the picture on page 151, this is roughly how the intertwining of your iTo streams occurs when you "make love" = sex + love...

If you have sex without love, for example for money and without feelings, then a different process occurs. When these streams don't intertwine, their speed increases many times over and they rush through your organs like a tornado. The intertwining during "making love" doesn't allow the iTo ducts to accelerate to "dangerous" speeds. When there is no intertwining, there is no love, so their speed is limited only by your health. And the stronger and healthier your body, the stronger the "force" of the whirlwind will be. This property of iTo ducts is often used in deadly martial arts, directing it at the enemy. Inside you, a whirlwind of iTo flow passing through the organs will "destroy" the energy of these organ cells. After the destructive impact, the cells become susceptible to mutations and the risk of transforming into cancer cells. Sex without love is a slow suicide. Like sex for money? Ave Maria! Good and passionate sex is associated with violence. In a surge of passion, you want to "tear apart" your partner. The whole world of "sweet pain" in the genre of BDSM is built on these sensations. But add love to sex, and you won't want to "tear apart" or violate anyone. On the contrary, you will want to preserve, save, and not cause pain to someone who allows you to share moments of unearthly pleasure with them. You will gain respect and care for your... no, not partner. A partner can be in business and in sex. In love, there is no partner, there is only a "part" of yourself. You can do without a sexual partner by finding another partner. But you can't do without "your" own little piece. It is irreplaceable! Nothing lasts forever... and there will come a time when you will have to give up sex. Sex in old age can "destroy" you, except in cases of young lovers. This is when one is old, and the other is young. This topic is from Rejuvenation and is not included in iToFormation. In old age, there is a "fading" of the iTo streams and the lower pole gradually "loses" its polarity. You will need to give up sex and move to the final level of energy - meditation. Young people who supposedly practice "meditation" engage in mental masturbation that is not typical for their age. So, the demand of iToFormation is - Forget about Sex! If you love or are obsessed with sex and cannot live without it, then maybe you shouldn't live without it, calm down, let the cancer do its job. Modern medicine still doesn't know, but the stronger your orgasm, the stronger the impulse for the growth of a cancerous tumor. A tumor can also orgasm and pleasure itself. And the more good sex with bright orgasms you have, the faster you will end up in the cemetery.

iToFormation - Requirements - My Secret Love

Good relationships are the key to success of iToFormation. I will tell you how to achieve this success relatively easily. During iToFormation you are not allowed to masturbate or have sex and orgasm, because orgasm is a colossal loss of iTo portions. Losing iTo during a "cancer stop" is unacceptable thing! I suggest you forget about sex for a while and focus on your best human qualities. Let's try to become friends together. This is not a request, not a recommendation - it's a demand. I know what negative attitude towards Russians there is in the world right now. If you want to extend your life, you need to get rid of the common stereotypes that all Russians are gangsters, scammers, villains and scoundrels. Think about it, how do you imagine going through iToFormation with a scoundrel and a wretch who only dreams of deceiving and stealing your money? By the way, I want to thank in advance the people who will expose me, look for compromising material on me, and write all sorts of nasty things about me. Without any jokes, I want to say to you: "Thank you!". Keep doing what you're doing, don't hesitate to "pour" dirt on me. Remember, I don't take offense at people. The more bad things you will write about me and the more people believe you, the less I will have to say "no" while looking into crying eyes. It's hard for me to refuse people, knowing that soon they will die and they will never be there again. Help me "screen out" those who are not suitable for iToFormation. It's better if you convince them that I am just another scammer trying to make money on the trust of gullible people, than me telling them "no!". I have a weakness, a secret love - I "fall in love" with well-mannered, cultured and tactful people. I adore the so-called people from the "high society". Such people immediately catch my eye. If you are not among them and you have not managed to be born charming, may you don't have outstanding mental abilities, but if you try, each of you can be a "good" person with excellent manners, pleasant behavior, and a sense of respect for another person's life. If you believe in God and follow his commandments, then I would like to add one more to God's commandments - "do not stress". Do not create unnecessary problems for yourself and me, at least during the iToFormation. I am a suitable object for training your best human qualities on me. Do not hesitate to show your true, truthful and "clean" self to me with your thoughts and heart. I will definitely notice your efforts and will be able to reflect your feelings towards me directly back at you. Only by being in sincere friendly relationships I can take you away from Death...

iToFormation - Requirements - Age

The eighth and final requirement of iToFormation is age. I cannot give exact numbers on age because the health of "non-caregivers" and "caregivers" differs greatly. Children - up to about 20 years old, have not yet fully formed iTo streams. Children are not allowed at iToFormation. "Non-caregivers" - approximately between 20 and 50-60 years old - are allowed. "Caregivers" - roughly between 20 and 60-70 years old - are allowed. They are allowed provided that all other requirements are met. All people approximately after 70 years old are not allowed to iToFormation. I cannot admit you to iToFormation if you have exceeded your age suitability. Of course, each case must be considered individually and see what exactly cannot be restored in your case, and what are the chances for something else. But generally speaking, the reason for not being admitted due to old age sounds like this: "You are not admitted to iToFormation because most of your organs have already served their time." I live in Stavropol, not in Uhrmnus, and I don't know how to replace old organs with new ones, as they did it. Old age and dying of cancer become the top of your pyramid and to reach it I will first have to deal with the base and body of the pyramid, for me it is an insurmountable titanic work from both a time and energy points of view. And you also need to understand that age over 70 is entering forbidden territory of Rejuvenation. There are already different laws at work. Laws of Pornography of Death. Of course, if you are over 70, I will refuse you. Maybe someday, when I have my own clinic, the necessary equipment and enough financial resources, I will be able to "push" the age restrictions up by 10 years, setting the "ceiling" of iToFormation to 80 years. And now, in a home environment - I don't have neither the strength nor opportunities to do it. And from a moral point of view, bringing "old" people back from the afterlife, I perfectly understand that I will open Pandora's Box... with all the consequences. At the moment, I am not ready for such consequences. In general, death in old age is a "useful" phenomenon, there is no tragedy in such a death. If you can "detach" your personality from the body, you will realize that Death is a necessary "sanitary inspector" of the forest of Life. What would happen on Earth if old people continued to live more than they are allowed? I know you don't like such question. And you would like to ask me: "Huh, you are a smart guy telling us 'fairy tales' here, and you probably don't plan to die?". I am planning to. You can read about my death in section "5. The Offer of Cooperation to..."

Money - is the same as iTo, the same energy but in the world of human communication. Without iTo you will die and without money you will also die. Naturally, I also need money. This brochure was created for a specific purpose - to buy a house. The knowledge presented in the booklet is aimed at solving my personal financial problems, not to become a "popular" fighter against Death, a "great" savior of the dying, and a "glorious" winner against cancer. I spit at popularity, greatness and fame. They aren't needed for me even for free. I want ordinary human joys: to live in a house, to love a woman and to be loved by her, to create a happy family together, which I didn't have in childhood, to have a baby, to live up to the rest of life with my beloved woman and die holding her hand. That's it! I don't need anything else! But if I fail, then I would like to continue studying Death and unravel its secrets, in order to eventually finish my "game" and go back to where I came from. My wife and I have filed an application for divorce, and according to the Russian law, we should be divorced in a month, on 11/26/2024. According to our agreement on page 4, after the divorce, I will have to leave her. We agreed that I won't divide the property with her, everything will remain her, and she allows me to live with her in our house for another six months after the divorce until I have enough money to buy another place for myself. So, by the end of May 2025, I need to earn the necessary amount to buy a house. During this time, I plan to start and complete at least one iToFormation procedure. $1M will solve all my financial problems. $500,000 will be enough for the house that suits me. I promised to give the other half of $1M to my five assistants (page 28). Therefore, the price for iToFormation cannot be less than $1M. If you don't have $1M, then Auf Wiedersehen, Fremder! Another amount mentioned in the brochure is $100,000. For what? This amount is outside $1M and it will "solve" several tasks at once. The first task is a barrier to our meeting. $100,000 is the price of our meeting. Don't rush to argue. Look, if I were 20-30, I could do it without these $100,000. New acquaintances, new connections, new opportunities and overall it would just be fun and exciting to interact with new people while promoting and advancing my unique services. But I am 46 and at this age I don't want to waste my time on useless conversations "about nothing", I don't want new cool acquaintances just for fun, I am not interested in fun and joy from communicating with new people. I have outgrown the age of "pointless" meetings. I don't need them...

The purpose of our first meeting is to get to know each other personally and discuss your access to iToFormation. I don't think there are people willing to pay $100,000 just to look at me, just to make sure that I am an alive person. $100,000 is too expensive for "just looking", even for wealthy people. A barrier of $100,000 will "protect" me from "moneyless" people. If you don't have $100,000 for a meeting, then sorry, we have nothing to talk about. We are from different worlds. The second task is serious intentions. The very fact that you are willing to pay such big sum of money to a complete stranger shows the importance of our meeting for you. It also shows the fact that you are serious. You need it. You want to live! That's the kind of person I can already call "my foreign guest." I want to communicate with such people, I want to get to know them, such people are pleasant to me and I have pleasant news for them. $100,000 - money is not for me, consider them just your VIP ticket for access to a "closed" club. The amount of $100,000 is the ticket price for using the "benefits" of the club. iToFormation is sufferings and agony... Hell on the Earth... I will carefully take you by the hand, or maybe even in my arms, and descend with you into the very real Hell of your dying body. You will feel as bad as never before... you will curse everything and everyone, including me... and in order to prevent you from going insane, me and my assistants will "take care" of you as comfortably as possible. Remember, no intimacy, right? The material comfort we create around you will be like a breath of fresh air in the foul fumes of the fiery Gehenna. $100,000 will be spent on you. In essence, you will live in two dimensions at the same time: your body inside in Hell, and your body outside in Heaven. This will be the balance and it will help you to pass through to the end of iToFormation. Most of this amount will be taken by renting a special house with all the amenities and special meals that ordinary people cannot afford. In Stavropol, renting such house won't be easy task, because houses with suitable conditions for you are usually not rented out, but only sold. Therefore, we will have to "negotiate" with homeowners in a special way to allow us to rent their house for sale. Such rental conditions will cost more than usual. I remind you that iToFormation can last up to 1 year in severe cases. Long story short, as long as you are living in Stavropol, you won't spend a single cent. All expenses for your needs will be included in the cost of the VIP ticket. Read about how you will live and what to do in the "Welcome to Stavropol" section.

The Russian mentality has a peculiar feature - if people give money for their service to other people, they often want to make sure that their money is being spent correctly. Collecting bills, taking screenshots, keeping track, etc. If you want to control where and on what we will spend your $100,000 - please, it's your right, I don't mind. But I warn you, Alice and I won't deal with such fucking things. Why? I don't even know what to tell you, don't want to do it at all. Figure it out yourself, then after iToFormation, show Alice your calculations and we will return you the remaining unused money from $100,000. Task three - quick refund. Let's say you wired the money, came to the meeting, were serious about iToFormation, but... something unexpected happened during our meeting... What? Anything can upset you: you didn't like the place you were invited to, you didn't like the way my interpreter translates you, you didn't like the way I looked at you, or the color of my shirt annoys you... Anything can happen! Listen to your heart, if it tells you: "I shouldn't be here", "I don't like these people", "This meeting was a mistake", etc. Just tell me: "I want a refund". Without asking you any unnecessary questions right away, I take out my smartphone and give you back $100,000. Your hotel room number is covered for three days. It's fine. No offence. If you didn't like something, you don't even need to tell us the reason for your decision. Just say "I want a refund" and that's it, no explanations needed. You won't be the only one person we have for iToFormation sessions, the sooner you understand that we aren't suitable for each other, the sooner other people will be able to meet with us and possibly save their lives. Return to the hotel, the hotel staff will help you purchase a ticket for the return flight, assist with luggage, taxi, etc. Return home. Our relationship is over. Task four - you don't meet the requirements of iToFormation and I have to refuse you. Read more about it in the "The Meeting" part. If I told you "no", then you have two options. The first one is $100,000 stay with us, and you take the plane and return home to utilise the reason of the refusal. When you are ready, return to Stavropol for a re-check. There is no need to pay for the meeting next time. The second reason is that I said "no" and understand that you won't be able to eliminate the reason, so I will return $100,000 to you myself. I refuse because I don't want to be your killer. Die by yourself without me. Please don't beg and cry. Further increase in the amount of money won't help. No, means NO! Go back home. Prepare for death... be with your loved ones...

Task five - deception during the conduct of iToFormation. If there is deception on your part that "disrupts" the course of iToFormation and doesn't allow me to "stop" cancer, then I will terminate iToFormation myself. $100,000 will remain with us as compensation for deception and time wasted on you. You will have full right to sue me for "stealing" $100,000 from you. If it goes to court, don't worry, you will win in court - I won't challenge the court's decision with a dying person and return your money. Where there is money, there will always be disputes. Our relationship is over. Now I want to touch on the important topic of our relationship. Gifts, presents, bribes... what other words are there to describe quick and convenient ways to achieve desired results? How can they be used with iToFormation? Personally, I always try to use such "convenient tools" of human relationships wherever possible, starting from a piece of chocolate and ending with money in an envelope. Why should I wait for something when I can pay "under the table" and not wait? I always do that. And why not? I have a good attitude towards the so-called "bribes". It is convenient, fast, and most importantly effective. For example, recently I was stopped by a police officer for breaking the rules on the road. He suggested filling out some papers, then I should be summoned to court, where I have to pay my fine. Why? I am very glad that I was born and raised in Russia, where almost any issues are resolved conveniently, quickly, and most importantly effectively. I suggested a different option to the policeman. Half of the fine in cash in the passenger's side door pocket and no need for any courts, time loss, or paper damage. He happily agreed. It is beneficial for him and convenient for me - we made a mutually beneficial deal. I am guilty and paid... he is right and received. We both were satisfied with our meeting. But how can bribes be used with iToFormation? The only thing you can "buy" by paying more than the amount iToFormation - is a place in the iToFormation queue. I don't hide it, I will choose the one who pays more, but provided that all requirements are met. You can buy iToFormation requirements, but why? This is certain death. Do you want to end your life through iToFormation? Are you crazy? And I have nothing else to bribe for. Give a bribe to yourself instead, to go through iToFormation. Do not give gifts to my two stunning assistants - models behind my back. Give them openly. I'm serious, I don't mind! A gorgeous woman = genetics + hard work + money. Give them everything you want to give me, but only if they are okay with it...

Before meeting with me, try to tune in, reflect and have a "conversation" alone with yourself. Ask yourself a few of the most important questions and try to answer them honestly, there is no one to lie to, you are alone with yourself. You have cancer and you are dying. You went to doctors and they told you: "Don't worry, be optimistic, don't think about Death!". But inside of you, your inner voice, your heart tells you that they are lying. Nothing good will happen to you anymore, no one will save you. Maybe it's time for you to stop using the word "Belief" in your vocabulary? Go back to page 29 and study it carefully. Cancer diseases have killed millions of people, Belief has killed more than billions than currently living on planet Earth. Because of Belief, people have always killed, are killing, and will continue to kill each other. When the whole nations destroy and annihilate each other, which happens regularly, then Belief is the main reason. Moreover, destruction and annihilation always begin not from the outside, but from within, in the mind, in thoughts. All deadly diseases compared to Belief are children's toys. Belief is the most terrible disease on Earth. Belief is a weapon of mass destruction of humanity. You die because you constantly believe someone! When will you learn to listen to your heart? How many "sons of God" must come to you before you realize that your Belief is killing you? Don't believe me, don't believe holy scriptures, don't believe anyone... listen only to yourself! Only yourself! Study Yourself! You are the Alpha and the Omega! I suggest you "replace" your Belief with Feeling. Feeling of Death! Doctors say, "Don't worry, nothing to be afraid of, everything will be fine." And I say, "Worry, everything is terrible, it won't be good!" Doctors say, "Don't think about Death." And I say, "Think... definitely think about Death!" Why think about Death when you are alive? And then, by deeply contemplating Death within yourself, you stop being afraid of it and learn to understand it. And if you stop being afraid of Death, you will take control of all fears. Nothing can scare you anymore! All your troubles in life are nothing in compare with Death. By "defeating" the fear of Death, you will "crush" all fears with one finger. Your head will stop "swelling" from problems and stress. You will stop getting tired as you are getting tired now. You will have "extra" energy in your body... it will save you, not doctors and medicines. Thoughts of Death will make you calm, focused, and ready for iToFormation...

The Meeting - 1

Did you finally decide to meet? It is preferable for you to fly to Russia/Stavropol for a meeting with me together with someone. You don't need to bring more people for company, they will only be a hindrance. On your part, there should be no more than two people. Of course, you can also come alone to the meeting if you are a brave and confident person. But I don't recommend you to visit Russia alone. It won't be easy for a foreigner here by themselves. To take part in iToFormation, you will need to live with someone, and it shouldn't be a person with whom you could have intimate relationships, i.e. a woman cannot bring a husband, boyfriend, lover, etc., and a man cannot be alone with another woman. The sixth requirement of iToFormation - no sex! Who could this second person be? The one who will be with you day and night, the one who can call Alice at any time in case of your "complications". Read more about the second person in the "Welcome to Stavropol" section. Before arriving in Stavropol, you need to arrange our meeting with the operators in the Telegram ILWD group. Read the "Operators" section. I may be busy with meetings with other people and you may have to wait a bit. I apologize in advance for any possible delays. Have you arranged the meeting with the operators? The next step is to transfer the cryptocurrency equivalent of $100,000 at the current exchange rate to the details on page 2. Why cryptocurrency and not a bank account? There are significant reasons - I live in Russia. Details can be found in the "The Contracts" section. When you transfer the crypto, provide the transaction details to the operators and any personal data, which can be fake. As long as we can "tie" together the time of your transaction, transaction details, your contact in Telegram, and personal information into a single profile. So that for us YOU are YOU. When everything is done, you can fly to Stavropol according to the scheduled meeting date. There is only one reason why I cannot meet you in Stavropol - my death. There can be no other reasons. I am not going to "die" because of your $100,000. I have other goals in life. I have already talked about the lie in the iToFormation requirements, but I will repeat it because it is extremely important. When communicating with me, try not to lie me and not to appear better than you really are, make an effort, do not wear faceless masks. If you don't want to tell me the truth, then just keep silent or "leave" the topic, but don't lie. By the way, at the meeting you can be incognito, i.e. not say your real initials and not show your passport. But, You can't do that during iToFormation session...

The Meeting - 2

Have you arrived in Stavropol? We are starting our first day of the meeting. Two of my assistants have met you at the airport and are taking you to me. Take a look at yourself in the mirror. How do you look after the flight? Do you like yourself? If not, please ask the girls who accompany you not to come to me right away, but to go to the hotel: freshen up, take a shower, maybe change clothes, touch up your makeup if you're a woman, and just leave your stuff in the room hotel for your convenience. If you need such preparation, do not hesitate to voice your desires, as you are already an owner of a VIP ticket. The girls will wait while you get yourself together. This is an important meeting for you and for me. Please approach it with all your responsibility. I ask you to dress up for the meeting in the best outfit you have, regardless of whether you are a man or a woman. Show yourself in the "best light" to me. You must have your neck open. If you are a woman with long hair, please do not let your hair down, but gather it and pin it neatly at the top. If you are a woman, I also ask you to limit the amount of makeup on your face. Make a simple minimal style make-up. I need to see the condition of your clean skin. If what I see is not enough, I will ask for permission to sniff you. Don't be afraid, I'm not a vampire and I won't bite you. I will need to "tie" your natural scent to your personality. Don't use perfume for our meeting. It will "override" the real smell of your body. Flying to meet with me, you must, you are obliged to bring all possible documents regarding your life-threatening illness: images, referrals, test results, and chemistry results (if done), show me everything. You must provide me with these documents on the very first day of our acquaintance, if there aren't enough of them for me to understand the overall picture of your illness, then I will send you home for additional medical examinations. Or alternatively, you will have to stay in Stavropol for more than 3 days. You will undergo the necessary tests and analyses for me at local clinics. Choose for yourself what is convenient for you. I repeat, any additional expenses you may have while in Russia are on us and should not bother you at all. You should think about Death and not be distracted by the trivialities of life. When communicating with me, do not rely on your memory, prepare questions in advance on paper, because without paper, looking into my eyes, you will forget half of them. Ask, do not hesitate. I highly recommend you to get a good rest on the plane and be full of strength and energy for the meeting. Our meeting can turn your whole life around...

-----

The girls took you to me to the restaurant. A usual greeting and handshake. Don't be surprised or embarrassed if I "linger" while inspecting your hands. Hands are the least shy part of your body that you will have to show me. At the first meeting, I don't need to know what you have under your clothes, but keep in mind that at iToFormation I will need to see the "truth" that may be hidden in the most "interesting" places of your body. If you feel shy and your culture or upbringing doesn't allow such "freedom", it is not too late to return to the doctors. In general, I want to warn you in advance so you don't get scared - I will be studying and "scanning" every centimeter of your body. Be prepared for a very detailed study of your body. By the way, it's time to remember another feature of iToFormation's "stopping" cancer from conventional treatment in oncology centers. Your treating oncologists may have several patients, the doctor's personal life, not daily monitoring of you, etc. You must understand that the doctor won't be thinking about you 24/7. It is physically impossible for doctor. Hence the result. iToFormation requires total concentration only on you. I will have only you as a patient. We will meet each day. If we need to meet for a year, it means we will see each other for 365 days in a row. Everything around you will "revolve" and "change" as if around the center of iToFormation. This is the only way to achieve the results that I describe in the brochure. That is why personal relationships between us are so important... Let's go back to the cozy restaurant. You are from the airport and must be hungry. I will ask you for your medical documents and will start studying them without wasting time, and don't be shy and feel like at home at this time. Just please no alcohol, and if you feel like smoking, it's better to do it outside. I need time for documents, while you have time for a meal. Once you satisfy your hunger, I will start asking you about the requirements of iToFormation, and you will respond to my questions in the most detailed form with examples from your personal life. Prepare at home, my questions won't be "easy". When I finish "interrogating" you with requirements, I will ask you several personal questions unrelated to iToFormation, and the first day of the meeting can be considered over. We will spend around 2-4 hours. That's it. The girls will take you back to the hotel and you can spend the rest of the day there, or you can go for a walk and see Stavropol. If you need assistance or just want to talk to my assistants, they are at your service. The first day of the meeting is over.

Good morning, the second day... In the morning I won't meet with you because I will be studying your documents for most of the day, I may need to translate some parts, so I won't be able to send my translator to you. Spend the day as you wish, if you need help getting around the city, Alice will be happy to assist. Alice can take you around and show a few houses, for example, one of which you will be staying during the iToFormation. By the evening of the second day, I should have a general picture of your problem, the girls will bring you to the same restaurant. While studying the documents, I will have a lot of questions, which I will ask you. For review, I will once again "walk through" the iToFormation requirements with a new depth of understanding of your disease. This is not madness, but my way of delving into the nature of things. When I was little and learning to write, my first teacher told me: "Vanechka, because of your speech, you will have difficulties in life, so remember - "repetition is the mother of learning", always repeat what you have learned several times! Always repeat! Thank you, Olga Pavlovna, I remembered. Once I know everything I need, I will be able to voice my verdict on your issue - whether anything can be done for you or you should prepare for dying. You must bravely accept any of my answers. I will tell you "yes" or "no" looking straight into your eyes. If "yes", then you are lucky, you are a lucky one, you have a chance. Congratulations, you have been admitted to iToFormation. Go back home, prepare the first contract, we are preparing the second (blood) one, negotiate with the operators about the start date of iToFormation and come back to me in Stavropol. Everything, further goes iToFormation itself. If "no", then I return you $100,000 and our relationship is over. If I don't return it, then you fly to "correct" your mistakes with iToFormation requirements and then return for a repeat meeting. And the third option is for the crazy and the suicidal. At first, I didn't want to include it in the brochure so you wouldn't know such an option exists. But then I decided, a person should always have a choice even in the most hopeless situation. What if it works out! It all depends on you! You can completely forget about all the rules and requirements. There will be a third contract - the Death Contract. In this case, the money is transferred to us before iToFormation, not after as usual. We will help to deliver your body to your homeland. VIP ticket can be used even by the dead. I ask the "person under sentence of death" to do only one thing - memorize page 200 by heart and do as it says there...

The Contracts - 1

Throughout the history, people have deceived each other. Lies, deceit, and betrayal are in human nature and are an integral part of human relationships. This is normal. Let's think together how I can deceive you and steal your money, and how you can fool me by not paying for iToFormation session. From you I can only get three amounts: $1000 for a paid question, $100,000 for a meeting with me, and $1M, $2-5M or $10M for iToFormation. Let's skip $1000 and I will immediately move to $100,000. The question is. Can I steal $100,000 from you? Theoretically... yes, I can! You wire $100,000 to me for the meeting, arrive in Stavropol, and no one meets you, Telegram ILWD group doesn't respond, the phones of my assistants are disconnected. I "wanished" with your money in an unknown direction. Can you imagine that? If you don't mind, reread the pages where I share my future plans with you. Read the pages where I talk about billionaires, world rulers, my personal brand representative in the USA, and dreams of owning a clinic in the Alps. Did you find these lines in the brochure? Just look, I have spent my whole life studying and understanding Death, created this brochure for you and shared my desires and plans for life with you. If I stole $100,000 from you, do you think I would ruin everything with one stupid step? Don't trust me, put yourself in my shoes. Would you steal $100,000 from someone else just to lose the meaning of your life? Would you do it this way? Answer instead of me. What would you do with this money? Would you go to Stavropol restaurants trying to look smart? I wouldn't even be able to buy a house for that money. Do you understand the contrast between $100,000 and my plans? Seriously, thinking that I could steal $100,000 from you and dismiss everything... it's starting to sound like paranoid nonsense. If you didn't understand what I jave just explained you, then don't try to contact with me. I don't need your money. We don't understand each other. We have nothing to do together. The third sum is the payment for iToFormation. How can I steal these millions from you if you only pay me after the successful completion of iToFormation? How can I do it? Come to your country and rob the bank where you keep your money? Or what else? If iToFormation is stopped, you either "rejected" it or it "failed" and you died, that's it - I don't get any money. How can I cheat you? Every action must have a motive, every deceit, every theft has its motivation. Explain me what my motive is? Why would I lie and steal money from you, if I can honestly earn them from you? Where is the common sense in such deception? Can you answer me?

Now how can you delude me. The first amount - $1000 - in no way, you pay first, and then you get an answer to your question with my signature, so you know that I wrote the answer personally, not anyone else. Detailed information on paid questions can be found in the "Operators" section. The second amount is $100,000 - you can trick me this way. For example. You transfer money to me, then we meet, you can provide me fake data about your "illness" or even fake it in such a way that you supposedly have a cancer, but in reality you are healthy. Many ways to deceive can be invented, the goal is one - to meet me, talk for two days, and then say "I want a refund". And I will return the money to you without asking any questions. Is it possible to do? Of course, it is! Why? I don't know your hidden motives. Maybe it's a gimmick, maybe someone asked you, maybe you want to find out something about iToFormation firsthand, etc. Anything can happen. What am I losing? Two days of time, a bill at the restaurant, and payment for your room for three days? Well, it's not a big deal, at least you will see Stavropol, take a break from the hustle and bustle of your daily life routine. I won't have any offences at you. Good deception is also an art, it is a certain beauty. Just do it beautifully, implement it with a creative approach. Trick me elegantly, with a good sense of taste, so that the meeting with you will be remembered to me. Be a personality! I will forget your fraud in a couple of hours, but I will always remember your Personality. The third amount - let's immediately take the maximum - $10M for pancreatic cancer. How couldn't you pay me $10M for stopping this "complex" cancer? It's very simple. When iToFormation is over and the cancer is "stopped", pack your things and go home. The date of your possible death will be written in our two contracts. If you are alive on this date, according to our agreements, you will be required to pay me for the iToFormation within three months after this date. If you don't do it, you violate both contracts. I am not interested in violating the first legal contract. Violating the contract with a drop of your blood on paper, that will be enough for me. Blood pact breach is a serious crime... You might think: "Well, and what? Tell me what will happen?". I can answer you in a paid question. Right now you are my reader, and then you may become a "foreign guest". To tell a guest what will happen to him in case of a blood covenant violation, I currently consider inappropriate and offensive. There are mistakes that can be made only once. Please do not make such mistakes! You won't be able to correct them later...

Well, okay, we "deceived" and "cheated" each other. What's the next step? Maybe we should just be decent and civilized people, behaving properly and honestly? Or is such behavior no longer possible in the modern world? How do civilized people act when it comes to money and they want to reach an agreement on something? They meet contracts with the involvement of a third party as a mediator. Legislative organisations and laws of the territories where such organisations are located usually act as the third party. If you are a Martian and live on Mars, then contracts must be drawn up according to the laws of Mars, if you run naked in the jungle, then contracts must be written in accordance with the laws of the jungle... I told you, we will have two agreements: legal and blood. The agreements will be supervised by Alice, my assistant. She simply won't be able to comprehend all the intricacies of the legislation of different countries. That's why we'll do it this way. The first agreement you will make in accordance with the laws and norms where you live. You can hire professional lawyers, or you can write it yourself. You must make the first contract and specify everything you want and don't want there, outline all possible actions, risks, and obligations of both parties. This contract must include an approximate date of your death. This date will be the return point start for iToFormation. Where can you get it? You need to find competent doctors in your country who, after a thorough examination of cancer, should honestly tell you how much time you have. Usually, they cannot accurately "look" further than 1 year. This date must be pointed in the contract. You can even not go to specialists at all and come up with it yourself. At our first meeting, I will determine how much time you have left and then compare it to your date. If you "overestimate" it too much, I won't sign the contract and iToFormation won't be allowed you. The payment for the completed work depends on this date. I remind you that you are making this contract primarily for yourself and for the judicial system of your country. Make the contract constantly thinking about Death, this way it will be easier for you, your thoughts will automatically materialize at the tip of your fingers into the right words. This contract will look like a very elaborate version of a posthumous will for relatives. Ask your lawyers, they should know how to write such wills. In short, as you fly away from me after the meeting, I will give you a homework task - to compose such contract at home. Do it however you want and however you can, but do it! Have you done it? Send it to us...

-----

Further, Alice will start the correcting work. She will "fix" it and add the necessary points for us. The contract won't be small, as we will describe in detail all our relationships in it. Let's add everything we can add to the contract. Why such detail? So that you don't deviate from the true path of iToFormation. So that you see what I and you can do, and what is not allowed. And finally, I will need this contract if you die during iToFormation and Russian law enforcement agencies or someone from your embassy come to me with the questions. The first legal contract, drafted and signed by you, will be able to comprehensively answer all their questions. So, Alice will "correct" the contract and send it to you. You will look at the corrected version from us and also "correct" it according to the new points. Have you ever played ping pong? That's exactly how it will be with the first contract - we will correct it until it fully satisfies both parties. How much time will it take? Honestly, I don't know, I have never created such documents. People create business plans, and we will create our death plan. Once we reach consensus on the first contract, we can move on to the second. Unlike the first big contract, the second one will always be one page long. And while the first one is signed with a regular ink pen, we will sign the second one with blood. Behind the first legal document will be the laws and judicial system of your country. Behind the blood contract will be Death and her laws. I am just a regular person made of flesh and blood. You can deceive me however you want, it's easy to do. And courts and laws can also be deceived, a little more difficult, but still possible. But show me... show me at least one person who has deceived Death? By breaking the blood pact, you will already be deceiving not me... I know you don't understand what I'm trying to say here. Yes, I won't even try... why? Let it be a surprise for you. It's even more interesting this way... So, we have drawn up two contracts. The big one for you, the other small one for us. We will make two copies, one for me and one for you. Now you can visit me in Stavropol for iToFormation session. Your millions are in a safe place, in a bank in your country. You have already paid $100,000 earlier for a VIP ticket. The last thing left is to sign our two copies of each contract with a regular pen and our blood. As for the third type of contract for the insane, I won't speak, because the very fact of the existence of such a contract is clear madness. Its discussion is only for a face-to-face meeting. That's all, I'm waiting for you at iToFormation...

Welcome to Stavropol - 1

So, what about Stavropol? The city is situated on a hill and it can get quite cold in winter here due to the winds, even at not very low temperatures. If you are from warm countries, keep this in mind, you can easily catch a cold and "get" yourself a common bronchitis. We don't need to have a cold during iToFormation session. Wet snow, strong wind, mud and slush... all these weather "joys" you will be able to feel on your body. But you didn't come here to have fun, but to fight for your life. Therefore, such atmosphere of discomfort will only strengthen you. You must bring one person with you to stay, preferably someone from your family. At iToFormation, he/she can't be, but will live with you. The role of this person is very important. Perhaps he/she will even have the opportunity to save your life. Even in the case of a third contract, the presence of this person is necessary, he will be a witness too your death and will act as a living "appendix" to the contract. Essentially, your second person will be my "insurance" in case of iToFormation "failure", and for you as a reliable support during the most challenging periods of your transformation through iTo. Exactly with this person Alice will solve all your household problems and provide you with everything you need to achieve the desired result - stopping cancer. Let me tell you about the approximate daily routine. It's approximate, because the more accurate I will base and correct according to your body constitution. Your day will go like this. We will meet three times a day from 10 am to 1 pm, from 3 pm to 6 pm, and from 8 pm to 9 pm. The first two time intervals are for physical exercises and cleansing procedures, while the third segment is for massage, manual therapy, and checking iTo ducts. The time between 1 pm - 3 pm, 6 pm - 8 pm, and 9 pm - 10 pm will be for rest and having meals. Please note! It is forbidden to consume any food not received from Alice. You can't buy or order anything anywhere! All your food will come only from Alice! I will show you how to eat "correctly" at the "stopping" cancer procedure. Your day ends at 10pm and you need to sleep. No evening walks around the city, TV, computer, etc. Sleep at 10 pm! Wake up no earlier than 8 am, you can wake up at 9 am and even later, just a few minutes before our meeting at 10 am. You must sleep at least 10 hours a day. And you will sleep that much, don't worry, insomnia will only occur during organ cleanses. Those will be special days and there will be a different schedule. It seems like you won't have any time for entertainment. Remember, you are a dying patient, not a tourist!

And what about rest, weekends, and holidays like all normal people have? You can't act this way towards me! But I can... You just haven't tried the possibilities that your body is capable of before. You will rest and celebrate in "the next world", but in "this world" you needn't be lazy and work. 10 hours of sleep is the best rest you can imagine. In general, I want to touch the topic of the so-called "rest". I disagree with the commonly accepted definition of this term. For example, here in Russia, people often return from their "rest" even more tired than they were before it. They come back and start relaxing from "relaxation". Isn't it enough such kind of "relaxation" for you? If your answer is yes, then why did you come to iToFormation? I can clearly formulate what true rest is - it's when you receive iTo more than you spend. Sports, travel, sex, theater, walks, resorts, computer games, a pleasant conversation in a cafe, etc. - is this a rest? No, this isn't a relaxation, because in all of these actions you spend iTo more than you gain. You lose more energy than you get! So, what kind of relaxation is that? Rest is when you gain more than you lose. The king of chill is Dream, followed by Meditation in second place, Nutrition in third place, Yoga in fourth place, and so on. Therefore, when you talk about "rest", you deceive yourself. Because you will fool not me, but yourself. You must make a choice: either you "rest" like all normal people and then lie in the cemetery like all normal people, or you don't consider yourself with all normal people and continue to live on, rather than die like they do. Decide who you are with. Your personality, which loved to "relax" and celebrate everything, led you to cancer, led you to Death. Do you want to know how the residents of Stavropol "take a rest" and celebrate something? You have a companion, a second person living with you. Let him go to the city while you are busy with iToFormation, and "relax" with other normal people. In the evening, he will tell you about his "rest". Fantasize on his story and that will be enough for you. Think about Death, because it "thinks" about you around the clock. How else can I explain it to you? By the way, while no one sees you, no alcohol, cigarettes, drugs, or any other stimulants of the nervous system. Don't interrupt me from "stopping" your cancer. If you want something and it isn't mentioned in the contract and you don't know if it is allowed or not, just ask me or Alice. If you have a fear of enclosed spaces and cannot stay in your own home for a long period, then we will correct your schedule and "walk" you around the city with my assistants.

Haven't you forgotten that you will come to iToFormation as one person, but leave as a completely different one? You will change as a person, and your desires and habits will also change along with you. iToFormation - the perfect moment of your life, when you stop paying attention to other people and focus entirely on yourself. Why do you need anyone else when you have YOU. The closest and dearest person. It's YOU! Most people consider such self-attitude as unhealthy egoism, harmful individualism, or a personality disorder based on narcissism. In your holy scriptures, there is a wonderful phrase from Matthew 22:39 "Love your neighbor as yourself". Split this phrase into two parts. What does the second part say? It says that you need to love yourself first, and only then you will be able to love your neighbor. First love yourself, and then you can love anyone, even a devil with horns. Because how can you give something to another person if you don't have it yourself? How can you give love to another if you don't possess it? You can't give what you don't have. Therefore, first love yourself through selfishness, individualism, and narcissism, and then, if you feel like it, share your love with others. For example, I regret to share my portions of iTo, my love with strangers. I can only "give" a part of myself to someone who is willing to "give" a part of themselves to me, and I don't care about the rest of another people. Therefore, I am not suitable for the role of a "savior". And I don't recommend to you to "save" others. Save yourself! If everyone stops "saving" others and saves themselves, then the colors of the world will become much brighter and juicier. You will "rest" and "walk" when your cancer is "stopped". You will celebrate your second birthday. It doesn't really matter whether iToFormation takes place in Stavropol or Istanbul, the only thing that matters is your attitude towards your inner world, towards your 'kingdom of heaven' that is always with you, inside your body. You will be able to feel it with every cell of your organism - go through iToFormation and continue living, if you can't feel it - you will die and be buried in the ground like all normal people. The more abnormal and unique you are, without "patterns" in your consciousness, without beliefs, dogmas, and illusions, the easier it will be to "stop" cancer. Dear gentlemen and lovely ladies, direct your most intimate desires and fantasies towards extending life. There is no "afterlife", there is no reincarnation... you will disappear into nothingness. Your individuality will vanish forever, and your portions of iTo will "turn into" another organisms...

Operators - 1

I need several girls as operators for the Telegram ILWD group. Age 25-40. Girls younger than 25 often don't know what they want from life. Showing a passport is necessary. Excellent knowledge of Russian and English at a conversational level. Absence of a "sharp hearing" accent, or it should be your charm - unusual and beautiful in sound. Character is a careerist. If you have a family or children, then you aren't a careerist, but a housewife. I don't want to say that being a housewife is bad, you just won't be able to work effectively, constantly being distracted by same family responsibilities. Lots of free time. You choose the convenient time of the day and the duration of the shift yourself and coordinate it with your manager, my translator. She will monitor the quality of operators' work. Your shift can last up to 8 hours. You don't need more, you will get tired, which will affect the quality of communication on the channel. If you have other things, work, hobbies, it will be difficult for you to combine them with ILWD. For me, the "living scent" of conversations on the channel is important, not just dry question-answer. The response to your answer to a "foreign guest" shouldn't exceed 1 minute, i.e. if you were written something, then you must at least respond with Hi or Hello within 1 minute. A person should understand within a minute that they are in contact with you and you are ready to start the conversation. Willingness to work at night. For what? "Foreign guests" live in different time zones around the planet and they can't wait for your morning. If you have a couple, he won't like it. You need to choose either him or ILWD. Photomodel appearance. Video calls may be possible, so your face should be the personification of beauty and health. Your beautiful appearance should speak volumes even before the conversation begins. I will show you how to create a unique image of one and only woman. You will be easily remembered and recognized all over the world. Reading and understanding of the brochure content is necessary. Otherwise, how will you communicate? If you don't like how a "guest" connects with you, you will have the right to block him, but be sure to specify the reason. Bribes are good! I am not against "gifts" and money wires from a "guest" to you personally. If you can do it - do it! I am not against your personal relationship with the "guest", maybe you will even meet your Love. It will be difficult for you to work with me if you only think about money, you must also have a personal interest for the "forbidden" things and a passion for your work. Send your photos and a brief resume to the Telegram ILWD group...

The requirements are unusual, but you should agree that the work is also unusual. The more "out of this world" you are, the more interesting and pleasant it will be for you in ILWD. I want you to enjoy working with me, to receive not only monetary reward for your work, but also personal satisfaction from comfort and a sense of your own importance in this world. To make you feel like you are in the right place. And in order for you to be with me and help me, I must somehow interest you. To offer something that others can't offer. You can be retained in two ways: with the amount of money and excellent working conditions. I want to offer you both ways. But first, you need to understand my attitude towards other people. We haven't known each other yet, I am a stranger to you, and you are to me. Look, I think that there can be no equality and brotherhood between people. Any ideas advocating for the common equality of people are criminal and go against the laws of Life. No one is equal to anyone! The rich should get richer, and the poor should become poorer. Some should throw scraps from the table into the trash, while others should rummage through the trash and collect those scraps. Some should be beautiful, well-groomed, pleasantly smelling, wear jewelry and drive luxurious cars. And others should be scary, dirty, bad-smelling, wear torn clothes and sleep at the bus stops... No one is pitied! I am against equality of people and against standard wages. If one person works just to do the work, while another person works excellent, should they both receive equal pay? Of course not! In my approach to compensation, I will use the definition Reward. Salary is a leveling for ordinary people, while Reward is an assessment of the abilities of your specific personality. At the beginning of our relationship, I will pay you exactly as much as you deserve. How much you earn... that share you will receive. You will have two goals. The first is to have a pleasant conversation and answer guests' questions. The second one is to motivate people to ask paid questions and bring them to Stavropol for a meeting. Paid question - $1000, your share is 10%. Meeting - $100,000 - your share 1%. If they ask you 2 paid questions per shift, that's $200 for you. Agree on 2 meetings per shift - $2000 for you. But that's not all. When you "get used to" me, and me to you, then the Reward (salary) you will choose for yourself! This is how individuals should act. I want people working with me should be able to afford a lot. Read more about the Reward in section "1. The Offer of Cooperation to...". And now let's see what real paid questions can look like...

Question

On page 47, you talk about the dying person's desire to "fly", about some superpower, and the "divine" behavior of a person during the intestine cancer-stopping. I don't understand, is this an allegory or can this really happen to a sick person's body? And why do you need to "bring down from the heavens" and take away the strength afterwards?

Answer

No, this isn't an allegory. Intestine cancer is the most energetically "dense" cancer because the intestine is like a machine for extracting portions of iTo from organics. The intestine is a source of your energy, a melting oven for converting substances into energy. Important note, the source is not the birth of iTo, but only transformation. This isn't my discovery. Some Taoist techniques of "growing" are based on the energy of the intestine. Yes, you will have the desire to "fly", the main thing not to let you "take off" through the window of a high-rise building. You will feel the superpower in your limbs and the desire to use it will also come to you. There will be a temporary obsession like from using strong drugs and a feeling of omnipotence. When cancer "stops" the ducts are "released" from the "host" - the cancerous tumor and "move" to other organs, where they should be. "The restructuring" of ducts evokes different feelings, including "a descent from heaven" and "a loss of power". If the power were maintained, then cancer wouldn't be able to "fall asleep" in a coma, but would continue to "feed" and grow. I understand the meaning "force" is when the iTo flows, temporarily subordinate to cancer. In general, a person becomes dangerous when his intestine "explodes" from an excess amount of iTo, and his eyes "sparkle" with fire. In ancient myths and legends of the East, such person was called a Djinn. Destroying with the help of iTo has always been more interesting than creating, so Djinnns are remembered only with evil. Intestine cancer is the most interesting cancer in terms of the energy of a dying person, but also the most unpleasant due to the contents of the intestine.

I don't have cancer and I'm not interested in it at all, your brochure isn't for me, except one important topic that you briefly touched on. I am trying to study magic, black magic, which you say you can't tolerate. I didn't understand why it is so unpleasant to you? I liked what you said about "dark" personalities on pages 12 & 26. I found out the conclusion that 99% of them are clowns in black hoods. And then you say on page 100 that you want to be friends and collaborate with the remaining 1%. Is this a joke? Is it your dark humor about real witches and warlocks? Explain details how exactly you want to "make friends" with them? And also how can a person meet with you and talk... I know you don't like to talk "about nothing". Is black magic an appropriate topic for our conversation? I don't have $100,000 to meet with you. I only managed to save $1000.

The question is not related to the brochure. And I should ignore it and return you $1000 back. But my heart tells me not to act this way. Never spend your last money on other people. I am returning $1000 to you and answering your question. Don't give up on studying what you are so interested in. Your mind may not understand this, but the heart can't be wrong. I understand magic as a connection with Nature. You will be surprised, but "black magic", which you are trying to study, is more related to Life than Death. In other words, real magic is Life itself. I don't like "magic" because it all sinks in lies and clowning. I can't stand lies, but not real magic. And when I talk about witches and warlocks, for me they are "collective" images of people with rare abilities, not fictional characters from movies. I use words that are understandable to you, if I say: "I want to meet the scanner iTo". You will ask: "And who is that?" But witches, warlocks, magicians... words that are familiar and clear to everyone. I plan to become friends with them through mutual exchange of experience. I will write to you in a private Telegram contact how we can meet. But I will ask you to "open up" your identity before we meet.

My wife and I are elderly people. We used to have a child a long time ago, but a tragic accident took them away from us. We have everything we need, we want for nothing, we live for our own pleasure. But time is passing, and we are getting older. There is a feeling that not much has been done in life... I want to achieve and see a lot more. We don't have cancer. We have a healthy lifestyle, take care of ourselves, go for daily runs, relax in nature and everything like that. My wife recently had a facelift. Everything is fine, we love each other... but we are getting older and we see how it happens every day in the mirror when we brush our teeth. Reading your brochure, it is clear that you have a negative attitude towards the topic of Rejuvenation. Is this related to the woman on the first page? You don't have to answer, I guess I'm getting into something that's out of my business. And the last section in the brochure just added more questions. When can we find out the answers to them? Are you planning a sequel, should we wait for ILWD 2? Is there a way to stop our aging somehow? Just tell me how much!?

Yes, there are some questions that I don't want to answer. No, I don't plan to continue the ILWD brochure. Why? I am not a writer making a living by writing books. If you see ILWD 2 somewhere, I have nothing to do with it. I briefly mentioned Rejuvenation on different pages of the brochure. I listed several reasons why I don't want to engage in Rejuvenation, but the main one me. It's true that I've already lived half of my life, but I haven't achieved anything significant in it. I am nobody. And now I am trying to "unlock" my knowledge about iToFormation and become someone. I want to stop being nobody. I am trying to start a new life, maybe have a family, maybe try to find meaning in human joys. I'm trying... but will I succeed? Rejuvenation can "destroy" me and everyone I am trying to improve my life with. There is a way to stop your aging, but there is no executor. For Rejuvenation, I must be different... and I am not ready! My time hasn't come yet.

1. The Offer of Cooperation to Alice - 1

Please love and favour, Alice. The real name of this woman can be anything. Alice isn't a name, but a position. Yandex created a virtual voice assistant Alice. I also chose a virtual assistant with the name Alice. At the time of writing these lines, 27/11/2024, I haven't met her yet. I am waiting for you, Alice, appear in my life as soon as possible. I need you very much. It will be difficult for me to conduct iToFormation without you. While you are thinking whether you need to "contact" me, I will show you a general picture of our cooperation. If you are from Stavropol - great, it will be easy for you in your hometown. If not, then you will need to move and live in Stavropol. We will rent an apartment for you wherever you want. If you have your own car - great, if not, we will rent it, and with the second iToFormation session we will buy some fashionable car suitable for your style and eye color. By the way, the car will be registered under your name, in case if something happens to me, so that you can quickly sell it and live with dignity for a while until you settle into the next stage of your life. Alice, you aren't my possession and you can leave me at any moment when you wish. Just don't disappear like a dream, so that I don't worry about you, but tell me honestly to my face that you are leaving me. I will understand. I promise I won't look for you, persuade you, or ask uncomfortable questions. You will always be free with me in thoughts and actions. Because only when you are free, you can be truly happy, and maybe even find yourself. The purpose of your work is not only to earn to live decently, but also possibly "come into your own". If you are hardworking, achieving the first one won't be difficult for you. Achieving the second one will be harder. In general, the "secret" of any success is simple. Strive for the impossible - you will achieve the maximum. You will configure your working day as you wish. The only request to you is always to be available, you will have two separate smartphones so that I, my translator, and another person living with the "foreign guest" can contact with you. You must be available at any time of the day! Because the speed of your actions can affect human life. If iToFormation contradicts your moral principles, you won't be able to collaborate with me and "pretend" just for money for a long time. To have everything, you need to give yourself completely, but not to me, but to your beloved business - iToFormation. iToFormation is like a dizzying ball with interesting foreign guests. I need the Queen of the Ball. I invite you into my world, invite you to the ball, ask you to follow me...

REWARD

I am pleased to see rapture is a constant.
Ask for your heart's desires...

You ought to choose a reward yourself

Is that your wish ?
Pleasure doing business with you...

-----

I want to see you exactly like this and I don't accept less. Receiving such rare feminine qualities from you, I must give something that has equal value in return, right? A woman of this level is a rare treasure that requires special treatment and gentle care. What's next? And then math. If you are a modern woman, you are unlikely to use inconvenient cash. If that's the case, it's very easy to calculate your cost of living. When we meet, I will ask you to open your banking app on your smartphone and show me the payment history for the last 12 months. We add up all these amounts and divide by 365, the number of days in a year. The result is the number X - this is the average daily spending for the last year. In other words, throughout the year you spent the amount X every day. Let's multiply it by 2,  $X*2=Y$ . The sum of Y is the amount that I am willing to offer you right now at the start without asking any questions. Notice, Y is twice as much as your usual needs. Do you agree? If yes, then we have an agreement and can start working. If not and you want more, then we move on to the promised Reward. There are two wonderful English words "enhancement" and "entertainment". I am very close to the first and far from the second one. I want you to grow and become better and better every day, and I don't want to take part in your degradation from useless entertainment. If you want to relax, chill, and do nothing, then you aren't suitable for the Alice position. But if you want to be more beautiful, stronger, smarter, younger, and better in every way and direction, then we have found each other. Choose any Reward that will be affordable for me, but only prove and convince me that you are moving along the path of developing your personality. Women have a stereotype that if a man offers such a thing, he is hinting that in return for the Reward, you need to "work" and have sex with him. You don't need to "work" for anything, you don't need to have sex with me. In Stavropol, you can find more suitable, young and handsome men, you can easily "pick them up" in a nightclub or somewhere else... I don't mind. I need from you not sex, but a masterpiece of female beauty and harmony! I need men to have their jaws drop and drool when they see you, and forget their own names. So that looking at you they start to stutter from excitement, like I did in my childhood. For such Alice, I am ready to spend any reasonable amounts of money on your development. Materialize your desires. Choose the desired Reward as an addition to the amount Y. Send your photo and a brief resume with the note "I wanna be Alice" in the Telegram ILWD group.

2. The Offer of Cooperation to Keepers of Forbidden Knowledge

I am addressing to private collectors, archaeologists, museum employees, and keepers of secret archives from all over the world. At different times, there were people who wanted to collect, summarize, and understand such "forbidden" knowledge. This "forbidden" knowledge isn't forbidden because someone prohibits studying it. No. You have a certain defense mechanism that prevents the brain from delving into such knowledge. Due to my father's "gift", I was born without such protective mechanism. And I am the person who wants to gather, summarize, and understand the topic that has always scared and shocked you. I ask you... all of you, keepers of "forbidden" knowledge to help me with this issue. Please, give or sell me knowledge about Death, gathering dust on your shelves and in your closets. Allow me to accumulate all the Death secrets. There must be someone on Earth who could understand Death. I am interested in the lost Greek treatises on Death from the Library of Pergamon. Where are they now? I am interested in serious occult books dedicated to necromancy, if you have any. Maybe someone has written evidence of Death rituals among the shamans of the peoples of the North and Siberia. Or maybe in your hiding places there are some alchemical treatises not destroyed by the church. For example, the well-known Voynich manuscript, one of them. It is the most ordinary tract of an ordinary ancient alchemist. In the past, writing them was very popular and every respectable alchemist wrote a treatise for themselves, something like a diary of their own knowledge, so as not to forget later. But it was not written in plain text, but already with a certain cipher for transmission to their successor. Yes, cryptography already existed back then, which you can't read up to this day. Usually, the cipher "key" was passed on to the son, and he continued his father's alchemical knowledge. Because alchemical tractate were written in encrypted language, the church considered them satanic languages contrary to God and destroyed them. The Voynich manuscript miraculously avoided the touch of the church's hands. Judging by the pictures, the Voynich manuscript is not a remarkable document. There is no mention of my Death theme in it. It is a regular herbarium of alchemy and an attempt to turn female hygiene into mysticism. The alchemists loved to do it. But there were other alchemists with completely different treatises. Has anyone kept them? Show me the drawings and diagrams from the treatise and I will tell you if it contains Death or if it is a fake... Waiting for copies of secret parchments in Telegram. We can agree on the price..

3. The Offer of Cooperation to U.S. President Donald Trump - 1

Hello, I wish you good health, Mr. President. My name is Ivan Zinchenko and I would like to invite you and your wife for dinner, as I was told, to the best place in Stavropol - Steak & Fish House, Google Maps Plus Code 2XW9+GP, Stavropol. I have never been there before, so I can't say how good it is. Even better, let's check it together. This place is right in the Stavropol city center, and literally 100 meters away is also the best hotel in the city - Eurootel, Google Maps Plus Code 2XW9+C6, Stavropol. You and Melania can stay there, everything is nearby. It's a 4-star hotel, and if you don't like it, you can fly to Moscow or straight home after the dinner... Who am I? Why am I inviting you to dinner? I can't even answer that question myself. Sometimes it seems to me that I was "sent" from the past or future into your time for... For what? I don't even know why. I've always felt like an alien in your world. I've never been understood, not even by my parents. But I can answer the second question - you are Mr. Trump, I like you as a person. Before you became a politician, I found you very attractive because of your books, your books which were written with Robert, I liked your shows, interviews, and in general I liked how you behave in public and what you say. I have almost always agreed with what I have heard from you. Even if you were not the president now, I would still have written to you and invited you for dinner. I want to be friends with you. Currently, I don't have any friends outside of Russia and I would like you to become my number one foreign friend. You may have a question: "Why am I trying to "find" friends in America and want to make money on "foreign guests", if in Russia there are plenty of people who have cancer. Why?" When my wife Irina told me that she no longer loves me and wants me to "leave" her life forever, at that moment I was working in Stavropol, at a company producing souvenir products. The owner of the company is an elderly woman with "untreated" cancer. I went to this woman and offered her a 20-page business plan on how to make money based on my knowledge. In exchange, I wanted her to buy me a house, not for $500,000, but for $100,000. She looked at my papers and threw them at me, telling me not to mess around and to go back to work. I silently watched at her and felt as if I had been poured out of a night pot. After leaving her office, I wrote a resignation letter, adding at the end the phrase "I apologize for wasting your time on me". She made it clear to me on behalf of all Russians that my knowledge in Russia is not needed by anyone. That's why I want to deal only with "foreign guests"...

What will we talk about? We will have 3 topics for discussion. The first topic is war trophies. At the end of WW2, American troops liberated 6 Concentration Camps: Mittelbau-Dora, Flossenburg, Eselheide, Buchenwald, Mauthausen, and Dachau. I am interested in the confiscated documents from the last three. At the time of the creation of Dachau, Heinrich gave the order that experiments related to improving the purity of the Aryan race should be conducted in all camps. But the order was executed "qualitatively" not everywhere and depended entirely on the personality of the camp's commandant. These inhuman experiments are terrible and repulsive, but what can we do? Maybe we should try to use their results for the benefit of humanity, rather than avoiding them with horror on our faces? By the end of the war, the experiments of Eugenics were executed only by the most ideological members of the SS: Auschwitz, Buchenwald, Mauthausen, and Dachau. Eugenics is a vast field of knowledge, so I am only interested in two of its sections: 1). Artificially infecting with cancer and 2). Skulls Trepanation of SS officers. How exactly did the doctors of the Reich infect with cancer and how did they try to alter the brain to create Über Soldaten? Where are these documents stored in the USA right now? Do you know? The second topic is the second me. Somewhere there must be a person who, like me, studies Death. I don't have the connections and resources to find him. But you do. Help me to find this person. By combining our knowledge, we can make a "revolution" in the field of Death. And you, Mr. President, will go down in history as the man who changed the history itself. You see, all American presidents in their actions are roughly the same. Do you want to be remembered as just another U.S. President or as Donald Trump? No one remembers the business of your predecessors: Clinton, Bush, Obama, and Biden. What useful things did they do for America? Nothing! Let's collaborate and you will be the only one USA president who will be remembered even in a thousand years. The third topic is Donald Trump himself. Mr. President, let's speak honestly, you are mortal and not young anymore. She will come to you. Before that happens, can we become friends? I need you, and you need me. And you know, even if you don't want to be friends with me, I won't be offended. You will still remain one of the most respected and coolest guys for me. I sincerely wish happiness and love to your big and wonderful family. Your administration can discuss the details of our meeting with my translator in the Telegram ILWD group. See you soon, Mr. President...

4. The Offer of Cooperation to Chinese President Xi Jinping - 1

I wish you long life, Mr. President. My name is Zinchenko Ivan, and I would like to invite you and your wife for a friendly walk to Stavropol landmark - "Krepostnaya Gora." This is the place where the city was founded in 1777. Firstly, let's visit the "Eternal Flame Monument to Victory Day", Google Maps Plus Code 2XXH+7C, Stavropol, let's put flowers for the warriors who died on the battlefields, and then take a walk in the park and discuss our collaboration. Who am I? Why am I inviting you to this meeting? I am the one who will help you realize your long-standing dream. Mr. Xi, you have two special skills that are rarely found in modern leaders - calmness and wisdom. I have never spoken to a person of such high level of inner culture and such size of power before. I also want to mention your modesty, it attracts me like a magnet. I like you as a person. I want you to become my friend. What will we talk about? We will have 3 topics for conversation. The first topic is the mystery of white people. I am a white person and I want to tell you as a representative of the white race the next thing. People with white skin greatly exaggerate their achievements in the development of human civilization. Especially these exaggerations concern the structure of the human body. Chinese non-traditional medicine is an amazing and unique phenomenon. I took most of my knowledge about Death, especially concerning the energy processes of the body, from your medicine. I am immensely grateful to your distant ancestors who made the greatest discoveries about the movement of Chi energy in living and non-living organisms. My humble bow and respect to the Chinese masters and healers. And, of course, I cannot "pass by" your main national hero - Huang Di, Yellow Emperor. I have collected all the information known about him, "thrown away" the mythological part, miracles and fairy tales. And I concluded - Yellow Emperor could really exist, but he lived not so long ago as your legends and myths say. And he did not live where Zhōngguó is now located. The land of your ancestors is Siberia and the Far East. The center of your civilization was where the territory of eternal permafrost locates now. Therefore, the northeastern Russian lands once belonged to your people. Mr. Xi, look at your skin colour. Your Emperor wasn't just called the Yellow Emperor for no reason! I think, and all my research on this issue only confirms, that Huang Di was involved in artificial anthropogenesis of the Chinese branch of humanity. The creation of man is a separate topic and we won't touch it at our first meeting. I am interested in something else...

The discovery of your archaeologists on the banks of the Tarim River. I want to know more about the mummy Beauty of Xiaohe. She did not live 4000 years ago, as your scientists claim, but approximately 400 years ago. At that time, the Taklamakan Desert appeared, fatally changing the landscape and nature of the entire Tarim Basin. Did these fair-skinned and red-haired people have a writing system? Have archaeologists found anything? Do you know where these manuscripts are now? I would like to see this people writings. After our walk in the park, I invite you and your wife to the Oregano Chinese cuisine restaurant, Google Maps Plus Code 2XWF+QG, Stavropol. Please show me how to eat correctly Chinese dishes with chopsticks, using "Peking duck" and "Shanghai-style eggplant" as examples. If you feel like spending the night in the city, Eurootel, Google Maps Plus Code 2XW9+C6, Stavropol is at your service. The second topic is Dr. Yang Jwing-Ming and his book "Muscle/Tendon Changing & Marrow/Brain Washing Chi Kung". Are you personally acquainted with Dr. Yang, Mr. Xi? Could you help me to meet him? I want to understand if Dr. Yang Jwing-Ming wrote this book himself or used another ancient source when writing it? Did he practice himself almost everything he writes about or is he a master-theorist? This book contains some errors and inaccuracies that disturb and even make it impossible to perform some practical exercises. If Dr. Yang Jwing-Ming is a theorist and businessman, then I have no questions for him regarding the creation of such a book. But if he is a practical master, then we definitely need to meet and discuss the controversial points in his book. I suspect that there is an original source in Chinese, possibly incomplete and partially lost. Mr. President, I need your help in finding this original item. I don't know Chinese and I will also need your help in its private translation into Russian. Without you, I have no chance of achieving access to this valuable information. Topic three - Taiwan. Do you want Taiwan? You want to do it without a single shot, am I right? I have an idea. The conception of a person who absolutely doesn't understand politics. If you want to avoid casualties, then it's a long-distance game. If you start playing now, it will take approximately 7-10 years. Will you be able to stay in power for that long? Please note that if Taiwan joins during your rule, Mr. Xi, you will do what the Great Mao couldn't. You will be remembered for centuries! Your administration can arrange the details of our meeting with my translator in the Telegram ILWD group. See you soon, Mr. President...

-----

Good day, Mr. President. Is your day good? Mine is not. Recently one of my dogs died, her name was Masya, and I feel bad now because I couldn't do anything. I heard you also like dogs, have you ever had a situation when a beloved dog died? Dogs are the only creatures, love me without asking for anything in return except for the same love. When I feel down and my "hands drop", I hug and kiss them. Dogs lick my face and I heal and charge with their energy... Sorry, it was a moment of weakness and I should get back to work. My name is Ivan Zinchenko, I live in Stavropol, and I would like to offer you a mutually beneficial cooperation. I won't invite you to dinner, for a walk, for a meeting, etc. right now. We will have time for that later. So, during all the times and in any country, people with unusual abilities have always attracted special interest from various special services. Whether I like it or not - it doesn't matter, people like me have always been under control and observation. Even if they were sitting "quietly" and not doing anything "wrong", the control has always been, is being now and always will be. You know this better than me. You understand perfectly well that my knowledge can be used for good as well as for harm. I won't say how exactly, because revealing this topic could even touch the issues of national security. Therefore, surveillance, observation, and wiretapping of people like me is a vital necessity for any authority. And this is right, it should be done that way! But, agree with me, such methods of security services work don't always give the desired result. What do you want to get from surveillance, observation, and wiretapping in such field of knowledge as Death? You can find out who I meet with, what we talk about, what physical exercises we do at iToFormation, etc. but, what happens inside a person, how the "stopping" of cancer occurs, your intelligence agencies will never know. It's impossible to understand by observing from the outside. Such methods of control over me will only confuse you and complicate the work of your employees. Their reports will be full of contradictions and eventually turn into chaos that can't be analyzed. Let's be modern people and not waste time on nonsense by using outdated and archaic working methods. Although I don't share any common interests or intersections with Russian intelligence agencies, I want to help and facilitate their work with me. I suggest a more efficient way of monitoring me. Assign a special agent specifically for me, who will fully supervise my activities. Let's ease communication and call her Alice, in analogy with Yandex's assistant.

Due to his physiological disabilities, male employee isn't suitable for this role, as he will constantly "lag" and you will receive fragmented, conflicting and useless information from him. We need a female employee. We need Alice! Look at page 237, here are the mandatory requirements that she must meet. If your Alice doesn't possess them, then I won't take her. Please, find for me such a unique woman and you will see what she is capable of with me. I will make her my "right hand", a close assistant, a secret partner, a lawyer... you can call her as you wish. My contacts with "foreign guests" will go through her ears, my agreements will go through her hands, my financial flows will go through her eyes. And most importantly, what you won't be able to find out in any other way, she will be able to attend during the iToFormation session, of course, if the "guest" doesn't mind her presence. And to ensure that the "guest" doesn't mind, that is why she must be a real Femme Fatale. Do you understand that all this precious information will be available to you in its original form without distortion from the first-hand? If you want, Alice will report only to you and no one else. Why do I need this? Let me explain, I am a reserved, introverted, and not very sociable person, I will need an assistant for communication with people. I am not knowledgeable in legal matters, I can't do it without a legally educated assistant. I am not proficient in organizing and managing financial resources, I will definitely need a financially literate assistant. And in general, I will have a lot of different things to do that I won't be able to do on my own just simply physically. I hope I have clearly explained you that Alice can be much more effective than a whole army of secret agents watching me and not understanding anything at all. Does it benefit me? Yes. Does it benefit you? Yes. This is that very true mutual cooperation. Let's move on. How can I be useful for you personally. Look, I will have "foreign guests" coming to me and they will be "not just simple" people. They will be rich and respected people in their countries. Such people have a certain social status, they are listened to, their opinion is taken into account, and exactly they who can determine the policy and mood of the ruling circles of their countries. If I solve their "life or death" questions in Stavropol, guess what opinion they will have about Russia, Stavropol, and about you as the head of state who allowed them to not die and live on... what opinion will they return home with? The image of Russia, the prestige of Stavropol and increase your rating abroad!

Is this advantageous for you? Extremely! But that's not all the benefits for you. Do you have acquaintances who are current or former heads of different states? A whole queue of them! For example, Angela Merkel. What will Ms. Merkel do when her time comes? Of course, it's her personal right to decide what to do, but I think she will want to see me. I promise nothing to anyone. She just will want to see me. And who can grant her such a meeting with me? I only know one person in Russia. If we don't have his agreement, Ms. Merkel won't be able to see me. And how many such leaders are there around the planet? And all of them will come to you to ask for permission to see me. Everyone will come! And only you will decide who is a friend and who was just pretending to be a friend. Got it? Of course, until it's time for each of them, my words seem fantastical, unreal, and even funny. But when She "knocks" on the door, humor and sarcasm will be the first to push and stumble out of the door. I have offered you three profitable solutions from cooperating with me: Alice, raising the image, prestige and rating, and also "testing" the friendship. You should know, I don't understand anything in politics and it's not interesting for me because I think politics is a play within a play, something like a Sub-Game. But I don't need to understand anything in politics when I can understand the desires of the governors - to rule and live forever. I have a congenital speech defect and that's why I still understand human speech very well. I want to point out that in the twentieth century there were only two leaders of Russia who could speak well: Vladimir Lenin and Vladimir Putin. If we take your closest predecessors, Yeltsin and Gorbachev, and compare with you, they really couldn't talk as the heads of the states. Your articulate and diplomatic speech is your most powerful weapon, your main trump in the Sub-Game. Your speech, Mr. President, is capable of changing the world around you. But in recent years, you have stopped using your advantage over other politicians and people have stopped understanding you. Missiles and bombs won't make them understand you, but your speech can correct everything! I have just described to you a half of our mutually beneficial cooperation. Profits and advantages that you will personally receive, Mr. President. But the word "mutually beneficial" implies the existence of a second part. What is my benefit here? I enjoy living in Russia, I'm into Stavropol, I like the people, I like the laws, I like the authorities in Stavropol. Everything suits me and I don't want to leave Russia. Here is my home, my homeland...

-----

Mr. President, now I need your help in achieving my desires. Please make sure that no local or federal authorities and no people from special services at any level and in any position interfere with my affairs. Do not interfere with me fulfilling my blood contract on page 4. If I don't fulfill it, then I will not have to live on. I need a mobile number of a person who could "solve" any of my relationship problems with absolutely anyone at any time. In the nearest future, criminal elements will contact me, wanting to have a profit from my knowledge. Probably, no one likes them and they have nowhere to live. Please ask your special services kindly explain them that we don't have the financial capability to buy two houses for the amount of $500,000, and therefore they should look for other sources of income. If the explanations don't help, then it will be necessary to make sure that I never see them again. I won't pay tribute or give my income part to people in uniforms from special services. If they need money more than I do, please, I have a ruble account only in Sberbank. Let them take everything, I don't mind at all. I won't even be upset, I promise. I have internal moral and ethical boundaries and "red lines" that I don't cross. If I do, I will cease to be myself and for me, being myself is the most important thing in life. One of these boundaries. I won't provide you or your special services with the information concerning the personal lives of people who asked me help them. What was the reason of the death, when a person will die, who is having sex with whom, who stole something, who took money somewhere, who killed somebody, etc. Their fatal illness is the only thing that concerns me, everything else, even if I accidentally find out - is not my business. Heard and forget! I don't know anything. Just like that! I won't report information. You have Alice for that, let her find out and report. It's her job. She can do it. My next wish. I would like to request a permission to speak in 2026 at the UN Headquarters in New York City on behalf of Russia. My speech will be in English and will last 15 minutes. The topic of the speech is "Life and Death". I want to address to humanity, I have something to say. I need a year to learn English at a decent level to be a speaker and practice pronunciation. More than this I promised Miss Gabriel to meet her in New York City. Agree, it's not right to deceive such a beautiful woman. I must be there. Please, Mr. President, grant me the permission to speak at the UN. I have one last very important wish. It has been bothering me for a long time. I simply must "close" this issue...

Oh, Milena, Milena... what are you doing with me? Why did I see you by accident? I know you are not Her, but why do you look so much like Her? I am currently in Russia, but all my thoughts and my heart are with you somewhere far away, in Europe. Questions about you are driving me crazy, I don't have answers on them. I must see you and personally make sure that you are really not Her, not Ekhrana. Mr. President, my final request for our cooperation. I ask you to have your people bring Milena to me in Stavropol for 1 day. I need your help, because I can't go to her and tell her the truth. If I do this, my story will just scare her and she will think that I am one of her crazy fans or a maniac. Any attempts I make to contact her first will only make things worse for her. And I cannot allow my actions to harm her. Therefore, I need intermediaries to meet with Milena - your people. And not just any people, but highly educated, intelligent and pleasant individuals who can persuade without resorting to violence. Give Milena everything she wants for meeting with me. She must want to see me herself, want to understand her uniqueness by herself. Want to meet with me without feeling fear. I know she has a man and I don't want to interfere in her personal life and ruin their relationship. I just want to look into her eyes, hold her hand, touch her skin, smell her hair... and remember inside of me the One she is so similar to. And of course I want to talk to her alone, but in a public place, on the street, so that she is not afraid of me and feels safe. That's all I want from her. Let her not worry that I will harass her, pressure her for sex or anything like that. No! Because of Ekhrana, my thoughts and feelings are "shattered" into pieces. Thoughts of her don't let me rest even in my dreams. I won't be able to start a family with any woman until I "put" myself together. And to achieve this, I must "end things" with Ekhrana in my feelings after meeting Milena. I love only those who love me, so if Milena loves someone else and if she is indifferent to me when we meet, then I can easily "remove" her from my heart and forget. I want to clearly feel in my heart that Milena won't be able to replace Ekhrana for me. And only after this deep experience, I will be able to start my life with another woman... Mr. President, help me and I will help you... or... or kill, "free" me from this body. Death by the personal order of the president would be a good death for me... especially since I recently turned 47 and I am at the peak of my life's strength and energy. The perfect age for my own Death! See you soon, Mr. President. I am waiting for Alice from you...

Late Goodbye

After the Bluetana photo, you will find the last brochure section. You will have something to do in your free time, finding out the unknown symbols, codes and hints related to your science field. Paid questions for the last section aren't accepted. We have come to the end of our almost six-month work, and I want to thank my wonderful four assistants. Bluetana. You asked not to say who you are and where you are from. You are the foundation of this brochure. I talked and wrote with you in the messengers about 3 brochures like this one. You carefully listened to all my "adventures" and distributed them by sections and intensity of passion in the right sequence, creating interesting material for reading. You advised me what to remove and what to add. For example, we deleted topics related to the creation of man, racial differences among people, and themes pertained to modern religions. Everyone understands why? And detailed descriptions of "Breast Cancer" and "Oncogynecology" were added. I didn't plan to describe these "difficult" topics for me, but Bluetana proved and explained me that they are extremely important. Thanks to her, I received the brochure I wanted, but didn't know how to make. Bluetana did it! Tragerda. A modest girl living in Siberia, far in the east of Russia. She falls asleep and wakes up with headphones on. Music is her whole life. How her choice fits so well in the context with the text and photos. She has amazing musical taste. I am thrilled with her work! Ingamoda. She lives in Moscow, she is a photographer and a stylist. She had taken more than another one from me. Please forgive me for the nitpicking and constant requests for revisions, I wanted to get a "candy" from you. And you managed to do it! I hope your dreams with flickering endless images before your eyes will end. Ingamoda - you are the face of the ILWD brochure! Oksana. Lives in Stavropol, like me, teaches English, translates the texts, and works as a translator. Native speakers, I kindly ask you to pay attention to the quality of her translation, especially to beautiful phrases and synonyms of the words. I find the text difficult when it uses ambiguous words in quotes and often contains hidden meanings between the lines. She managed to translate it, preserving the original intent of the text. You can see Oksana at the meeting with me or talk to her in the ILWD group. We are finishing and it's time for us to say you goodbye. We give you this brochure as a present for New Year, hope it will help someone. Listen to your heart, and remember it never lies... Appreciate, Cherish and Love... and please don't die in New Year 2025 ;)
