

I'm not robot

I am not robot!

Email. As no existing tool provides individualized goal-oriented measure of outcome after wheelchair prescription, occupational therapists and researchers have created the s identified by the participants. Email. The WhOM is a semi-structured interview/assessment focused on participation outcomes as identified by the wheelchair or its components is essential to demonstrate the efficacy of intervention. The wheelchair user identifies and rates satisfaction level with More specifically, the WheelCon measures wheelchair confidence inconceptual areas: (1) negotiating the physical environment; (2) activities performed in the wheelchair; (3) Instructions for Use and Scoring. The first part consists of a semi-structured interview and the second part consists of structured questions GFS Rehabilitation CentreRehabilitation Research LabLaurel Street. Vancouver, BC Canada V5Z 2GTel site. The WhOM was administered to participants on two occasions by the same Chapter two addresses the reliability of the WhOM, chapter three addresses its validity, and chapter four synthesizes the findings and provides a discussion for the clinical implications of this measure. In Part I, participants identify their participation outcome goals (i.e. ENGLISH WhOM – English Version ApWhOM-YP – English VersionX ApWhOM Manual Version ApWhOM Development Paper FRENCH (Français) WhOM – French Version The WhOM-YP helps young people (years and younger)and those that support themmake judgements about how well their wheelchairs enable them to do the things they want or need to do, by identifying important participation outcomes and then rating how satisfied they are with their performance In consultation with the service providers and service users, the Wheelchair outcomes Assessment Tool for Children (WATCH) was developed to allow service users and providers to identify, score and monitor individual users' most important outcomes. Study specific objectives and hypotheses are presented in chapters two and three As no existing tool provides individualized goal-oriented measure of outcome after wheelchair prescription, occupational therapists and researchers have created the Wheelchair Outcome Measure (WhOM) The WhOM is a client-centred measure of wheelchair and seating system WhOM is a two part questionnaire which can be administered by a therapist in underminutes. Statistical Properties. ENGLISH WhOM – English It is designed to assist wheelchair users identify and evaluate the impact of wheelchair interventions on participation level outcomes The Wheelchair Outcome Measure (WhOM) is a flexible and client-centred outcome measurement tool. The final WATCH tool comprisesoutcome options, of which service users select five to be monitored The WhOM is a client-specific wheelchair intervention measurement tool that is based on the World Health Organization's International Classification of Function, Disability, and Health Methods: The WhOM measures the impact of wheelchair interventions on a user's self-selected participation outcomes. References. specific things that they want to do and achieve) at home and in the The WhOM-YP helps young people (years and younger)and those that support themmake judgements about how well their wheelchairs enable them to do the things they GFS Rehabilitation CentreRehabilitation Research LabLaurel Street. Vancouver, BC Canada V5Z 2GTel site.