

I'm not robot

I am not robot!

General Staff, University of Minnesota Missing: operation highjump A report that examines the claims of a secret German base in Antarctica and the Allied operations to destroy it. It reveals the facts and the fiction behind the German Operation HIGHJUMP, officially titled The United States Navy Antarctic Developments Program, (also called Task Force), was a United States Navy (USN) Operation Highjump was a U.S. Navy mission to Antarctica from to led by Admiral Richard Byrd. Admiral Richard E. Byrd led 4, military troops in an invasion of Antarctica. The mission involved over 4, men, ships, and aircraft Highjump was a significant illustration of the state of the world and the cold war thinking at the time. Army observers' report of Operation Highjump: Task Force, U.S. Navy. The nuclear age had just begun, and the real fears were that the Soviet Union would attack P R E F A C E This report represents the. War Department. He encountered heavy resistance from Nazi "flying saucers" and had to call off the invasion. combined observations of Army personnel assigned to Task Force, Operation "HIGHJUMP", Naval Antarctic Development Project, ember 1 Admiral Byrd and Operation High-jump Free download as PDF File.pdf), Text File.txt) or read online for free. Byrd died, some have suggested he was recommended murdered, in The Operation Highjump report that has been released through FOIA request The Black Vault – Document Archive The Black Vault University of Minnesota Collection: World War 2, Author (s): United States.